MEDIA INFORMATION

WELCOME TO CAL FOOTBALL

The 2013 University of California Information Guide is produced to provide information on the Golden Bears for anyone interested in learning more about the program. Media covering Cal football should review this section in detail to learn about Cal's policies and services. Additional information can be found online by visiting CalBears.com/media. Please contact a member of the Athletic Communications staff if you have any questions or concerns.

MEMORIAL STADIUM DIRECTIONS

Attending a Cal football game at Memorial Stadium is an exciting entertainment experience. Memorial Stadium is located along Piedmont Avenue between Bancroft Way and Hearst Avenue on campus in Berkeley. The best way to get to Memorial Stadium is to plan ahead and consider all transportation options available to you.

BY AUTOMOBILE

From San Francisco Airport, take Highway 101 north to Interstate 80 and cross the Bay Bridge. Once over the bay, take Highway 24 toward Walnut Creek. Exit at Claremont Avenue and turn left. Turn left onto College Avenue (third light). Turn right onto Channing Way, then left onto Prospect Street, which will lead to the south end of the stadium.

From Oakland Airport, take Interstate 880 north, then Highway 24 east toward Walnut Creek and follow directions above.

Gameday media parking is located in the Underhill Garage at the corner of College Avenue and Channing Way.

These directions provide the most direct routes to Memorial Stadium, but other city streets and freeway exits provide alternate routes that fans are encouraged to use to avoid congestion. Please call 511 or go to 511.org for real-time traffic conditions.

More detailed information can be found on the campus map at visitors.berkeley.edu.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Public transportation is highly recommended when visiting Berkeley. There are multiple public transportation options that lead directly to Memorial Stadium, and the Downtown Berkeley BART station is about a mile west of the venue. Please visit bart.org, actransit.org or 511.org for more information.

CALBEARS.COM

Visit CalBears.com for the most recent, frequent, relevant and accurate information on Cal Athletics. CalBears.com covers the Golden Bears inside and out.

In addition to player and coach profiles, press releases, schedules, feature stories, video and multimedia content, and sport information guides, there are also links to each of Cal's social media pages and much more.

CalBears.com/gameday contains complete information for fans visiting Memorial Stadium.

COLLEGEPRESSBOX.COM

The Pac-12 Conference and each of its members use Collegepressbox.com. The site contains a large amount of information available for download by media members. Contact Kyle McRae for more details, including a username and password for full access to the site.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

All requests/questions for media, photo and parking credentials for 2013 Cal football home games should be made to Herb Benenson (510-334-0791, benenson@berkeley.edu) in the Athletic Communications Office at 349 Haas Pavilion, University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720. Only media who cover the Bears on a regular basis will be considered for season credentials. A lost season credential will result in that member of the media being moved to the single-game list.

All single-game requests should be made as far in advance as possible to help ensure space availability both in the press box and on the field. Requests for media covering a visiting team for a Cal home game should be made through the opposing school's football media relations contact. Credentials will be available for pick up at Media Will Call located in the third-floor lobby of the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance just inside Gate 5 near Warring Alley the day of the game unless other arrangements are made.

Media should consult CalBears.com/media for complete media and credential policies.

INTERNET ACCESS

Both wireless and ethernet connections are available in the press box and field-level photographer work area. Contact a member of the Athletic Communications staff on gameday to obtain a username and password for wireless access. No password is necessary for ethernet connections.

LIVE STATS

Live stats will be provided for all games hosted by Pac-12 schools at statbroadcast.com. Contact Kyle McRae for further information.

MEDIA PARKING

Parking at Cal is always at a premium and visitors are encouraged to use public transportation. The Downtown Berkeley BART station is located about a mile west of Memorial Stadium, in close proximity to Haas Pavilion, Edwards Stadium/Goldman Field, the Hellman Tennis Courts and Spieker Aquatics Complex. Hourly guest parking on non-football gamedays is available in the Recreation Sports Facility garage along Bancroft Way adjacent to Haas Pavilion and at the Underhill Garage.

Underhill also serves as the football gameday parking location. Entrances are off either Channing Way or Haste Street, just west of College Avenue. The lot is about three blocks from Memorial Stadium. Media can either take the short walk to Media Will Call at Gate 5 in Memorial Stadium) or use a media-only shuttle that begins running two hours before game time. A media shuttle is also available postgame from the pregame dropoff point along Warring Street to the Underhill Garage.

Parking passes cannot be left at will call on gamedays and must be picked up or mailed in advance.

Television crews should order parking passes for their crews by sending in the Special Event Parking Arrangements form found on the university's website (pt.berkeley.edu) in advance. Request the Underhill Garage for football games. Note that the campus parking office does not accept credit cards – only cash or check.

MEDIA WILL CALL

Media Will Call is located at Gate 5 in Memorial Stadium. It will open six hours before kickoff and remain open through the conclusion of the first quarter. Identification is required to pick up credentials or tickets. Parking passes cannot be left at will call.

Media who arrive after the end of the first quarter should call the press box at (510) 642-3098 to obtain their credential.

PHOTO REQUESTS

Request for photos can be through the Athletic Communications Office. Fans can also purchase images of all 29 teams by visiting goldenbears-ports.com.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Field photographers must wear a photo vest at all times, in addition to a photo credential. Photo credentials are not distributed in advance and must be picked up on gamedays at Media Will Call located at Gate 5 in Memorial Stadium. Photo vests are distributed on the field behind the visitor (west) bench and near the entrance to the photographer work room at the 20-yard line on the north end and west side of the field.

NCAA rules limit shooting to outside the restraining line enclosing the playing field and outside the 25-yard lines (team area).

In addition, photographers and videographers are welcome to use the photo deck located on level six of the press box.

PHOTOGRAPHER WORK ROOM

A photographer work room has been established at field level in Memorial Stadium (west side at approximately the 20-yard line on the north end of the field). Power and internet access are available, as well as limited desk space on a first-come, first-served basis. Additional photographer work stations are available in the press box. Pregame meals and drinks are available on the south end of the media level of the press box (seventh floor).

Access to the internet is available through both wireless and ethernet connections. Contact a member of the Athletic Communications staff on gameday to obtain a username and password for wireless access. No password is necessary for ethernet connections.

PLAYER/COACH INTERVIEWS

All player and coach interviews, either in person, by phone or via email, must be coordinated through Kyle McRae in the Athletic Communications Office (510-219-9340, mcrac@berkeley.edu).

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Cal football will conduct postgame interviews in the Tahir Family Team Theater inside the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance. A member of the Athletic Communication staff will lead media to the room at the conclusion of each game.

Cal head coach Sonny Dykes as well as players and coaches requested by media members will be present to answer questions. Visiting team interviews will be in the media room just outside the visiting team locker room on level one of the stadium (through a tunnel on the southwest end of the field). Contact the visiting team's Athletic Communications Office for postgame policies.

POSTGAME MEDIA WORK AREA

The Memorial Stadium press box also serves as the postgame media work location. The area is equipped with desk space, electrical outlets and internet access. Final statistical game books, as well as postgame notes, quotes and other relevant media materials will be distributed.

PRACTICE MEDIA COVERAGE

Cal is scheduled to practice at Memorial Stadium during the 2013 season on Monday-Thursday. Contact Kyle McRae for specific policies regarding non-gameday coverage of the team.

TELEVISION/RADIO

THE FLAGSHIP STATION

KGO 810 AM is entering its 40th season as the flagship station of University of California Golden Bears football. KGO Radio's 50,000 watts has been carrying Cal football since 1974. Led by play-by-play announcer Joe Starkey, KGO's signal, along with the other affiliates within the Cal IMG Sports Network, provides statewide coverage of Cal football. Each KGO broadcast begins 60 minutes before kickoff (live from Maxwell Field north of Memorial Stadium for home games). Then after all the action, the 60-minute postgame show hosted by Lee Grosscup from the Paragon Restaurant & Bar inside The Claremont Hotel Club & Spa in Berkeley includes reaction from the Bears' locker room followed by a breakdown of the game live.

IN THE BOOTH

Joe Starkey, the legendary voice of the Golden Bears, is in his 39th season with the Cal football broadcast team in 2013.

Cal's play-by-play voice is perhaps best known for his legendary call of "The Play." The famous five-lateral kickoff return for a touchdown against Stanford in 1982 is part of college football lore with Starkey's emotional "the band is on the field" part of gridiron vernacular.

Joe Starkey

Starkey has had an array of NFL and NHL positions during his career, including a 20-year stint with the San Francisco 49ers he fulfilled in conjunction with his Cal duties from 1979-2008.

In 2010, Starkey received the Chris Schenkel Award from the National Football Foundation for his distinguished career broadcasting college football.

He is joined in the booth by former Cal quarterback Mike Pawlawski, who will be in the second season of his second stint as part of the Cal football broadcast team in 2013. Pawlawski previously served for one season as the team's analyst in 2004 after two campaigns on the sideline before rejoining the broadcast team in 2012. He has also been a television football analyst since 2000, working for entities such as Comcast SportsNet, FOX and NBC.

Pawlawski led Cal to back-to-back bowl victories as the Bears' starting quarterback in 1990 and 1991, and was the Pac-10's Co-Offensive Player of the Year as a 1991 senior.

In his ninth season on the broadcast team in 2013 is sideline reporter Todd McKim, who also serves as host of the weekly Inside The Locker Room radio show and an analyst for Cal men's basketball radio broadcasts. Before joining Cal, McKim was a long-time media member as a television anchor and sports director in Eugene, and was the 2000 Oregon broadcaster of the year.

Mike Pawlawski

Todd McKim

PAC-12 ENTERPRISES

Pac-12 Enterprises is the content and multi platform media company for the Pac-12 Conference. Headquartered in San Francisco, Pac-12 Enterprises was created in 2011 to develop and launch the Pac-12 Networks and Pac-12 Digital in 2012, and to control the distribution of the Pac-12 intellectual property rights in sports and other conference initiatives. The Pac-12 Networks are full-time HD linear networks available to video programming operators, dedicated solely to the Pac-12. They consist of a national network and six regional feeds (including Pac-12 Bay Area focusing on Cal and Stanford) that televise hundreds of live sporting events annually and provide 24/7 access to Pac-12 teams and universities. Pac-12 Digital encompasses the digital network, mobile, the university websites, social media and innovative digital initiatives across the company.

INSIDE THE LOCKER ROOM

Inside The Locker Room takes to the air every Wednesday beginning in the last week of August through the end of the men's and women's basketball seasons. The one-hour live program will be hosted by Todd McKim and broadcast from the Memorial Stadium Field Club in the fall on Wednesdays from 7-8 p.m. on KGO 810 AM. Head football coach Sonny Dykes will be interviewed regularly throughout the football season, while head men's basketball coach Mike Montgomery and head women's hoops coach Lindsay Gottlieb will be interviewed during their respective seasons. Additional guests will include other Cal coaches and student-athletes, as well as regular appearances by Director of Athletics Sandy Barbour.

2013 SEASON OUTLOOK

2013 CAL FOOTBALL SEASON PREVIEW

EXCITING, ENTERTAINING AND ENJOYABLE

A new era for Cal football begins in 2013 with the arrival of head coach Sonny Dykes and the promise of a brand of football that will win games while being exciting, entertaining and enjoyable in the process. Dykes was hired last December following a 2012 season that was arguably the most difficult for the Golden Bears in more than a decade, with a final 3-9 overall record and 2-7 mark in the Pac-12 North to finish fifth out of six teams.

Dykes inherits a 2013 Cal squad that will be one of the nation's youngest with a preseason experience rating that is No. 12 in the Pac-12 and No. 125 out of No. 126 teams according to Phil Steele's combined experience chart, with Louisiana Tech ironically the only team in the nation with less experience than the Bears.

"This is a talented but young team," Dykes said. "There may be some bumps in the road, but we look forward to the veterans we have playing well and getting strong contributions from many of our talented young guys early in their careers."

At the forefront of the team's youth movement is the quarterback position, where none of the five Bears on the roster have yet to take a snap in a collegiate game. Despite the lack of experience, Cal does have a talented and highly-touted trio of quarterbacks to choose from in junior Austin Hinder, redshirt freshman Zach Kline and true freshman Jared Goff. The trio began battling for the starting job last spring and will continue when training camp opens in what Athlon lists as one of the top 12 quarterback battles in the country heading into the 2013 campaign.

"Anytime you've got three guys you feel like you can win with you're in a pretty good situation," Dykes said. "I've been places where we feel like we've had zero. The good thing is that we don't feel that way about these guys. We'll see who can handle all the stuff that goes along with being the starting quarterback and then make our decision."

Cal will also have a new starter at running back in 2013 with junior Brendan Bigelow and sophomore Daniel Lasco the most likely candidates to see the most action in the backfield and extend the Bears' streak of their top two rushers combining to produce 1,500 or more yards to 11 campaigns in a row after the now-departed Isi Sofele and C.J. Anderson have combined for that total the past two campaigns. Bigelow and Lasco both showed flashes of brilliance in 2012, with Bigelow becoming the first Cal player since Jahvid Best in 2009 to pop off three touchdowns runs of over 50 yards, including an 81-yarder at Ohio State that is the longest ever by an opponent in the esteemed history of Ohio Stadium. Lasco took one in from 77 yards out against Southern Utah.

Despite a lack of experience at the quarterback and running back positions, Cal does have some experienced players at the skill positions with three of its top four receivers returning from a year ago in sophomores Chris Harper and Bryce Treggs, as well as junior Richard Rodgers. The wide receiver position figures to be a key spot in the team's 2013 offense with four receiver positions (two inside, two outside) listed on the two-deep and Dykes expecting between 10-12 players to be in the rotation.

"We have a lot of depth and different skill sets at that position," Dykes said. "There's some good young talent and some guys that we expect to be really productive football players around here for years to come. It's an exciting group."

Cal also has some experience on the offensive line with sophomore left guard Jordan Rigsbee, junior center Chris Adcock, sophomore left tackle Freddie Tagaloa and senior right tackle Bill Tyndall all picking up significant experience last season.

The defense is experienced in both its front seven with eight different defensive linemen and linebackers starting a combined 51 contests last year. Defensive linemen who started games in 2012 include seniors Dan Camporeale and Deandre Coleman, as well as junior Viliami Moala. Linebackers in the starting lineup have included juniors Nick Forbes, Chris McCain and Brennan Scarlett, and sophomores Nathan Broussard and Jalen Jefferson. Junior Mustafa Jalil is a ninth player in the front seven with starting experience that he gained in 2011.

The defensive backfield has four players in senior Alex Logan, juniors Kameron Jackson and Michael Lowe, and sophomore Avery Sebastian that combined to start a total of 19 game a year ago. There is concern about the depth in the defensive backfield with only six players on the roster having seen game action.

The team's entire kicking game returns in senior placekicker Vincenzo D'Amato, sophomore punter Cole Leininger and junior long snapper John Shepherdson.

Seven of Cal's players – Bigelow, Coleman, D'Amato, Forbes, Harper, Leininger and Rigsbee – have been honored on at least one preseason All-Pac-12 squad. Bigelow (CFPA All-Purpose Trophy), Coleman (Outland Trophy), D'Amato (CFPA Placekicker Trophy), Forbes (CFPA Linebacker Trophy) and Rodgers (CFPA Tight End Trophy) are on early preseason national watch lists.

Cal has 89 returning players and 35 newcomers on its 124-player roster heading into the 2013 season. Of those 89 returnees, there were 25 who started at least one game or were considered a starting specialist last year and 51 that have earned at least one letter in their career. Cal has 31 players on last year's roster that are no longer with the team, with 19 of those having started at least one game last season and 24 having picked up at least one letter in their collegiate career.

Like most seasons Cal's schedule will be challenging with Phil Steele ranking it as the nation's third-most difficult, while Sporting News has it fourth. Cal has games on the docket against eight teams that played in bowl games a year ago (Arizona, Northwestern, Oregon, Oregon State, Stanford, UCLA, USC, Washington) and another that was a perfect 12-0 but ineligible to go to a bowl in Ohio State. Five of Cal's games will come against squads that were ranked among the top 20 teams in the final 2012 AP Top 25 poll (No. 2 Oregon, No. 3 Ohio State, No. 7 Stanford, No. 17 Northwestern, No. 20 Oregon State) with three of those in the top 10.

"It's certainly a challenging schedule, especially with two of the first three games against a pair of Big Ten teams that won a combined 22 games last year," Dykes said. "I don't know if anybody else is playing those kinds of people out of conference. But that's something that attracted me to Cal. We have a good tradition of playing against good people."

Cal will begin its 2013 season with three non-conference home games, sandwiching Big Ten opponents Northwestern (Aug. 31) and Ohio State (Sept. 14) around Portland State (Sept. 7). The two Big Ten schools combined for a 22-3 mark in 2012 between the unbeaten 12-0 Buckeyes and 10-3 Wildcats, while Portland State was 3-8. Cal and Northwestern will be playing for the first time since the Wildcats defeated the Bears on New Year's Day in the 1949 Rose Bowl that wrapped up the previous season. Cal and Portland State have met just once with the Bears winning at home in 2006. Cal has dropped six straight to Ohio State since a victory over the Buckeyes the first time the teams met in 1920. The teams resumed their series in 2012 at Ohio Stadium for the first time after a 30-year hiatus in the series with the Buckeyes edging the Bears, 35-28.

After a bye week, Cal will begin Pac-12 action with a trip to Autzen Stadium to take on Oregon (Sept. 28) with the Bears looking for their first win over the Ducks since 2008 against a team that was 12-1 overall last season. Oregon has won four straight in the series, but in addition to winning in 2008 the Bears also won at Autzen in 2007.

Cal will return home to host Washington State for Homecoming (Oct. 5) in search of a ninth straight win against a Cougar team that was 3-9 a year ago in the first of four home conference games at Memorial Stadium over a six-week period. Cal will also host Oregon State (Oct. 19), Arizona (Nov. 2) and USC (Nov. 9) during the stretch that concludes its 2013 home schedule with all three teams – Oregon State (9-4), Arizona (8-5) and USC (7-6) – posting winning records last season. Oregon State has taken five of the last six against the Bears. Cal will be playing Arizona for the first time since 2010 and the first time at Memorial Stadium since defeating the Wildcats at home in 2009. Cal is looking for its first win against USC since the memorable dramatic three-overtime victory over the Trojans a decade ago in 2003 that has been followed by a nine-game skid in the series.

Cal will play a total of five road games in 2013 following its trip to Oregon with contests at UCLA (Oct. 12), Washington (Oct. 26), Colorado (Nov. 16) and Stanford (Nov. 23). Four of Cal's five road opponents – Oregon (12-1), Stanford (12-2), UCLA (9-5) and Washington (7-6) – had winning records in 2012 and combined for a 40-14 record between them, while Colorado was 1-11. Cal has won four of its last five against UCLA and three in a row against Colorado, including a pair of non-conference games the last two times the Bears have faced the Buffaloes in 2010 and 2011 that were the first between the teams since 1982. The 2013 contest between the schools will be their first-ever Pac-12 meeting. Washington and Stanford both own winning streaks against the Bears with the Huskies taking four in a row since a Cal victory in Berkeley in 2008 and the Cardinal three straight since a Golden Bear win on The Farm in 2009.

"The Pac-12 is a very good and underrated league," Dykes said. "There are more teams in this league that can win on Saturday than in any other league in the country. The No. 12 team in the Pac-12 can definitely upset the No. 1 team, and that just doesn't happen very often in other leagues. The teams in the bottom half of this league are stronger than in any other bottom half of the league in the country. You have to play at a high level week in and week out or you're going to get beat."

The winners of the conference's North (Cal, Oregon, Oregon State, Stanford, Washington, Washington State) and South (Arizona, Arizona State, Colorado, UCLA, USC, Utah) divisions will meet December 7 at the stadium of the team with the best record in the 2013 Pac-12 Championship Game to be televised by either ABC or ESPN.

Television outlets for Cal's first four contests against Northwestern (ESPN2), Portland State (Pac-12 Networks), Ohio State (FOX) and Oregon (Pac-12 Networks) were announced prior to the season with telecast announcements for the other eight regular-season contests to be determined either six or 12 days in advance of each game. All 12 of Cal's games will be televised as part of a conference package with broadcast partners ESPN and FOX that assures all of the conference's home football games will be televised. ESPN and FOX will combine to televise 45 games from Pac-12 sites, while Pac-12 Networks will air another 35 contests in its second year of existence.

Dykes gives much of the credit for increased media exposure, the development of additional revenue streams and the building the league's credibility to Pac-12 commissioner Larry Scott.

"The whole league has changed in the last three years," Dykes said. "From the time I left Arizona to now it's a completely different landscape. Larry Scott has brought an aggressive approach to the league, and it's resulted in additional revenue and additional exposure. The league is now starting to capitalize on its resources, and it's going to continue to get better and become more respected nationwide. The one thing missing right now is a national championship in football. The SEC has had a run on the national championship, but I think there will be a national champion from this league soon and that will just help build credibility."

The 2013 squad will play its home games at a renovated Memorial Stadium that has established an excellent balance between providing fan amenities such as state-of-the-art video boards and sound systems, club levels and improved sightlines on the field that should be expected in a modern stadium with maintaining features such as a restored historic façade and the bowl seating that fans have enjoyed so much about Memorial Stadium throughout the years.

"With the way this stadium is built, there's not a bad seat in the house," Dykes said. "That is very conducive for a great fan experience. It's a very unique and unusual setting that can create a tremendous home crowd advantage. I'm hoping that our fans mirror our football team. I'm hoping that they are dedicated and consistent, weather the highs and lows of a football season and show up and cheer all the way through the game whether it's good or bad. My hope is that they are a model of our football team; that they are a clone of our football team; that they are passionate about supporting Cal just like we want our players to be passionate about playing for Cal. I hope they stick with the team through thick and thin."

Dykes also knows fans want to have fun and enjoy their experience at Memorial Stadium.

"We want them to have fun," Dykes said. "We want our team to be fun and exciting to watch. We want to put a good product out there, so they'll continue to come back."

The following is a position-by-position look at the fun the Bears intend to offer in 2013.

OFFENSE

Cal will be in its first season in a new offensive system in 2013 under first-year head coach Sonny Dykes and offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach Tony Franklin that at Louisiana Tech last season led the nation in scoring offense (51.50 points per game) and total offense (577.92 ypg). The Bears are hoping the new system will help them improve on an offense that was 69th in total offense (391.25 yards per game) and 91st in scoring (23.00 ppg) last season.

Cal will head into the 2013 season without a quarterback who has taken a collegiate snap with Jared Goff, Austin Hinder and Zach Kline in a three-way competition that Athlon lists among its top 12 quarterback battles in the nation in its preseason publication. The battle began with five quarterbacks in the running for the starting job last spring before 2012 backup Allan Bridgford left the program and Kyle Boehm was moved to wide receiver.

"We've got three young players that are going to battle it out," Dykes said. "They don't have the experience of playing in games, but all three have talent and are good leaders that you want to lead your football team. All three have the work ethic and the intangibles that you want to have at that position, and that's where it starts. Ultimately, we are going to make our decision based upon which of the three is going to give us the best opportunity to win."

Jared Goff, Austin Hinder, and Zach Kline

Brendan Bigelow

All three shared reps throughout the spring and played in the spring game. Kline was 7-of-14 for a game-high 124 yards and a touchdown pass, while Hinder was 5-of-9 for 87 yards and a score, and Goff was 7-of-15 for 66 yards and a touchdown. Hinder also added 37 yards rushing as the game's second-leading rusher.

Hinder is in his fourth season in the Cal program and Kline his second, while Goff joined the team in the spring of 2013. Both Kline and Goff graduated from high school in three and a half years and joined the program as mid-year enrollees in 2012 and 2013, respectively.

All three earned All-American honors as preps among many other awards after putting up strong high school numbers.

Goff was a second-team All-State player as a 2012 senior when he capped an incredibly productive career by completing 235-of-368 passes (63.9%) for a Metro-area leading 3,692 yards and 40 touchdowns to lead his team to the state finals. Goff finished his career by completing 477-of-676 passes (62.2%) for 7,687 yards with 93 touchdowns in three varsity seasons for teams that combined to post a 39-4 overall record.

Hinder was the Gatorade Colorado State Player of the Year as a 2009 senior when he completed 170-of-286 passes (59.4%) for 2,205 yards and 25 touchdowns, while adding 889 yards and 14 TDs on the ground to lead his team to a 13-1 overall record and the state championship game.

Kline was the Gatorade California State Player of the Year during a 2011 senior campaign in which he completed 230-of-341 passes (school-record 67.4%) for 3,630 yards and a school-record-tying 36 touchdowns to lead his squad to the finals of the North Coast Section playoffs.

"You want to pick a starter and hope that the ride's not to bumpy, but we're going to always do what's best for the team," Dykes said. "If a guy makes it pretty clear to us that you picked me but I shouldn't be the guy, we're not afraid to make a change. At the same time, the worst thing you can do is play musical quarterbacks so there's a balancing act there. They've got to provide you with a lot of evidence that they're not the one after you make the decision because you've got to give them an opportunity to get better."

Other quarterbacks on the roster include Joey Mahalic and Jake Geringer. The 24-year-old Mahalic spent five seasons playing minor league baseball before joining the Cal program in 2012, while Geringer has transferred to Cal in 2013 after having previously been at Sacramento State and Saddleback College.

Cal will need a different pair of running backs to extend the school's string of having its top two backs combine to rush for 1,500 yards to 11 consecutive campaigns. Both members of the duo of C.J. Anderson and Isi Sofele that extended the streak for the last two seasons have exhausted their collegiate eligibility. Brendan Bigelow and Daniel Lasco next in line to accomplish the feat as the top two players on the preseason depth chart in 2013.

Both need to recover from injuries that forced them to miss 2013 spring practice but are expected to be ready for the season. They have shown signs of being capable of becoming the next in a long line of great Cal running backs over the last decade during the streak that in addition to Anderson and Sofele have included the likes of J.J. Arrington, Jahvid Best, Adimchinobi Echemandu, Justin Forsett, Marshawn Lynch and Shane Vereen.

Bigelow is a 2013 third-team preseason All-Pac-12 choice according to Athlon and Lindy's, while Phil Steele has him on his fourth team after some especially brilliant moments in 2012, including three touchdown runs of 50 or more yards to become the first Cal player to do that since Best in 2009. He had two of those runs at Ohio State when he rushed for 160 yards and the two scores on only four carries to become only the second Football Bowl Subdivision player in the last decade to post 150 or more yards rushing in a game on five or fewer carries. One of the scoring runs was an 81-yarder that was the longest ever by an opponent at Ohio State, while the other was for 59 yards. He also had a 57-yard touchdown run at Utah and finished the season with 431 rushing yards to rank third on the team, picking up his total on only 44 carries for an average of 9.8 yards per rush.

Lasco was used sparingly in 2012 but did have a 77-yard touchdown run against Southern Utah among his 109 yards rushing on six carries.

Darren Ervin is listed as the third running back on the preseason depth chart after playing in the top spot for much of the spring with Bigelow and Lasco out due to injuries. Jeffrey Coprich and Jonah Hodges also saw significant action in the spring with Ervin also missing some of the practice sessions including the spring game due to injury. Hodges was the leading rusher in the spring game with 12 carries for 59 yards, while Coprich contributed 28 yards on the ground on 13 carries. None of the three have carried the ball in a regular-season contest.

Another option for the Bears may be speedster and two-sport high school star Khalfani Muhammad. Muhammad made a name for himself on the track as a prep as only the third person to ever win back-to-back individual California boys state titles in the 100 and 200 meters during his 2012 junior and 2013 senior campaigns. But he also put up huge numbers during an All-American career on the gridiron with totals of 3,397 rushing yards and 44 touchdowns on the ground over 559 carries. Muhammad led the Serra League in rushing as a 2012 senior with a career-high 1,420 yards and 18 scores.

Mitchel Bartolo is the other returning running back on the roster, while Fabiano Hale, Austin Harper and Kenny Portera join the Bears in 2013.

Lucus Gingold missed the 2012 season due to injury but had a strong spring in 2013 and is expected to be the starter at the bone position. He is one of two fullbacks listed on the roster along with incoming freshman Brendan O'Donnell.

"There are a lot of unknowns right now at running back because our top two returnees from last year in Bigelow and Lasco did not practice in the spring," Dykes said. "We think they both have a chance to be good, and Muhammad might be somebody who can kind of get in the mix as well as other guys who played in the spring. We'll have to just kind of see how it goes."

The wide receiver position will be key to the team's 2013 offense with four spots listed on the depth chart and between 10-12 players expected to be involved in the rotation. The four positions include two outside receivers and two inside receivers with all of the players listed a year ago as tight ends now considered to be wide receivers on a roster that includes 26 players at the position.

"The rotation will depend on how many guys can help us win," Dykes said. "We want to get the best four on the field at the same time. The idea is to have a good two-deep in all those spots and then maybe have a third guy that can bounce between the outside spots and inside spots. That would leave us with 10 guys that would play a pretty big role. There's lots of opportunities for guys to carve out niches, and we've got more guys to choose from here than other places I've been in the past."

Cal has 12 receivers listed at the four positions on its preseason depth chart, including three of the team's top four receivers from last season in Chris Harper, Richard Rodgers and Bryce Treggs.

Harper and Treggs exploded onto the scene as true freshmen a year ago when both caught touchdown passes in their first collegiate game in the season-opener against Nevada, becoming the first pair of true freshman to score in their first game at Cal since Justin Forsett and Marshawn Lynch in the 2004 season-opener against Air Force.

Richard Rodgers

Harper, a third-team preseason All-Pac-12 selection by Phil Steele, played in all 12 games with starts in each of the team's final five contests. He posted 41 catches for 544 yards and two touchdown receptions to rank second on the team in all three categories, while his 13.3 yards per catch was also second on the club among regulars and third overall. His reception and receiving totals were just shy of true freshman school records posted by Keenan Allen (46 catches in 2010) and DeSean Jackson (601 receiving yards in 2005).

Treggs played in the team's first nine games with eight starts before missing the final three contests due to injury. He finished with 21 catches for 216 yards and one touchdown.

Rodgers played in 11 games with seven starts and recorded 20 receptions for 288 yards and one touchdown. He ranked first on the team among regulars and second overall with an average of 14.4 yards per catch, while he was third in yards receiving, tied for third in touchdown catches and fourth in receptions. He had a notable game in Cal's victory over Pac-12 South Division champion UCLA when he racked up career highs of seven receptions and 129 yards receiving, with one catch going for 50 yards and another for 42.

2013 OUTLOOK

Chris Adcock

Other receivers on the preseason depth chart who registered catches in 2012 include Jackson Bouza (one reception, 18 yards), Maurice Harris (nine receptions, 99 yards) and Darius Powe (12 receptions, 134 yards, 1 TD), with Powe starting four of the 11 games he played in.

Returnees Stephen Anderson, Kyle Boehm, Maximo Espitia, Kenny Lawler and Joel Willis are also listed on the preseason depth chart along with Drake Whitehurst, a mid-year enrollee who went through spring practices with the Bears in 2013 after two seasons at City College of San Francisco.

Additional veterans who have collegiate experience include Spencer Hagan, Bryce McGovern and Jacob Wark. Hagan caught 12 passes for 94 yards and two touchdowns as a sophomore in 2011 but missed most of the 2012 campaign after suffering a season-ending injury at Ohio State. McGovern has played mostly on special teams at Cal but did have one catch for nine yards as a 2011 freshman. Wark contributed seven catches for 74 in 2012 but is expected to see most of his action at the bone position in 2013 where he is listed as the backup on the preseason depth chart.

The remaining returning wide receivers on the roster include Ross Anderson, Idarre Coles, Jake Davis, James Grisom, Griffin Piatt and Patrick Worstell. Transfers Trevor Davis and Jack Moffett, as well as incoming freshmen Jack Austin, Caleb Coleman and Raymond Hudson complete the list.

"We have a lot of depth, a lot of different body types at the wide receiver position," Dykes said. "There are some guys that can run well, some guys that are bigger guys, and that's kind of what's interesting is that there are lots of different skill sets with this group. Everybody brings different strengths to the table. You get lots of versatility. You can play with four big guys, four smaller and quicker guys or with great combinations of guys. We have a lot of flexibility in this group that I'm very excited about."

The play of the offensive line will more than likely have a major impact on the team's offensive success in 2013. The Bears return two full-time starters from a year ago in left guard Jordan Rigsbee and center Chris Adcock, while Freddie Tagaloa and Bill Tyndall also have experience and look to be the top candidates to start at left and right tackle after significant contributions in 2012. Tagaloa played in 11 games off the bench as a true freshman in 2012 and Tyndall, who missed much of spring ball with an injury, started five of the 10 contests he played in. Cal is expected to have a new starter at right guard where Adcock started last season, with Alejandro Crosthwaite listed as the starter on the preseason depth chart.

But there should be plenty of opportunities for other offensive linemen to make an impact with both head coach Sonny Dykes and Tony Franklin expecting more than five to play critical roles for the Bears.

"If there are eight guys that can play then we're going to try to play with eight offensive linemen,"

Dykes said. "Typically you want to have your starting five, a backup center, a guard that can bounce between the two guard spots and a tackle that can also balance. If you've got those eight guys you can play with, then you've got a chance to have a pretty good offensive line."

"The biggest thing with our offensive line is that we expect tough guys that play fast and play together, and hopefully that will add up to at least seven or eight guys playing," Franklin said. "That's a big deal because the camaraderie is a lot better the more guys you have playing. If there are seven or eight guys who can play, we'll play all of those guys."

Dykes and Franklin also entertain the idea that there may be more than five offensive linemen on the field at the same time, potentially as extra offensive linemen or even in the backfield.

"We're going to get the best 11 guys on the field at the same time and if eight of them are offensive linemen we'll figure out a way to play with eight," Dykes said. "That's on us as coaches to figure out who the guys are that can help us win and figure out a way to let them play."

"At Louisiana Tech, we created formations where we would have seven or eight offensive linemen in the game at the same time," Franklin added. "They might be lined up as tight ends or in the backfield. They have fun doing it and it causes some problems. It also helps us practice better because they know they're going to play."

Others looking for playing time include Matt Cochran, who is listed on the preseason depth chart as a co-starter at center along with Adcock after spending most of the spring starting at the position with Adcock injured. Others listed as backups include Mark Brazinski (center), Brian Farley (right tackle), Geoffrey Gibson (right guard), Steven Moore (left guard), Christian Okafor (right tackle) and Matt Williams (left tackle).

Donovan Frazer, who redshirted last year after transferring from Laney College, is the team's other returnee on the roster, while the incoming freshmen include Chris Borrayo, Erik Bunte, Aaron Cochran, J.D. Hinnant, Vincent Johnson and Carson O'Connell.

DEFENSE

Cal will also be in a new defensive system in 2013, switching its base from a 3-4 to a 4-3 alignment under first-year defensive coordinator Andy Buh, who played a key role as the linebackers coach for a Wisconsin team that played in the Rose Bowl and ranked in the top 25 in all major categories on the defensive side of the ball in 2012. In contrast, Cal's defense was ranked 70th or lower in every major defensive category a year ago.

Head coach Sonny Dykes and defensive coordinator Andy Buh believe the team's defensive line could be one of its top strengths in 2013.

Deandre Coleman

"I was impressed with the defensive line this spring," Dykes said. "I think they got a lot better. It was a little bit of a transition obviously making the move from an odd front to an even front but I think it's a good group. We have some depth in some key spots."

"The defensive line is our foundation," Buh added. "We're looking for them to be great run stoppers and apply a lot of pressure to the quarterback on first and second down situations, and then we're really going to let them loose on third downs and be creative with them to utilize all their talent."

The group is led by Deandre Coleman, who has been Cal's most decorated player in the 2013 preseason and projected to go as high as early in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft. Coleman is on the watch list for the 2013 Outland Trophy given annually to the nation's top interior lineman and is also a second-team preseason All-Pac-12 selection by Athlon, College Sports Madness and Phil Steele, as well as a third-team pick of Lindy's. In addition, he is a candidate for the Rotary Lombardi Award given annually to the country's top lineman on either side of the ball or linebacker, as well as the Bronco Nagurski Trophy and Chuck Bednarik Award given to the nation's top defensive player.

"I think it starts with Deandre Coleman," Dykes said. "He's got a chance to be a really good player in this league. He is in better shape than he's ever been, he's more mature than he's ever been and he's primed to have a great year."

Coleman played in all 12 games in 2012, recording a team-high-tying 8.5 tackles for loss (-32 yards) and 3.0 sacks (-20 yards) to rank third on the club, while registering 48 tackles to lead all defensive linemen.

Mustafa Jalil is expected to start at the other inside position opposite Coleman with Viliami Moala as the primary backup. Jalil had a strong spring after struggling through 2012 with injuries following a promising true freshman season in 2011. Moala was a five-star high school prospect and one of three true freshmen to play two seasons ago along with Jalil in 2011.

Others listed on the preseason depth chart in the middle of the defensive line include returnees Austin Clark, Gabe King and Harrison Wilfley.

With the move from a 3-4 to a 4-3, several of the team's outside linebackers from a year ago have made the transition to defensive end with Brennan Scarlett expected to lead that group. Scarlett, a candidate for the Ted Hendricks Award as the nation's top defensive end, started all nine games he played in a year ago when he registered 40 tackles, 6.0 tackles for loss (-23 yards) and 2.5 sacks (-17 yards). He also shared the team lead with two forced fumbles, while adding three quarterback hurries and two pass breakups.

"We think Brennan Scarlett has a chance to be as good as there is in the league," Dykes said. "I think he is the prototypical even front defensive end. That position in this defense will be perfect for him, so I'm excited to watch him play."

Others expected to be in the rotation at the defensive position are Todd Barr and Sione Sina. Barr contributed 12 tackles, 4.5 tackles for loss (-20 yards), 2.0 sacks (-11 yards) and one forced fumble last season. Sina is a junior college transfer from the College of San Mateo who missed spring ball due to injury after being the nation's fifth-ranked weak-side defensive end in junior college a year ago.

The rush end position is expected to be manned by Dan Camporeale, Kyle Kragen and Chris McCain, with Camporeale and Kragen listed as co-starters on the preseason depth chart.

Camporeale is a fifth-year senior who has improved throughout his Cal career and contributed a career-high 23 tackles a year ago, while adding 1.5 tackles for loss and 0.5 sacks.

Kragen came to Cal as a mid-year enrollee this past January after two strong seasons at Diablo Valley College, where he combined for 131 tackles, 28.5 tackles for loss, 19.5 sacks and eight fumble recoveries. Kragen broke the school's single-season record with 14.5 tackles to lead the Mid-Empire League as a 2012 sophomore.

McCain is making a transition from an outside linebacker position the last two seasons where he played in 21 games with 16 starts that are the most among active Cal players. McCain was an honorable mention All-Pac-12 pick in 2012 after recording team-high-tying totals of 8.5 tackles for loss (-38 yards) and 3.5 sacks (-27 yards), with the yards lost for both the most on the club. He added 50 tackles, a team-high four quarterback hurries, one pass breakup and one fumble recovery.

Other defensive linemen on the roster include returnees Bradley Northnagel and Harrison Wilfley along with newcomers Jacobi Hunter, Marcus Manley and Tony Mekari on the inside. At the defensive end spots, other returnees include Ted Agu, Antione Davis and Puka Lopa, while Raymond Davison will join the squad at the position.

Cal feels it is both deep and talented at the linebacker position with a solid two-deep heading into the 2013 campaign as Cal has a group of seven players that could all fight for a starting job according to defensive coordinator Andy Buh. Nick Forbes, Khairi Fortt and Jalen Jefferson are listed as the three starters but Buh is quick to point out that Michael Barton, Nathan Broussard, Hardy Nickerson and David Wilkerson are all "nipping at their heels."

"We've got seven guys that we feel are pretty solid and can be good players for us," Dykes said. "The group has depth, it's just a matter of staying healthy and getting guys in the right spots."

Forbes and Nickerson are expected to start the season as the team's top two players at middle linebacker (MIKE).

Forbes is a fourth-team preseason All-Pac-12 choice of Phil Steele, on the watch list for the preseason College Football Performance Awards Linebacker Trophy and a candidate for the Butkus Award and The Jack Lambert Trophy as the nation's top linebacker. He had a strong 2012 campaign in which he was played in all 12 games with eight starts, finishing second on the team with 85 tackles while ranking 11th in the Pac-12 with an average of 7.1 stops per contest. He also had a team-high three of the squad's first fumble recoveries, ranking tied for third in the conference with an average of 0.25 fumble recoveries per contest. In addition, Forbes is a strong candidate for the Allstate AFCA Good Works Team® and the Wuerffel Trophy presented for community service involvement.

Nickerson, the rapidly improving son of former Cal and NFL player Hardy Nickerson, was named the Scout Team Player of the Year on special teams a year ago and had a game-high-tying six tackles as well as 1.5 tackles for loss and 0.5 sacks in the 2013 spring game that Forbes missed due to injury.

Jefferson will go into the 2013 season as the starter at strong-side outside linebacker (SAM) after a promising campaign in 2012 when he started seven of the eight games he played in and recorded 47 tackles, 1.5 tackles for loss (-11 yards), 1.5 sacks (-11 yards), one pass breakup and two quarterback hurries in his first season of action with the Golden Bears. He continued his momentum with a strong spring and had a game-high-tying six tackles in the spring game, as well as a game-high 1.5 sacks (game-high -7 yards) and a game-high-tying 1.5 tackles for loss (-7 yards).

Barton is listed as the team's No. 2 player at the SAM position and is also pushing the envelope to become a starter after being named both the team's Scout Team Player of the Year on defense and its Freshman Lifter of the Year in 2012.

Fortt leads a crowded race at the weak-side outside linebacker (WILL) with Broussard and Wilkerson both looking for playing time at the position as well. Fortt is the only one of the trio yet to see action at Cal, but compiled two-year totals of 50 tackles, 6.5 tackles for loss (-23 yards) and 2.5 sacks (-16 yards) over 22 games and one start during two seasons at Penn State in 2010 and 2011. He sat out the 2012 season with an injury after transferring from Penn State to Cal in August of 2012 but claimed a starting spot during 2013 spring practice. Fortt is listed as one of the nation's "Top 10 Players Back from Injury" by Athlon in its preseason magazine.

Broussard, who is also a candidate to play at the MIKE spot, made strong contributions during both the 2012 season and 2013 spring practice. Broussard played in 11 of 12 games with four starts last fall, recording 18 tackles, 3.5 tackles for loss (-23 yards) and 3.0 sacks (-21 yards). He was second on the team in sack yards, as well as tied for third in sacks and tackle for loss yards. In the spring game, he had five tackles and 1.0 tackle for loss for a game-high nine yards.

Wilkerson missed the 2012 season due to injury but returned for the spring game and contributed a game-high-tying six tackles and 1.0 tackle for loss (-4 yards). Despite playing in only 13 games with two starts over his first two seasons with the program from 2010-11 and missing the 2012 campaign, he is third among active Cal players in career sacks (4.0), sack yards (-23 yards) and tackle for loss yards (-35 yards), while ranking fourth in tackles for loss (5.5). All of his stats other than three games played and two tackles came during the 2011 season.

Other linebackers on the roster include returnees Jason Gibson and Lucas King, as well as newcomers Chad Whitener, Johnny Ragin III and Edward Tandy.

"I think it's a very good group," Dykes said. "We need them to be physical and we need them to hold up. Linebackers are like running backs and they get beat up so you better have a lot of depth. I feel pretty good about our guys and the depth we have at this position."

Despite losing three of its top four defensive backs from a year ago with the departure of starting cornerbacks Marc Anthony and Steve Williams, as well starting safety and leading tackler Josh Hill, the Golden Bears still have five defensive backs with starting experience in the defensive backfield in Kameron Jackson, Alex Logan, Michael Lowe, Stefan McClure and Avery Sebastian.

Stefan McClure

Jackson and McClure, both of whom have filled in for Anthony as a starter, are expected to take over starting roles at the two cornerback positions. Sebastian is listed as the starting strong safety, while Lowe is the starter at free safety although Logan held the role for much of the 2013 spring before being injured prior to the spring game. Both spent time as the team's starter at the position a year ago.

Jackson played in all 12 games with three starts in 2012 and is best known for his three-interception game in a victory over Pac-12 South Division champion UCLA that earned him several honors including Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week. Jackson shared the team lead for the season with those three interceptions that tied a Pac-12 single-game season high and was tied for 11th in the Pac-12 with an average of 0.25 interceptions per game. He also added 27 tackles and one fumble recovery.

Avery Sebastian

McClure, who was listed as an "Impact Player" by Sporting News in its 2013 preseason magazine, returns after missing the entire 2012 season with a knee injury suffered at Arizona State in the final regular-season game of his 2011 true freshman campaign. McClure played in 11 games with two starts and recorded 24 tackles, 1.0 tackle for loss (-5 yards) and one interception before his injury. His signature performance came against USC when he primarily covered consensus first-team All-American Robert Woods and held him to five catches for 36 yards, his second-lowest single-game totals of the season in both categories.

Sebastian became a part-time starter at strong safety in 2013 with four starts among his 11 games played, while he also saw extensive action on special teams as an honorable mention All-Pac-12 selection among non-returns and kickers. Sebastian finished with 56 tackles in 2012 to rank fifth on the team and was 45th in the Pac-12 with an average of 5.1 stops per game. Sebastian registered 14 of those tackles coming off the bench vs. Arizona State to earn his first career start the next game against UCLA. He also had a strong 2013 spring game, sharing game-high honors with six tackles.

Lowe put up strong numbers a year ago while playing in all 12 games with eight starts, including each of the team's last five contests. He co-led the team with three interceptions that he returned for a team-high 67 yards, while ranking fourth on the club with 69 tackles. His per-game averages in interceptions (0.25) and tackles (5.8) were 11th and 35th in the Pac-12, respectively.

Logan is a fifth-year senior who has played in 26 games over the past four seasons primarily on special teams but also as a starter at safety for each of the team's first four contests in 2012 when he played in nine games total and finished the campaign with 24 tackles.

The amount of experience in Cal's defensive backfield after the top five does get thin as Adrian Lee with one tackle in 14 career games played off the bench primarily on special teams is the only other player on the roster with any experience. Lee is listed as McClure's backup at cornerback, while the other players on the preseason depth chart are Isaac Lapite as a backup corner behind Jackson and Damariy Drew as Sebastian's backup at strong safety.

Returnee Cedric Dozier and newcomers Darius Allensworth, Trey Cheek and Cameron Walker are the other cornerbacks on the roster.

Additional safeties on the squad include returnees Dan Fadelli, Jordan Morgan and Ikem Okwudior, as well as newcomers Cormac Craigie and David Garner. Linebacker Jason Gibson could also play safety.

The team is not settled on its nickel back position yet but likely candidates are Lapite, Drew and McClure.

"Although we are thin at defensive back, we think we have some guys at the top of the pecking order who do have some experience," Dykes said. "We will need to keep them healthy and also count on some of our younger and less experienced players to come through. There is a good opportunity at this position for our young guys to make an impact immediately."

SPECIALISTS/
SPECIAL TEAMS

Cal's entire kicking game returns from 2012 in punter Cole Leininger, placekicker Vincenzo D'Amato, long snapper John Sheperdson and holder Jackson Bouza after all four were in their first seasons as full-time starters in those roles a year ago. D'Amato and Sheperdson did have limited experience earlier in their careers with D'Amato sharing placekicking and kickoff duties with Giorgio Tavecchio as a true freshman in 2009 and Sheperdson starting the 2011 Holiday Bowl as a substitute.

Cal's return game includes kick returner Brendan Bigelow, who has significant experience in the role over the last two years, and punt returner Chris Harper, who picked up limited experience last year after a season-ending injury to starter Keenan Allen late in the campaign.

Cal's punt return game was its highest nationally ranked unit at 24th last year.

"We are excited to have everyone back in the kicking game and some promising returners," special teams coordinator/outside receivers coach Mark Tommerdahl said. "We are well aware that significant improvements need to be made."

Tommerdahl coached two-time Ray Guy Award winner Ryan Allen the last four seasons at Louisiana Tech, with the Bulldogs leading the nation in net punting a year ago with a 43.51 yards per punt average behind the performance of Allen, who paced the country with a school-record 48.04 yards per punt. The previous campaign Allen was fifth nationally at 46.12 yards per punt, while the Bulldogs were eighth with a net average of 40.12. Tommerdahl's first two punt return units at Louisiana Tech led the Western Athletic Conference, while ranking 10th nationally in 2010 after being 25th in 2009. Tommerdahl also coached his TCU kick return unit to the nation's best average in 1999 and 2000.

Los Angeles, CA (Loyola HS)

Cole Leininger returns for a second season as Cal's punter after taking over the job from four-year starter, three-time All-Pac-12 selection and two-time Ray Guy Award semifinalist Bryan Anger in 2012. Leininger is a third-team preseason All-Pac-12 choice of Phil Steele and a candidate for the Ray Guy Award himself in 2013 after a solid freshman season with the Golden Bears when he played in all 12 games and averaged 39.9 yards per punt. Leininger also forced opponents to make 26 fair catches and pinned them inside their 20-yard line 13 times with only one touchback as Cal's net punting average was 54th nationally and 22 spots better than Leininger's individual ranking.

2013 OUTLOOK

"Cole received valuable experience last season and understands that he needs to continue to improve to be considered an upper echelon Pac-12 punter," Tommerdahl said.

Steffan Mos is the backup for the second consecutive season and punted twice for a 37.5 yard average a year ago.

Chad Smith is also on the roster.

Pleasanton, CA (Cal Poly/Foothill HS)

Cal will have first-team All-Pac-12 placekicker back in the fold in fifth-year senior Vincenzo D'Amato, who is also a 2013 preseason first-team All-Pac-12 choice of Lindy's and Sporting News, a second-team selection according to Athlon and College Sports Madness, and a third-team pick by Phil Steele. D'Amato is also on the watch list for the College Football Performance Awards Placekicker Trophy, a candidate for the Lou Groza Award as the nation's top placekicker and the No. 8 draft eligible kicker in the nation prior to the season according to Phil Steele.

D'Amato reclaimed a starting role in 2012 after two campaigns behind Giorgio Tavecchio and led the conference in field goals made (1.33 fgmpg) to give Cal the Pac-12's top field goal kicker for the second consecutive season after Tavecchio became the first in 2011 since Doug Brien in 1991. D'Amato finished fifth in the league in field goal percentage (16-23, 69.6%) and per-game scoring among kickers (6.5), while ranking 12th in scoring overall and putting up a team-high 78 points by adding 30-of-33 extra points. At one point, he made 11 consecutive field goals.

"Vince is a veteran who overcame moments of adversity last season," Tommerdahl said. "We're looking forward to him having a rock-solid year."

Cal has five other placekickers on the roster in returnees Noah Beito, Benjamin Calder and James Langford, as well as newcomers Matt Anderson and Robbie McInerney. Beito is the only one to have played in a Cal uniform for one kickoff against Southern Utah in 2012, while Langford was the top placekicker at Cal Poly in 2011 before transferring to Cal and sitting out the 2012 campaign.

LONG SNAPPERS (4)

Mark Tommerdahl, 1st Season
(Concordia College – MN, 1983)

- 83 Cary Kriegsmann, LS, 5-10, 200, Jr. *, SQ
Pacific Palisades, CA (Loyola HS)
- 86 Brandon Madueño, LS, 6-0, 250, Sr. *, SQ,
West Covina, CA (Damien HS)
- 38 Duke Moran, LS, 6-3, 215, Fr. *, RS
Menlo Park, CA (Sacred Heart Prep HS)
- 69 John Sheperdson, LS, 6-3, 220, Jr., 2L
Danville, CA (San Ramon Valley HS)

John Sheperdson returns as the team's starting long snapper and has made every snap without an errant one since moving into the starting role as a fill in for Matt Rios in the 2011 Holiday Bowl.

Cal has three other players at the position in Cary Kriegsmann, Brandon Madueño and Duke Moran.

Although he has never made a snap, Madueño is in his fifth season on the roster and listed as the backup on the preseason depth chart. Kriegsmann is in his fourth season, while Moran is in his second.

"Our long snapping situation is competitive," Tommerdahl said. "We have last year's starter returning with quality reserves pushing him."

RETURNERS (5)

Mark Tommerdahl, 1st Season
(Concordia College – MN, 1983)

- 5 Brendan Bigelow, RET, 5-10, 180, Jr., 2L
Fresno, CA (Central HS)
- 34 Darren Ervin, RET, 5-10, 195, So. *, 1L
Houston, TX (Lamar HS)
- 6 Chris Harper, RET, 6-0, 180, So., 1L
Northridge, CA (Crespi HS)
- 2 Daniel Lasco, RET, 6-1, 200, So. *, 1L
The Woodlands, TX (The Woodlands HS)
- 1 Bryce Treggs, RET, 5-11, 180, So., 1L
Inglewood, CA (St. John Bosco HS)

Although many players are often involved as returners throughout the season, head coach Sonny Dykes makes an emphasis that it is a priority to become established in the return game early in the season especially at the position of punt returner, where wide receivers Chris Harper and Bryce Treggs are the top two listed on the depth chart to replace 2012 starter Keenan Allen, who led the Pac-12 and ranked eighth nationally with an average of 14.1 yards per return.

Harper moved into the role for the last three games of the 2012 campaign after Allen suffered a season-ending injury, while Treggs has prep experience.

Bigelow is an accomplished kick returner with a combined 1,285 yards on 58 returns for an average of 22.2 yards per return over the last two seasons. He had 35 kick returns for 810 yards in 2012, both the most by a Cal player since Lavelle Hawkins in 2007, while ranking fifth in the Pac-12 and 52nd nationally with an average of 23.1 yards per return to earn honorable mention All-Pac-12 honors as a kick returner. As a freshman, he returned 23 for 475 yards including one for an 88-yard touchdown against Presbyterian.

But with Bigelow potentially moving into a starting role at running back in 2013 he may be limited on kick returns, which could open the door for someone else with Darren Ervin and Daniel Lasco among the top early candidates.

"I don't know how it's going to play out at kick returner, but it's a big deal to get our depth chart nailed down early especially at punt returner," Dykes said. "I like to stick with one punt returner that's the same guy all the time because usually if you have two in the role it's scary and it really means you have zero. The only way I would want two is if we have two guys back there at the same time if we get a lot of directional punting. At kick returner it can be a little bit more of a revolving door."

HEAD COACH

SONNY DYKES

Head Coach, 1st Season

Sonny Dykes will be in his first season as the head coach at Cal in 2013 after directing an offense that led the nation in both scoring and offense a year ago at Louisiana Tech. Dykes, 43, brings 18 years of collegiate coaching experience to Berkeley. He spent the past three years as head coach at Louisiana Tech, where he compiled a 22-15 record and won 16 of 17 regular season games during one stretch over the 2011 and 2012 seasons.

"Sonny Dykes is one of the brightest offensive minds in the country, running a high-octane style of football, one that I'm certain will allow our student-athletes to thrive and that our community will love on gameday," Director of Athletics Sandy Barbour said when Dykes was announced as the school's 33rd head coach on December 5, 2012. "However, it was far more than his history of a top-ranked offense and his proven success on the football field that solidified my decision; it was the way he described his responsibility to the University at large and his commitment to creating a climate of comprehensive excellence and success for his student-athletes. We discussed the unique place that Berkeley and Cal Athletics occupy in higher education, standing for both academic and athletic excellence. Above all, Sonny values the opportunity to develop relationships with and have an impact on his student-athletes, staff and community."

Dykes guided his 2012 Louisiana Tech team to a 9-3 mark, including road victories over FBS opponents Illinois (52-24), Houston (56-49) and Virginia (44-28). The Bulldogs also lost a narrow 59-57 decision to a Texas A&M team that later defeated top-ranked Alabama and earned a spot in the Cotton Bowl. Louisiana Tech reached as high as No. 18 according to USA Today and was No. 19 in the Associated Press Top 25 after jumping out to a 9-1 start.

Dykes' high-energy style of offense produced a prolific offense that in addition to leading the nation in both scoring offense (51.50 ppg) and total offense (577.92 ypg) with an offense that posted the fifth-highest per-game scoring average ever by a team in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), was also among the NCAA's top 20 in passing offense (3rd, 350.75 ypg), sacks allowed (7th, 0.83 per game), turnover margin (10th, +1.08 per game) and rushing offense (17th, 227.17 ypg). The Bulldogs scored more than 40 points in 11 of 12 games and over 50 points on eight occasions.

Quarterback Colby Cameron was named the 2012 Western Athletic Conference Offensive Player of the Year and earned the Sammy Baugh Award presented to college football's top passer by The Touchdown Club of Columbus. Cameron completed 359-of-522 passes (68.8%) for 4,147 yards and 31 touchdowns with just five interceptions. He ranked third nationally in total offense (360.33 ypg), while he was 22nd in the nation in passing efficiency (153.19).

On the ground, running back Kenneth Dixon was tabbed the WAC Freshman of the Year after breaking Marshall Faulk's NCAA freshman records for rushing touchdowns (27), total touchdowns (28) and points (168). Dixon led the country in scoring with 14.00 points per game while totaling 1,194 rushing yards on 200 carries.

During his tenure at Louisiana Tech, Dykes engineered a turnaround for a program that improved all three seasons under his leadership. The Bulldogs were 4-8 the year before he arrived in 2009, then proceeded to finish 5-7, 8-5 and 9-3 in successive campaigns. In 2011, Louisiana Tech started just 1-4, and then won seven consecutive games to clinch the Western Athletic Conference title – the team's first conference championship in a decade – and a berth in the Poinsettia Bowl. Dykes was named the WAC Coach of the Year for the effort.

Dykes, the son of former longtime Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes, boasts a resume that includes additional stops in the Pac-12, Big 12 and SEC, where he served under such head coaches as Mike Stoops (Arizona), Mike Leach (Texas Tech) and Hal Mumme (Kentucky).

As offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Arizona for three seasons from 2007-09, Dykes helped the Wildcats to the 2008 Las Vegas Bowl and 2009 Holiday Bowl after having not reached the postseason for 10 years. Arizona posted marks of 8-5 both seasons and tied for second in what was then the Pac-10 in 2009 with a 6-3 league record.

Under his direction, the Wildcat offense established five single-season records. Arizona ranked 10th nationally in passing yards in 2007, and the Wildcats were 16th in scoring and 33rd in total offense in 2008. Dykes mentored, among others, quarterbacks Willie Tuitama, who was named MVP of the 2008 Las Vegas Bowl, and Nick Foles, who was selected in the third round of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Prior to his tenure at Arizona, Dykes spent seven seasons at his alma mater, Texas Tech, serving as receivers coach from 2000-04 and adding the title of co-offensive coordinator from 2005-06. The Red Raiders made seven straight postseason appearances and won 56 games during the span, including four postseason victories in the Tangerine, Houston, Holiday and Insight bowls over his last five seasons. In his final campaign at Texas Tech, the Red Raiders ranked No. 3 nationally in passing offense (369.5 ypg) and sixth in total offense (447.9 ypg). In 2006, Dykes received the Mike Campbell Top Assistant Coach Award from the All-American Football Foundation, the same year he was recognized as one of the top 25 recruiters in the country by Rivals.

Dykes spent two non-consecutive seasons at Kentucky, first as a graduate assistant working with tight ends in 1997 and later as special teams/wide receivers coach in Mumme's "Air Raid" attack in 1999. During the fall of 1999, James Whalen developed into a first-team All-American and set a Division I-A record for tight ends with 90 receptions.

Sandwiched in between his two stints in Lexington, Dykes was the wide receivers coach at Northeast Louisiana in 1998, where he helped receiver Marty Booker set school season and career records while earning spots in the Blue-Gray Football Classic and East-West Shrine Game before being selected in the third round of the 1999 NFL Draft by the Chicago Bears.

Dykes began his collegiate coaching career with a two-year stint at Navarro College in Corsicana, Texas, from 1995-96. He also was a baseball assistant at Monahans High School in Texas in 1994 and a football assistant at Pearce High School outside Dallas in 1995.

Born in Big Springs, Texas, Dykes received his bachelor's degree in history from Texas Tech in 1993 and was a member of the Red Raider baseball team for two seasons. He is married to the former Kate Golding and they have two daughters, Alta (Ally) and Charlotte (Charlie).

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING

"Cal landed a great coach in Sonny Dykes. He has always been on the cutting edge offensively and is now a proven head coach. They are lucky to have him."

– Texas head coach Mack Brown

"He's outstanding ... and he's got a great offensive mind. He knows how to go out and put points on the board. With his pedigree and his background, I think he would be an outstanding coach no matter where he is."

– ESPN's Kirk Herbstreit

"Sonny Dykes is an absolute home run hire for Cal and the Pac-12. I spent 25 years in that league as an AD and he is as prepared as anybody I have seen. Congratulations to Sandy Barbour and the entire Cal administration. He is a great coach, a great person and a phenomenal recruiter. This is as good a hire as you will see in college football this year."

– Jim Livengood, former Arizona AD and current AD at UNLV

"If you have not seen or read Sonny Dykes' name by now, it might be time for familiarization. Dykes is quickly becoming one of the more buzzed-about names for open or soon-to-be-open coaching jobs. Yes, the college football hot stove season has arrived. I'd venture to say that Dykes is the No. 1 name to watch in this cycle of the carousel."

staff in the Rose Bowl against Stanford on January 1, 2013. Buh will also coach Cal's linebackers.

Buh spent the 2012 season as the Badgers' linebackers coach for a team that played in its third consecutive Rose Bowl after previously serving as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for two seasons at Nevada (2010-11) and the co-defensive coordinator for the final two seasons of his three-year stint at Stanford (2007-09).

"Andy Buh is a highly sought-after coach that has led a series of strong defenses in multiple settings over the last several seasons," head coach Sonny Dykes said upon Buh's hiring. "The experience and knowledge he will bring to Cal football on the defensive side of the ball will have a tremendous impact on our program. He also has significant experience recruiting in the state of California and will bolster our recruiting efforts in our own backyard. I have wanted to work with Andy for a long time and have tried to hire him in the past, so I'm glad that this opportunity has materialized."

"I'm truly excited for the opportunity to come back to the Bay Area and the University of California," Buh said after his hiring. "Cal is a program that has all of the resources to be a consistent winner in the Pac-12. I have a tremendous amount of respect for coach Dykes and what he has done over his career."

Buh played a key role as the linebackers coach for a Wisconsin defensive unit that ranked 15th nationally in total defense (322.57 ypg) and in the top 25 in all major categories on the defensive side of the ball in 2012. Wisconsin was also 17th in scoring defense (19.14 ppg), as well as 22nd in pass efficiency defense (113.43) and 24th in rushing defense (128.93 ypg). The Badgers were even better during regular-season 2012 Big Ten contests, allowing 18.3 points per game to rank second in the conference. Wisconsin held five consecutive conference opponents to 16 points or less and gave up more than 24 points in only one of eight regular-season league contests and three overall. Wisconsin linebacker Mike Taylor was 54th nationally in tackles with an average of 8.79 per game, while his total of 123 stops was 25th nationally. Linebacker Chris Borland received All-Big Ten honors.

During his two seasons as the defensive coordinator at Nevada, the Wolf Pack was 20-7 overall and 12-3 in the Western Athletic Conference.

Nevada posted a 7-6 record and nearly upset No. 22 Southern Miss in the Hawaii Bowl in 2011, limiting the No. 15 scoring offense in the country to 13 points and 125 yards below its season averages. Nevada finished 22nd in the country in pass efficiency defense (115.14 ypg) and was led on the defensive side of the ball by first-team All-American defensive tackle Brett Roy, who had 18.5 tackles for loss (-57 yards) while pacing the WAC and ranking 12th nationally with 1.42 per game. Roy also had 10.0 sacks (-36 yards), ranking second in the WAC and tied for 13th in the country with 0.77 per game.

Buh led Nevada's defense in 2010 in what was arguably the greatest season in the history of Nevada football. Nevada won the WAC title, posting a 13-1 overall record and defeating Boston College in the Kraft Fight Hunger Bowl. Key wins included home victories over No. 25 Cal and a come-from-behind victory over No. 4 Boise State, where Nevada's defense held the Broncos to seven points in the second half to win 34-31 in overtime. Under Buh's leadership Nevada had a rushing defense that ranked 18th nationally (120.29 ypg) and a scoring defense that was 31st (21.43 ppg). Pressure keyed much of the team's defensive success as the Wolf Pack was 24th nationally in sacks (2.50 spg). Defensive end Dontay Moch, a third-round pick of the Cincinnati Bengals in the 2011 NFL Draft, had 22.0 tackles for loss (-83 yards) to lead the WAC and rank 10th nationally with an average of 1.57 per game.

Buh engineered a major turnaround in a defense he inherited at Nevada that ranked 91st nationally in total defense the season before his arrival in 2009 (400.23 ypg) and 96th in 2008 (409.31 ypg). In his two campaigns at Nevada, the Wolf Pack finished 52nd in total defense in 2011 (369.23 ypg) and 54th in 2010 (363.57 ypg).

in college football history and a turning point for Stanford football. Buh was promoted by then-head coach Jim Harbaugh to co-defensive coordinator for his final two seasons.

In his first season as the co-defensive coordinator at Stanford in 2008, the Cardinal ranked 11th nationally in sacks (2.75 spg) with the team's 34.0 total sacks coming from 13 different players. In Buh's second season in the position, the Cardinal made its first bowl appearance (Sun Bowl) since 2001 and had four defensive players honored on the All-Pac-12 teams to bring the two-year total under Buh to seven.

Buh spent the 2006 campaign on the staff at Fresno State after four successful seasons (2002-05) as the linebackers coach at San Diego State. During his time with the Aztecs, Buh coached four players who went on to the NFL, including Kirk Morrison, a first-team All-American, two-time Mountain West Conference Defensive Player of the Year and three-time All-MWC selection who would go on to play in the NFL with Oakland (2005-09), Jacksonville (2010) and Buffalo (2011-12).

Buh spent two previous seasons at Cal (2000-01) as a defensive administrative assistant after making his collegiate coaching debut with three campaigns at his alma mater Nevada, where he was a graduate assistant coach in 1997 and 1998 before being hired as defensive backs/special teams coach in 1999.

He started his coaching career as an assistant for one campaign in 1996 at Orange Glen High School, where he graduated in 1991.

Buh played two seasons collegiately at Nevada (1993-94) and helped the Wolf Pack to a Big West championship as a 1994 senior as the Pack combined for a 16-6 mark during Buh's two seasons as a player. Buh graduated from Nevada with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1996.

A native of Escondido, Calif., he also played for two seasons at Palomar College, where he helped his squad to a share of the 1991 Junior College Grid-Wire national championship as a freshman. He earned All-America honors as a 1992 sophomore.

Buh is married to the former Kelly Morris. The couple has two sons, Luke and Logan.

ASSISTANT COACHES

TONY FRANKLIN

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1st Season

Tony Franklin is in his first season as Cal's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 2013 after being hired on December 11, 2012. Franklin served in the same role for Cal head coach Sonny Dykes at Louisiana Tech the last three seasons, including in 2012 when the Bulldogs posted a 9-3 record and led the nation in scoring offense (51.50 points per game) and total offense (577.92 ypg). Franklin was a 2012 nominee for the Broyles Award given annually to the nation's top assistant coach and one of four finalists for the FootballScoop.com Offensive Coordinator of the Year.

"Tony Franklin is an innovative and creative mind who is one of the top offensive coaches in the nation," Dykes said upon Franklin's hiring. "He's had a tremendous amount of success producing some of the most prolific offenses in college football. I'm excited that he is joining our staff at Cal and look forward to much more success in the years ahead."

"I'm incredibly excited for the opportunity to come to the No. 1 academic institution in the country and try to also make it the No. 1 football program in the country, that's our goal," Franklin said. "To be able to do that with Sonny is kind of like a fantasy that started years ago. We talked about it and it's a strange thing, but we both wanted to end up here. I've been recruiting California for a long time and this is where my wife and I wanted to live. It's funny how dreams sometimes do come true."

"This is our last stop, this is where we want to finish," Franklin added. "I have no desire to be a head coach. I wanted to be here to make this thing work for Sonny and give the Cal alumni something they can be proud of. As much pride as they have in their academics, we want it to be the same for their football program. That's our goal."

In addition to leading the nation in scoring and total offense with an offense that posted the fifth-highest per-game scoring average ever by a team in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), Louisiana Tech ranked among the NCAA's top 20 in 2012 in passing offense (3rd, 350.75 ypg), fewest sacks allowed (7th, 0.83 spg), turnover margin (10th, +1.08 per game) and rushing offense (18th, 227.17 ypg). The Bulldogs scored more than 40 points in 11 of 12 games and over 50 points on eight occasions.

Quarterback Colby Cameron was named the 2012 Western Athletic Conference Offensive Player of the Year and earned the Sammy Baugh Award presented to college football's top passer by The Touchdown Club of Columbus. Cameron completed 359-of-522 passes (68.8%) for 4,147 yards and 31 touchdowns with just five interceptions. He ranked third nationally in total offense (360.33 ypg), while he was 22nd in the nation in passing efficiency (153.19). Cameron also set a new NCAA record for most consecutive passes without an interception over his first 428 attempts in 2012 and totaled 444 going back to the previous season.

Second-team AP All-American Quinton Patton was Cameron's top receiver and a Biletnikoff Award semifinalist in 2012 with 104 catches for 1,392 yards and 13 touchdown receptions. Patton led the WAC in both per-game receiving yards (116.00 ypg) and receptions (8.67 rpg), with those numbers ranking fourth and fifth nationally. Myles White added 56 catches for 718 yards and six touchdowns, while ranking fourth and sixth in the WAC in per-game receiving yards (59.83 ypg) and receptions (4.67 rpg).

On the ground, running back Kenneth Dixon was tabbed the WAC Freshman of the Year and earned Freshman All-American honors after breaking Marshall Faulk's NCAA freshman records for rushing touchdowns (27), total touchdowns (28) and points (168). Dixon led the country in scoring with an average of 14.00 points per game while totaling 1,194 yards on 200 carries. He was also second in the WAC and 33rd nationally in rushing with an average of 106.42 yards per game. Capital One Academic All-America® first teamer Ray Holley, a graduate student pursuing a degree in counseling with a 3.50 GPA, added 740 yards and seven touchdowns on the ground over 142 rushes.

During Franklin's second season in Ruston in 2011 he orchestrated an offense that was fundamentally sound and continued to improve weekly on a Louisiana Tech team that finished 8-5 overall and won the WAC title with a 6-1 league record before advancing to play TCU in the Poinsettia Bowl. Tech ranked third in the nation with five different scoring drives of over 90 yards during the season. That precision guided Tech's offensive explosion at Fresno State when the team scored 34 points and notched over 400 offensive yards in the first half alone. The offense produced more than 40 points on three occasions and averaged 31.71 points per contest during a seven-game win streak to end the regular season. Patton was among both the top receivers in the WAC and across the nation in per-game receiving yards (92.46 ypg, No. 2 WAC/No. 20 NCAA) and receptions (6.08 rpg, No. 4 WAC/No. T28 NCAA), finishing with totals of 79 receptions for 1,202 yards and 11 touchdowns.

In Franklin's first year on Tech's staff, his spread offense exploded into a high-octane mechanism in the middle of the season resulting with the team scoring 34 points or more in four of the final six contests and 41 or more three times. Running back Lennon Creek was the team's top threat, rushing for 1,181 yards and 10 scores on 212 carries. His average of 98.42 yards rushing per game ranked third in the WAC and 22nd nationally.

Franklin spent one season as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Middle Tennessee in 2009 prior to his three-year stint at Louisiana Tech. At MTSU, Franklin's offense generated 421.69 total yards of offense and 32.00 points per game, the fourth and seventh highest totals in school history for a team that posted a 10-3 record that was its best since 1992 and had a seven-game win streak to end the season that was the longest at the school since the 1985 squad won its first 11 contests. The Blue Raider offense, which produced three All-Sun Belt Conference players, scored 30 or more points nine times, including each of the last five games, and topped the 400-yard mark on eight occasions. Franklin's 2009 unit set school records in total yards (5,482), passing yards (3,064) and total points (416), with per-game averages that were 23rd nationally in scoring, and 27th in total offense and rushing offense (186.00 ypg).

Middle Tennessee quarterback Dwight Dasher came of age in Franklin's offensive schemes. The second-team All-Sun Belt Conference performer was the MVP of the 2009 New Orleans Bowl, where he broke Vince Young's NCAA record for yards rushing in a bowl game by a quarterback with 201 yards (since broken by Johnny Manziel in the 2013 Cotton Bowl). Dasher ranked seventh in the nation in total offense (303.31 ypg), threw for a school-record 23 TD passes and was named the SBC Player of the Week three times that season. Dasher finished the season with totals of 2,789 yards passing and 1,154 yards rushing to become only the eighth player in NCAA history to pass for over 2,000 and rush for 1,000 yards in the same season, and the first quarterback in Middle Tennessee history to rush for 1,000 yards.

Franklin made his way to Middle Tennessee after a brief stint as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Auburn, where he coached the Tigers to an overtime victory over Clemson in the 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl. He remained in the role six games into the 2008 season, with Auburn adding to his Chick-fil-A Bowl victory in 2007 by sporting a 4-2 record in 2008 before he was released from his duties. The Tigers were 0-5 against Division I teams the remainder of the 2008 campaign following his departure.

Franklin was in the same capacity the previous two seasons at Troy (2006-07) where the Trojans went 16-9 overall and 12-2 in the Sun Belt Conference while collecting two league titles. During that span his offense scored 30 or more points 11 times and on eight occasions in his second season, including games against Florida, Georgia and Oklahoma State. In 2007, his squad led the Sun Belt in scoring offense (34.00 ppg) and total offense (452.83 ypg), with a No. 16 national ranking in the latter.

In addition to helping the Trojans to their first Sun Belt Conference title and a victory in the New Orleans Bowl in his first season at Troy, Franklin helped engineer the second-ranked offensive unit in the Sun Belt just one year after the team ranked last in the league in total offense. The Trojans ranked first in the league in passing offense, again one year after ranking last, despite having faced three of the top-20 ranked passing defense teams in the country during the season, and more than doubled their offensive output in conference action to 25.23 points per game.

Franklin spent four seasons on the football staff at Kentucky from 1997-2000 following 16 seasons as a high school football coach. During his tenure at Kentucky, the Wildcats enjoyed unprecedented success on the offensive side of the ball, setting several NCAA, SEC and school records. After coaching running backs for the first three seasons, Franklin was named offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach for the 2000 campaign and led the Wildcats to success as the nation's second-best passing offense as well as the country's 11th-best team in total offense.

Franklin's two-back combinations at Kentucky outgained any two-back combinations in the SEC in total yards from scrimmage for three straight seasons. Quarterbacks Tim Couch, Dusty Bonner and Jared Lorenzen each led the SEC in passing during their time as Kentucky quarterbacks, and Couch was the first player selected in the 1999 NFL Draft. Several other UK players reached their goals of making NFL teams after their experience in the high-powered offense.

Franklin was also named one of the top 10 recruiters in the South during his four years at Kentucky as he helped lead the Wildcats to their first back-to-back bowl appearances in 15 seasons in 1998 and 1999, including their first New Year's Day Bowl game appearance in 47 years against Penn State in the Outback Bowl following the end of the 1998 campaign.

Franklin also spent one season in 2003 as the general manager and head coach of the Lexington Horsemen of the National Indoor Football League, successfully leading the team to a first-round playoff game and a 9-5 regular-season record as an expansion franchise in its inaugural season. The team paced the Atlantic Division in scoring, averaging 53.1 points per game.

In addition to his coaching career, Franklin is the owner of The Tony Franklin Systems that conducts a series of football seminars for coaches emphasizing winning solutions. USA Today took notice of Franklin's football coaching and teaching abilities in a feature story in 2005 which detailed his consulting successes as a nationally sought-after offensive football coach.

Franklin also received rave reviews for his second book, Victor's Victory, which chronicled the tragic death and spectacular life of 15-year-old Hoover High School football player Victor Donte Hill, who died from sudden cardiac arrest on the football practice field during one of Franklin's consulting sessions. The book has helped to continue the mission of Cheryl Hill, Victor's mother, to make teachers, coaches, and parents aware of the need for automatic external defibrillators (AED) in every school and youth organization in Alabama.

Franklin received his bachelor's and master's degrees in education from Murray State in 1979 and 1989, where he was a two-year starter as a running back. He is married to Laura Franklin, and they have three daughters: Chelsea, Caroline and Caitlin.

ASSISTANT COACHES

GARRET CHACHERE

Defensive Ends, 1st Season

Garret Chachere will be in his first season as the defensive ends coach at Cal in 2013 after being hired on January 23, 2013. Chachere has compiled more than two decades of experience coaching at the collegiate level in a variety of roles that has seen him work on both sides of the ball and with special teams, most recently in 2012 as the tight ends coach and special teams coordinator at Southern Miss. Four of the last six teams Chachere has coached have played in bowl games.

Chachere spent the three previous campaigns at Arizona (2009-11), with the Wildcats playing in bowl games each of his first two seasons at the Holiday Bowl and Alamo Bowl, respectively, when he worked with the team's receivers. Arizona was the nation's ninth-ranked passing offense in 2010 (307.69 ypg) with David Douglas catching 52 passes for 515 yards and five touchdowns, while fellow receiver David Roberts contributed 44 catches for 487 yards. Chachere tutored the running backs in his third campaign when the Wildcats had the 16th-ranked team nationally in total offense (465.25 ypg). One of his pupils was Ka'Deem Carey, who in 2012 evolved into a consensus first-team All-American and the nation's top rusher with 1,929 yards (148.38 ypg) after a strong freshman season the previous year under Chachere's tutelage.

Prior to his arrival in Tucson, Chachere spent two seasons as the special teams coordinator at Memphis (2007-08), with the Tigers advancing to play in the New Orleans Bowl in 2007 and the St. Petersburg Bowl in 2008.

In 2008, Chachere helped the Tigers rank 22nd nationally in punt return defense (5.68 ypp), while also being listed among the national leaders in net punting (38th, 36.30 ypg) and kickoff return defense (42nd, 20.01 ypg). Placekicker Matt Reagan was 8-of-11 on field goals and also converted 31-of-32 extra points to lead the Tigers in scoring (55 points) for the second consecutive season. Reagan earned two Conference USA Player of the Week honors.

Memphis returner Michael Grandberry set nearly every school kickoff return record in 2007, including single-game yardage (168 vs. Southern Miss), single-season returns (59), single-season yardage (1,286) and career 100-yard return games (8). He also set the Tigers' all-time records for combined kickoff and punt returns (112) and yardage (2,401).

Chachere spent eight seasons at his alma mater Tulane from 1999-2006, where he coached the Green Wave linebackers throughout his tenure and was also the team's punt return coordinator for his first five seasons. In 2002, the Green Wave defeated host Hawai'i in the Hawaii Bowl.

During his stint at Tulane, Chachere helped develop linebacker Anthony Cannon, who was drafted by the Detroit Lions in the seventh round of the 2006 NFL Draft. Cannon earned first-team All-Conference USA honors in 2005 and logged four straight 100-tackle seasons en route to ranking third all-time in Conference USA in tackles at the end of his collegiate career.

Chachere also recruited current Chicago Bears' running back Matt Forte to Tulane. Forte was drafted in the second round of the 2008 NFL Draft and played in the NFL Pro Bowl following the league's 2011 campaign.

He was a member of the 2005 Tulane coaching staff that endured Hurricane Katrina. Chachere provided leadership throughout the team's Hurricane Katrina evacuation and return to campus facilities.

In 2002, Tulane's defense led the nation in turnovers gained (43) and he was also the punt return coordinator for a group that finished second nationally in punt returns (17.29 ypr). Lynaris Elpheage earned first-team All-Conference USA honors as punt returner, ranking fifth nationally in punt returns with a 16.5 yard average.

Prior to his eight-season run at Tulane, Chachere spent the 1998 campaign at Northeast Louisiana, where he was the tight ends coach and worked on the same staff as current Cal head coach Sonny Dykes.

He was at Nicholls State as the linebackers coach from 1995-97, with the Colonels earning a spot in the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs in 1996 when they posted an 8-4 overall record after being winless the previous season to mark the biggest turnaround in Division I history at the time. One of his top players at the school was Darnell Small, who would go on to play in the Canadian Football League and Arena Football League.

Chachere began his coaching career at Tulane as a student assistant in 1991 before subsequent one-season stops at Cheyney (defensive backs/runningbacks), Bloomsburg (defensive backs) and Bucknell (defensive backs/special teams coordinator) prior to his three-season stint at Nicholls State.

Chachere has been active throughout his coaching career with the American Football Coaches Association. He served as the organization's program committee chairman at the 2007 AFCA National Convention, while providing his expertise on linebacker play by speaking at the 2008 convention and publishing several articles on the subject in the AFCA coaches handbook.

A native of New Orleans, La., Chachere played two seasons of college football in his hometown at Tulane in 1987 and 1988, and was a member of the Green Wave's 1987 Independence Bowl team under then-head coach Mack Brown. He received his bachelor's degree in communication from Tulane in 1992.

Chachere also prepped in New Orleans at Brother Martin High School, where he was his team's MVP and a captain as a senior in 1986. He earned the New Orleans Sports Foundation Leadership Award in his final prep campaign.

Chachere has three sons – Grant, Noah and Jackson – who currently reside in Germantown, Tenn., with their mother, Lauren Duplessis-Chachere.

PIERRE INGRAM

Running Backs, 1st Season

Pierre Ingram is in his first season as the running backs coach at Cal in 2013 after being hired on December 14, 2012. Ingram served in the same role for Cal head coach Sonny Dykes at Louisiana Tech the last three seasons when Dykes' was the Bulldogs' head coach, including in 2012 when Louisiana Tech posted a 9-3 record and led the nation in scoring offense and total offense by averaging 51.50 points and 577.92 yards of total offense per game.

"Pierre Ingram is one of the best young coaches in the nation," Dykes said upon Ingram's hiring. "He is a talented person with a terrific future ahead of him and will be a tremendous asset to our football program. We're thrilled he's joining our staff at Cal."

"This is a great opportunity for me," Ingram said. "I'm thankful that coach Dykes has hired me on his staff at Cal along with some of the other guys from our successful offense at Louisiana Tech. Cal is a program with great tradition, and the coaching staff he's bringing in is going to add to that as well as bring some spark and energy to move forward in the Pac-12."

Ingram, who was named the 2012 Western Athletic Conference Recruiter of the Year by ESPN.com coached running Kenneth Dixon, who was tabbed the WAC Freshman of the Year and earned Freshman All-American honors after breaking Marshall Faulk's NCAA freshman records for rushing touchdowns (27), total touchdowns (28) and points (168). Dixon led the country in scoring with an average of 14.00 points per game while totaling 1,194 yards on 200 carries. He was also second in the WAC and 33rd nationally in rushing with an average of 106.42 yards per game. counseling with a 3.50 GPA, added 740 yards and seven touchdowns on the ground over 142 rushes.

In addition to leading the country in scoring offense and total offense with an offense that posted the fifth-highest per-game scoring average ever by a team in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), Louisiana Tech was among the NCAA's top 20 in 2012 in passing offense (3rd, 350.75 ypg), fewest sacks allowed (7th, 0.83 spg), turnover margin (10th, +1.08 per game) and rushing offense (18th, 227.17 ypg). The Bulldogs scored more than 40 points in 11 of 12 games and over 50 points on eight occasions.

In his second season guiding the Louisiana Tech running backs in 2011, Ingram witnessed an unlikely story unfold as walk-on Hunter Lee, who did not receive a single FBS scholarship offer, stepped up amid injuries and ran for 650 yards on 135 attempts as a true freshman. The ground game churned out 1,901 yards for an offense that averaged 394.62 yards per game as the team won its final seven regular-season contests on its way to a WAC championship and berth in the Poinsettia Bowl.

In his first season at Tech in 2010, Ingram guided Lennon Creer's 1,181-yard rushing campaign that included a 252-yard effort against San Jose State – the seventh-most rushing yards in a single game in Tech history – among five 100-yard rushing performances over his last seven contests. Among those was a 149-yard rushing effort at No. 2 Boise State, more yards than 12 of Boise's 13 opponents recorded against the Broncos as a team during 2010.

Ingram joined the Bulldogs after winning the 2009 Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) national championship at Villanova, where he coached the tight ends as an offensive assistant.

Prior to joining the Villanova staff for the 2009 season, Ingram served as the wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at Texas A&M-Commerce during the spring of 2009. Before his short stint at Texas A&M Commerce, he was the assistant wide receivers coach at Cortland State for two campaigns, where he helped the team to a combined 20-5 mark. The 2007 squad captured the ECAC Division III Northeast Bowl, while the 2008 team reached the NCAA Division III quarterfinal round for the first time in school history. Zacc Guaragno posted 1,053 receiving yards under Ingram in 2008 to become the second wide receiver in school history to record a 1,000-yard receiving season.

Ingram is a 2006 graduate of Middle Tennessee with a bachelor's degree in liberal arts, where he was a four-year letterwinner in football as a wide receiver and garnered the team's Most Dependable Receiver Award in his final season as a senior in 2006 when the Blue Raiders played in the Motor City Bowl. He is currently pursuing a master's of science degree in sport management from Cortland State.

Ingram is married to the former Dani Maye. The couple's daughter, Berkley, was born the night Louisiana Tech defeated San Jose State on October 29, 2011. Ingram paced the sidelines during the game, coaching the backs to 260 yards of rushing offense, and then joined Dani in time for the birth of their daughter.

ROB LIKENS

Assistant Head Coach/Outside Receivers, 1st Season

Rob Likens is in his first season as the assistant head coach/outside receivers coach at Cal in 2013 after being hired on December 11, 2012. Likens served as an assistant head coach and wide receivers coach for Cal head coach Sonny Dykes at Louisiana Tech the last three seasons, including in 2012 when the Bulldogs posted a 9-3 record and led the nation in scoring offense and total offense by averaging 51.50 points and 577.92 yards of total offense per game.

"I have known Rob Likens and admired his coaching abilities for a long time," Dykes said upon Likens' hiring. "When I had the opportunity to hire him three years ago at Louisiana Tech I jumped at the chance, and he was everything that I believed he would be and more. He has great knowledge of the offense we will install at Cal, and I'm ecstatic that he's decided to join our staff."

"I really enjoy working with coach Dykes," Likens said. "I can't wait until everybody around here gets to meet him. We're very like-minded offensively, but we're also like-minded on how to treat people and lead student-athletes."

"There's not a doubt in my mind that coach Dykes is going to be ultra-successful at Cal because he does it the right way," Likens continued. "He makes you want to be not only a better player and a better student, but also a better person. One of the reasons I got into football was the impact you can have on young men. It's fantastic to get to work for a guy who understands the importance of that."

Likens coached 2012 second-team AP All-American and Biletnikoff Award semifinalist Quinton Patton, who was a major contributor to the team's prolific scoring offense and selected by the San Francisco 49ers in the fourth round of the 2013 NFL Draft.

Likens directed one of the most potent wide receiver corps in the country in 2012 led by Patton, who paced the Western Athletic Conference in both per-game receiving yards (116.00 ypg) and receptions (8.67 rpg), while ranking fourth and fifth in the nation, respectively. He finished with totals of 104 catches, 1,392 receiving yards and 13 touchdown catches.

The Bulldogs scored more than 40 points in 11 of 12 games and over 50 points on eight occasions.

Likens coached a group of 2011 receivers that registered 3,229 receiving yards with 21 touchdown catches during a campaign that included a stretch of seven consecutive wins and a WAC championship. Patton, a 2011 Biletnikoff Award Watch List member, finished the year with 1,202 receiving yards and 11 touchdowns in becoming the first Bulldog receiver to reach 1,000 yards receiving since 2000.

In his first year at Tech in 2010, Likens oversaw a receiving corps that helped the Bulldogs improve from a No. 91 national ranking in passing offense in 2009 to No. 62 in 2010 despite a revolving door at quarterback through the first third of the season.

Prior to his three-year stint at Louisiana Tech, Likens served for four seasons as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Central Connecticut State (2006-09) and led the Blue Devils to more wins than in any other four-year period in school history.

CCSU had winning records during each of Likens' four seasons, capped off with a 9-3 mark in 2009 that included a Northeast Conference title and an appearance in the Gridiron Classic, as he coached the ground game to a top 10 national ranking among Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) schools each year.

Under Likens' guidance, the Blue Devils led the conference in scoring offense two times, had three undefeated home records and averaged just under 30 points per game in four seasons (29.1 ppg). Likens coached a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, Walter Payton Award finalists, All-America running backs and NEC Offensive Players of the Year in Justise Hairston and James Mallory.

The Blue Devils averaged 239.18 yards per game on the ground in 2008 to rank seventh in the FCS when the team also paced the Northeast Conference in scoring offense, averaging 30.0 points per game. Mallory rushed for 1,520 yards and earned second-team All-NEC honors, becoming the second player in school history to crack the 1,500 mark in rushing.

In 2007, CCSU led the NEC in both per-game total offense (387.7 ypg) and rushing offense (257.6 ypg), ranking 10th nationally in the latter.

The Blue Devil offense set numerous school records in 2006, including total yards (4,271) and rushing yards (3,150) in a single season. CCSU led the nation in rushing yards per game (284.9 ypg) and finished 10th in total offense (386.8 ypg). As a team, CCSU set a new school mark with 42 rushing touchdowns and scored a school-record 51 touchdowns in 11 games.

Hairston set the school's single-season record and was the nation's leading FCS rusher in 2006 with 1,847 yards. He earned AP All-America, AFCA All-America, Sports Network Mid-Major All-America and NEC Offensive Player of the Year honors that season. Hairston was eighth in the final Walter Payton Award balloting, played in the Hula Bowl and Texas vs. the Nation Game, and was a sixth-round pick of the New England Patriots in the 2007 NFL Draft.

In all, CCSU's offense produced eight team records and six individual and game records under Likens. He coached four-first team All-NEC selections, four second-team All-NEC choices and five NEC Offensive Player of the Week honorees, giving him 13 all-conference picks in his four seasons.

Prior to joining Central Connecticut State, Likens spent two seasons as the offensive coordinator at Southeast Missouri State (2004-05), where he also worked specifically with the team's quarterbacks and wide receivers. He also spent six campaigns at both Temple (1998-2003) as the wide receivers coach and North Alabama (1992-97), where he worked with the running backs for the first season of his tenure and the wide receivers for his final five. At North Alabama, he helped the Lions become the first program in NCAA scholarship football to win three consecutive playoff championships, a feat that has only since been replicated by Appalachian State (2005-07).

Likens played collegiate football as a wide receiver at Mississippi State, earning his bachelor's degree and graduating cum laude in 1990 in math education. He earned his master's degree in match education from North Alabama in 1995.

Likens and his wife, Soni, have a son, Nicolas.

BARRY SACKS

Defensive Tackles, 1st Season

Barry Sacks is in his first season as the defensive tackles coach at Cal in 2013 after being hired on December 21, 2012. Sacks spent the last 11 campaigns on the coaching staff at Nevada, with the Wolf Pack playing in bowl games each of the past eight.

"Barry has been one of the top defensive coaches in the country for a long time," head coach Sonny Dykes said upon Sacks' hiring. "Having strong defensive line play will be crucial to our success on that side of the ball. He has had lots of success and developed several outstanding players throughout his career, and I especially like the familiarity he has with our defensive coordinator Andy Buh from their time together at Nevada."

"It's a dream come true for me to be able to coach at Cal and experience an institution that has such a fabulous name like the University of California," Sacks said. "It's a situation where you can walk into any household and you are a legitimate university right off the get go academically, athletically and historically in the pride and tradition of Cal football."

In 2009, Basped and Moch led the conference in sacks and tackles for loss, respectively. Basped's 9.5 sacks (-60 yards) produced an average of 0.79 per game, while Moch finished with 20.0 tackles for loss (-93 yards) and an average of 1.54 per game that tied for eighth nationally. Basped was also third in the WAC in tackles for loss (1.04 tflpg), while Moch was third in sacks (.50 spg).

The previous season in 2008 Moch led the WAC in sacks (1.15 spg), while Basped was third in tackles for loss (1.42 tflpg) and Moch fourth (1.31 tflpg).

Sacks coached the Pack's outside linebackers in 2007, including team tackles (93) and tackles for loss (13.5, -37 yards) leader Ezra Butler, who also paced the WAC in per-game tackles for loss (1.23 tflpg). Sacks also coached Nick Fuhr, who led the team in sacks (6.0, -58 yards) and tied for second in tackles for loss (11.5, -79 yards), ranking tied sixth in the WAC in both on a

"What we bring as a defensive coaching staff is that defensive coordinator Andy Buh and I have the same vision as to what the Cal defense is going to look like," Sacks said. "Andy and I worked hand-in-hand together and were always on the same page during our time together at Nevada. We enjoy coaching together and are very productive."

The energetic and enthusiastic coach served in a number of roles during his 11 seasons with the Wolf Pack from 2002-12 but was a mainstay on the defensive line in recent seasons as he developed some of the top pass rushers in school history, most notably Dontay Moch and Kevin Basped.

Moch, who set the school and Western Athletic Conference records for career tackles for loss was picked in the third round of the 2011 NFL Draft by Cincinnati.

Basped was signed as an undrafted free agent by the New York Jets in 2010 and has played for the Omaha Nighthawks of the United Football League and Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian Football League.

In Sacks' final season during his 11-year stint at Nevada in 2012, defensive end Brock Hekking ranked third in the WAC with an average of 0.62 sacks per game and posted a total of 8.0 (-62 yards) in his first season as a starter.

Nevada registered a 7-6 record and nearly upset No. 22 Southern Miss in the Hawaii Bowl in 2011, limiting the 15th-ranked scoring offense in the country to 13 points and 125 yards below its season averages. Nevada finished 22nd in the country in pass efficiency defense (115.14) and was led on the defensive side of the ball by first-team Sports Illustrated All-American Brett Roy, a former walk-on defensive back who Sacks coached as a converted defensive tackle. Roy had 18.5 tackles for loss (-57 yards) while pacing the WAC and ranking 12th nationally with 1.42 per game. He also posted 10.0 sacks (-36 yards), ranking second in the WAC and tied for 13th in the country with 0.77 per game. Roy signed an undrafted free agent contract with the New York Jets in 2012 but was later released.

Nevada won the WAC title in 2010, posting a 13-1 overall record and defeating Boston College in the Kraft Fight Hunger Bowl with the defensive unit a huge part of the team's success. The Wolf Pack featured a rushing defense that ranked 18th nationally (120.29 ypg) and a scoring defense that was 31st (21.43 ppg), with both ranking second in the WAC. Much of the team's defensive success came from pressure as the Wolf Pack was 24th nationally in sacks (2.50 spg). Moch had 22.0 tackles for loss (-83 yards), leading the WAC and ranking 10th nationally with an average of 1.57 per game.

per-game basis (0.46 spg, .88 tflpg).

Sacks spent three seasons as Nevada's co-defensive coordinator from 2004-06, helping the Wolf Pack rank 30th in the nation in 2006 in scoring defense (19.15 ppg) and post the country's 21st-ranked passing defense (190.33 ypg) in 2004.

During his first year at Nevada in 2002, Sacks coached tight ends and CoSIDA first-team Academic All-America® and All-WAC pick Erick Streelman. He moved over to the other side of the ball to work with the defensive line in 2003 and helped tutor two All-WAC selections in Jorge Cordova (the team's MVP in 2003 and the school's career sacks leader) and Derek Kennard, Jr. (the team's defensive MVP in 2003).

His collegiate coaching career started with seven seasons as the defensive line coach at Portland State (1986-92), where he coached on five teams that reached the NCAA Division II playoffs. The Vikings were national finalists in back-to-back seasons in 1987 and 1988, while reaching the semifinals in each of Sacks' final two campaigns in 1991 and 1992. They were quarterfinalists in 1989.

He then spent four seasons as the defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Boise State (1993-96), with the Broncos reaching the NCAA I-AA finals, winning the Big Sky Conference and posting a 13-2 overall record in 1994 when he coached Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year Joe O'Brien.

Sacks also spent one campaign as the defensive coordinator at Adams State (1997), three as the defensive line coach at San Jose State (1998-2000) and one as the defensive coordinator for the San Jose Sabercats (2001), where he helped his team to an Arena Football League Division title.

Sacks is also a tireless and effective recruiter who consistently cultivated his area. Among those Sacks recruited in recent years to Nevada were current NFL players Isaiah Frey (Chicago Bears' cornerback), Virgil Green (Denver Broncos' tight end), James Michael-Johnson (Cleveland Browns' linebacker), Colin Kaepernick (San Francisco 49ers' quarterback) and Rishard Matthews (Miami Dolphins' wide receiver).

Sacks has a total of 33 seasons in the coaching profession with 26 in the collegiate ranks.

The Ephrata, Wash., native played four seasons of football at Montana (1976-79) before graduating from the school with a bachelor's degree in health education and physical education in 1980.

Sacks and his wife, Teresa, have two children: Alexandra and Philip.

Stewart also made a habit of developing outstanding players in the secondary throughout his entire 10-year run at Fresno State, led by two-time second-team All-WAC selections Moses Harris (2008, '09) and Lorne Bell (2009, '10). Desia Dunn added second-team All-WAC honors in 2010.

There were also several highlights during Stewart's first seven seasons at Fresno State as the team's defensive backs coach before he became defensive coordinator in 2009.

In 2007, Fresno State's pass defense ranked third in the WAC (226.38 ypg), while its pass defense efficiency was fourth in the WAC and 21st nationally (140.63). His 2006 squad featured a second-team All-WAC selection in Josh Sherley, while fellow defensive back McCauley would go on to be drafted in the third round of the 2007 NFL Draft by the Minnesota Vikings.

Three Fresno State defensive backs were either first or second-team All-WAC picks in 2005, with Culver earning first-team honors to mark the fourth straight season that a Bulldog defensive back was so honored.

McCauley and Marshall were second-team selections when Fresno State's secondary was one of the nation's best in 2004, as the Bulldogs led the WAC and ranked third in the nation in pass efficiency defense (99.12) while allowing just nine touchdown passes all season; the fifth-lowest total in the nation. The 2004 Bulldogs also led the WAC in scoring defense (21.08 ppg), pass defense (174.75 ypg) and total defense (339.25 ypg), with the team's pass defense ranking 13th nationally.

His 2003 squad finished second in the WAC in pass defense (206.43 ypg) and recorded 16 interceptions to rank third in the conference, with Sanders earning first-team All-WAC honors after picking up a second-team selection in 2002.

In his first season with the Bulldogs in 2002, Stewart helped Worrell develop from a walk-on into a first-team All-WAC selection and NFL undrafted free agent who would eventually have a six-year professional football career.

During Stewart's previous five-year stint as the defensive backs coach at Cal from 1997-2001, the Golden Bears led the Pac-10 in 1999 in total defense (352.6 ypg). He also added recruiting coordinator duties for his final two seasons. Stewart guided such players as O'Neal and Smith to first and third-round selections by Denver and Cleveland in the 2000 and 1999 NFL Draft.

Prior to his arrival at Cal, Stewart was the secondary coach for three seasons at UNLV (1994-96) and helped the program to its first bowl berth in 11 years when the Rebels won a share of the 1994 Big West Conference crown and went on to defeat Central Michigan in the Las Vegas Bowl.

Stewart was the defensive backs coach at Nevada for two seasons (1992-93), where he coached two future NFL players in Duckett and Marion. His 1992 squad became the first team to win a conference title (Big West) in its first season as a Division I-A participant (now Football Bowl Subdivision) to earn a spot in the Las Vegas Bowl.

Before his stint at Nevada he spent five seasons at Cal Poly (1987-91), serving as the Mustangs' linebackers and special teams coach for one campaign before working four with the secondary and special teams. The 1990 squad won the Western Conference title and reached the Division II national semifinals.

Stewart earned a bachelor's degree of science in physical education from Boise State in 1982 after joining the coaching ranks at his alma mater in 1980, where he served as an assistant defensive backs coach for the first of his seven campaigns followed by six seasons as the wide receivers coach. The Broncos won the 1980 Division I-AA (now Football College Subdivision) national title in his first season, followed by a semifinal appearance in 1981.

Stewart was a two-year letterwinner at Boise State (1978-79) and led his team in interceptions as a senior while twice earning the Denny Erickson Memorial Award of Valor. Prior to his arrival as a player at Boise State, he was a team captain and earned Most Improved Honors during his second of two seasons at Moorpark Junior College (1976-77).

Stewart and his wife, Pati, have one daughter, Carly, and two sons, Jason and Taylor. The couple also has four granddaughters – Brooke, Chloe, Kaydyn and Kendall – and one grandson, Channing.

Nnamdi Asomugha, Derrick Gardner, Chidi Iwuoma, Deltha O'Neal and Marquis Smith; and Nevada's Forey Duckett and Brock Marion.

"We are fortunate to be able to hire a talented veteran coach such as Randy Stewart with the wealth of experience and success he has had on the collegiate level as well as recruiting in California," head coach Sonny Dykes said upon Stewart's hiring. "He has had several impressive tenures with successful programs and we're sure he will continue that run at Cal."

"I'm unbelievably excited to be back at Cal," Stewart said. "My first time around I loved this place. I see great potential. All of the pieces are in place now. You can recruit wherever you want to in the country. Cal brings a huge brand name. The university gets you in the door with everybody."

"Defensively, I believe with the staff we're putting together we will play hard fast, physical, highly technical and fundamentally sound," Stewart added. "It will give us the chance to win every game with the ultimate goal to get to the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day."

Prior to spending a single season in 2012 at Eastern Michigan coaching the linebackers, Stewart had a successful 10-year run at Fresno State from 2002-11 in which the Bulldogs played in nine bowl games during his tenure. He worked with the defensive backs for the entire decade and added defensive coordinator duties for his final three seasons.

The Fresno State defense had its strongest season during Stewart's three-year stint as defensive coordinator in 2010 when the Bulldogs ranked second in the Western Athletic Conference in pass defense (208.77 ypg), fourth in total defense (367.23 ypg), fourth in rushing defense (158.46 ypg) and fifth in scoring defense (30.00) while holding five opponents to 20 points or fewer. Fresno State was also known for making big plays, ranking second in the WAC and tied for ninth nationally by averaging 2.85 sacks per game with a total of 37.0 (-240 yards).

WAC Defensive Player of the Year Chris Carter (11.0 sacks, -63 yards, 0.85 spg) and first-team All-WAC selection Logan Harrell (10.5 sacks, -79 yards, 0.81 spg) were the top two players in sacks in the conference in 2010, while ranking tied for ninth and tied for 13th in the nation, respectively. The two defensive linemen also ranked tied for second and tied for sixth in the conference in tackles for loss. Carter totaled 16.5 tackles for loss (-93 yards) for an average of 1.27 per game, while Harrell had 14.0 (-84 yards) for an average of 1.08.

In his first game as Fresno State's defensive coordinator in 2009 the Bulldogs pitched a shutout against UC Davis. Fresno State would finish third in the WAC in 2009 in both scoring defense (28.38 ppg) and pass defense (199.62 ypg), ranking 32nd nationally in the latter. Carter was again a featured player and first-team All-WAC choice, ranking fourth in the conference in tackles for loss with an average of 1.00 per game and tied for fifth in sacks at 0.38 per contest. Carter finished with totals of 5.0 sacks (-36 yards) and 13.0 tackles for loss (-51 yards).

Linebacker Ben Jacobs matched Carter's two first-team All-WAC honors (2009-10), while linebacker Travis Brown was the other non-defensive back to pick up a second-team All-WAC selection (2010) during Stewart's tenure in the position.

MARK TOMMERDAHL

Special Teams Coordinator/Inside Receivers, 1st Season

Mark Tommerdahl is in his first season as the special teams coordinator/inside receivers coach at Cal in 2013 after being hired on December 14, 2012. Tommerdahl is a veteran Division I coach with experience at some of the top Division I football programs in the country. He has served on coaching staffs of 13 bowl teams as well as six league champions and two division winners.

"Cal is a program with a really strong long-standing tradition," Tommerdahl said. "It is our intent to revive that tradition and build upon it. The players are going to be excited about what we do and the fans are going to be excited about the results. We are all looking forward to attracting top-notch student-athletes to one of the finest academic institutions in the nation."

Tommerdahl spent the past four seasons at Louisiana Tech, including the last three as the special teams coordinator and inside receivers coach under Dykes after the previous campaign as the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach. During his tenure with the Bulldogs, he tutored a pair of All-Americans in two-time first-team selection punter Ryan Allen (2011, '12) and tight end Dennis Morris (2009), with Allen currently a member of the New England Patriots after signing an undrafted free agent contract with the NFL team following his 2012 collegiate season.

In addition to leading the country in scoring offense and total offense with an offense that posted the fifth-highest per-game scoring average ever by a team in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), Louisiana Tech was among the NCAA's top 20 in 2012 in passing offense (3rd, 350.75 ypg), fewest sacks allowed (7th, 0.83 spg), turnover margin (10th, +1.08 per game) and rushing offense (18th, 227.17 ypg). The Bulldogs scored more than 40 points in 11 of 12 games and over 50 points on eight occasions.

Louisiana Tech also led the nation in 2012 in net punting with a 43.51 average behind the performance of Allen, who became the first back-to-back and second two-time winner of the Ray Guy Award that was first given in 2000. Allen led the nation in punting in 2012 with a school-record 48.04 yards per punt average, punting 45 times for 2,162 yards. He had 21 punts of 50 yards or more, including the nation's longest punt of the season with an 85-yarder at New Mexico State. Allen also pinned opponents inside the 20-yard-line on 20 occasions with only five touchbacks.

Allen's 2012 campaign followed a 2011 season in which he was the only player from a non-BCS school to win a national award after averaging 46.12 yards per punt to rank fifth nationally. The Bulldogs were eighth in the country in net punting (40.12 ypg) and also led the nation in kickoff coverage.

In 2010, Louisiana Tech led the WAC and ranked 10th nationally in punt returns with an average of 13.63 yards per return, while ranking fourth in the conference and 25th nationally in kick returns (23.52 ypg). Most of the Bulldogs' prowess was due to the play of Phillip Livas, who led the WAC and ranked sixth nationally with an average of 15.50 yards per punt return. Livas was also fifth in the WAC and 49th nationally in kick returns with a 24.63 average. Livas played his final two seasons for Tommerdahl during a career in which he tied an NCAA all-time record with a combined eight kick and punt return touchdowns, bringing back four of each for scores.

Morris garnered All-American honors and was named the Tight End Performer of the Year by the College Football Performance Awards in 2009 with 38 catches for 623 yards and 12 receiving touchdowns that were the most nationally among tight ends that season. In addition, his punt return squad led the WAC and ranked 25th nationally (12.33 ypr).

Tommerdahl spent the 2008 season as an assistant head coach, special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Louisiana-Monroe. He developed first-team All-Sun Belt tight end Kenneth Zacharie and also had a kickoff coverage team that led the conference.

For five seasons from 2003-07, Tommerdahl was the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Texas A&M. During his tenure with the Aggies, Tommerdahl helped lead the program to the Cotton Bowl (2004), Holiday Bowl (2006) and Alamo Bowl (2007).

Tommerdahl's special teams units at Texas A&M were also among the nation's best, ranking in the top 25 in the nation in net punting in 2006 (25th, 37.00 nypp) and 2007 (5th, 39.17 nypp), and in kickoff returns in 2003 (10th, 23.90 ypr), 2006 (3rd, 26.08 ypr) and 2007 (20th, 23.54 ypr).

He coached current Chicago Bears' tight end Martellus Bennett, who ended his Texas A&M career as the program's all-time leader at the position in receptions and yards receiving. During the 2005 season at Texas A&M, Tommerdahl coached a pair of freshmen All-Americans in Bennett and punter Justin Brantly.

Tommerdahl spent the 2001 and 2002 seasons at Alabama as the program's special teams coordinator and tight ends coach, helping the Crimson Tide to the 2001 Independence Bowl and 2002 SEC West Division title when the squad finished 11th in the final AP Top 25.

Tommerdahl also served as the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach during stints at TCU (1998-2000), New Mexico (1997) and Minnesota (1995-96), coaching a Lou Groza Award semifinalist at all three schools. He added recruiting coordinator duties at Minnesota.

TCU won a pair of Western Athletic Conference titles in 1999 and 2000 on its way to appearances in the Mobile Alabama Bowl each season. Tommerdahl's special teams groups made significant contributions, with a kickoff return unit that was ranked first nationally both seasons, while his special teams squads led the league in three of four statistical categories each campaign.

In 1997 at New Mexico, four of the Lobos' special teams units were ranked in the top 20 in the country as the team won the WAC Mountain Division title and played in the Insight.com Bowl.

A native of Fergus Falls, Minnesota, Tommerdahl began his collegiate coaching career in 1984 with a two-year stint as a graduate assistant at Wyoming, where he spent 11 seasons serving in numerous capacities also including offensive coordinator, backfield coach, tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator. He helped lead the Cowboys to four bowl appearances and three WAC titles during his tenure.

Tommerdahl earned bachelor's degrees in business and physical education from Concordia College in Minnesota in 1983, and an MBA with an emphasis in marketing from Wyoming in 1986. He is married to the former Annette Jondahl.

Zach Yenser is in his first campaign as the offensive line coach at Cal in 2013 after being hired on January 23, 2013. Yenser spent the last three seasons at Louisiana Tech and was hired as the offensive line coach at Troy following the 2012 campaign before eventually following Dykes out to California.

Last season, Yenser was the assistant offensive line coach for a Louisiana Tech squad that posted a 9-3 record and led the nation in both scoring offense (51.50 ppg) and total offense (577.92 ypg), while ranking third in passing offense (350.75), seventh in fewest sacks allowed (0.83 spg), 10th in turnover margin (+1.08 per game) and 17th in rushing offense (227.17 ypg).

He spent his first two seasons at Louisiana Tech from 2010-11 working with the offensive line as a graduate assistant after having previously been an offensive line consultant under Cal offensive coordinator Tony Franklin at Auburn in 2008 and Middle Tennessee State in 2009. Yenser was also a consultant at Texas Tech prior to the 2012 campaign.

Offensive linemen earned four first-team All-WAC honors during Yenser's three seasons at Louisiana Tech, with Stephen Warner being named to the first team in both 2011 and 2012, Kris Cavitt in 2011 and Jordan Mills in 2012. Oscar Johnson and Kevin Sia added second-team all-conference honors in 2012.

Prior to arriving at Louisiana Tech, Yenser spent the 2009 season as an assistant coach at Colquitt County High School, where he helped guide the Packers to an 11-3 record and an appearance in the Georgia 5-A state semifinals.

He was also an offensive line coach at Henderson State in 2008, where his line allowed only 13.0 sacks in 430 passing attempts for an offense that racked up 13 school records and one All-Gulf South Conference selection.

Yenser began his collegiate coaching career at his alma mater, Troy, where he was the offensive graduate assistant for the 2007 season, working specifically with the offensive line and special teams, and helping the Trojans to a

DAMON HARRINGTON

Football Head Strength and Conditioning Coach, 1st Season

Damon Harrington is in his first season at Cal as the football head strength and conditioning coach in 2013 after being hired on May 15, 2013. Harrington will work directly with the Cal football program on a day-to-day basis and oversee four assistant strength and conditioning coaches in his role.

"I'm excited to welcome Damon to our staff and very comfortable with his ability to make our players stronger, faster and tougher, and make us a better team," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "Damon brings a tremendous amount of experience in training players in a fast-paced program like we have here at Cal, and he will continue to instill the discipline and toughness in our players that are the cornerstones of a successful football program."

Harrington had two stints as the head strength and conditioning coach at his alma mater Louisiana Tech, serving in the role since January of 2006 and also from 2002-03 after spending two previous seasons as an assistant in the Bulldogs' strength and conditioning program (2000-01). He was also the assistant director of player development at Georgia Tech from 2004-05.

"I'm extremely excited to be part of a program the caliber of Cal and look forward to the challenge of competing in the Pac-12," Harrington said. "I am truly humbled and blessed with this opportunity and am committed to helping these players perform at the highest level."

Harrington was instrumental in improving Louisiana Tech's strength and conditioning program, with Bulldog football players breaking 26 strength records (by position) during his final seven years with the school. During the same period, Louisiana Tech had seven fourth-quarter come-from-behind wins.

During his time at Louisiana Tech, Harrington and his staff implemented the Dawg Fight Program, which incorporated ATTITUDE, TEAM, DISCIPLINE, TOUGHNESS and EFFORT. The program was designed to prepare the team's players to be as physically and mentally tough as possible in order to play hard for four quarters and make the plays at the end of games that ultimately lead to victory.

Harrington began his collegiate playing career at Louisiana Tech as a walk-on in 1995 before earning a scholarship his sophomore season. He started every game at linebacker during his final two campaigns with 121 stops in 1998 and 122 in 1999. Harrington earned All-Louisiana honors both seasons, while also being named to the All-Independent team by Football News as a senior in 1999.

Harrington earned his bachelor's degree from Louisiana Tech in fitness and wellness in 2000 and completed his master's degree from the school in sports science in 2002. Harrington holds a certification in strength and conditioning from the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa).

Harrington and his wife, Meg, have one son, Luke, and one daughter, Addie.

BIG GAME HISTORY

On Nov. 23, 2013, California and Stanford will play the 116th Big Game to continue one of the greatest rivalries in college football. The series, which dates back to 1892 is the 10th-longest running series between Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) teams and has featured some of the most memorable finishes in the history of the sport.

Cal enters this year's match-up at Stanford Stadium trailing the all-time series, 58-46-11, but has won seven of the last 11 contests between the teams. Former head coach Jeff Tedford (2002-12) equaled Pappy Waldorf for the most Big Game victories by a Cal coach with a total of seven.

The Cal-Stanford series has been a remarkably close rivalry, with the Big Game having been determined by a touchdown or less 52 times.

The status of the rivalry as one of the truly great sporting spectacles across the country was undoubtedly established in the very first game, when Stanford upset Cal, 14-10, on March 19, 1892, in a contest played on a field at the corner of Haight and Stanyan streets in San Francisco. Stanford manager Herbert C. Hoover, later to become the 31st president of the United States, and his Cal counterpart counted the gate receipts and reported a then-staggering sum of $30,000.

The game continued to grow in popularity with capacity crowds becoming the norm. In 1923, Cal opened Memorial Stadium with a 9-0 win to cap an undefeated season. Stanford and Cal also opened Stanford Stadium in 1921 with the Bears winning, 42-7, en route to the Rose Bowl.

Cal achieved great success in the series under Waldorf, who retired with a 7-1-2 record vs. Stanford from 1947-56. The 1949 game was highlighted by Jim Monachino's 84-yard run – still the longest rush by a Cal player in Big Game history.

Five Big Games have been won on the final play, starting with the 1972 meeting in Berkeley. Cal faced fourth down from the Stanford seven-yardline with three seconds to go. But Vince Ferragamo completed a touchdown pass to a diving Steve Sweeney, giving the Bears a 24-21 win.

Two years later, Stanford's Mike Langford booted a 50-yard field goal as time expired to lift the Cardinal to a 22-20 decision over the Bears.

In 1982, Cal won on a five-lateral, 57-yard kickoff return that will forever be remembered as "The Play." Trailing 20-19, the Bears received Stanford's kick with just four seconds left. Cal proceeded to travel the length of the field and march through the Stanford Band to produce an improbable 25-20 victory.

The Cardinal prevailed in 1990 by scoring nine points in the final 12 seconds. John Hopkins connected on a 37-yard field goal as time ran out for a 27-25 win.

For the 100th renewal of the series, the teams donned uniforms representative of the ones they wore more than a half-century earlier. On the night prior to the Nov. 21, 1997 contest, a gala event dubbed the "Big Auction" raised more than $1 million in scholarship funds for each school.

Finally, in 2000, Cal and Stanford played the first overtime game in the history of the series, with the Cardinal emerging 36-30 winners.

In last year's Big Game at Memorial Stadium, Stanford was a 21-3 winner, increasing its winning streak in the series to three for the first time since enjoying a seven-game winning streak from 1995-2001.

THE AXE

The Stanford Axe, the trophy awarded to the winner of the Big Game every year, actually made its debut on the eve of a baseball game between the rival universities on April 13, 1899. On that afternoon at a pre-game rally, a group of Stanford students introduced the instrument to decapitate a straw man adorned in California blue and gold, much to the delight of the Indian faithful who chanted "Give 'em the axe" while the proceedings continued.

The next day, Stanford rooters taunted their Cal counterparts by cutting pieces of blue and gold ribbon with the Axe and by using it to chop at a designated piece of wood whenever the Indians made a good play.

Cal rallied for an upset over Stanford and the Golden Bear fans were so overcome with emotion that a group of Cal men wrestled The Axe away from the Stanford students and smuggled it across the bay via ferry. The Axe was placed in a safe at a Berkeley bank, to be removed once a year for the Axe Rally.

By 1933, both sides decided that the Axe would make an ideal Big Game trophy. It was mounted on a plaque that lists the scores of each game since 1933.

GAME SUMMARIES 1-2

NEVADA 31, AT CALIFORNIA 24

September 1, 2012 • TV: Pac-12 Networks • Attendance: 63,186

BERKELEY – In the Bears' first game back in the newly-renovated California Memorial Stadium, Nevada quarterback Cody Fajardo engineered the winning drive by throwing a 14-yard pass to Zach Sudfeld and a 19-yarder to Brandon Wimberly that set up Stephon Jefferson's winning score, his third TD of the game, as Nevada topped Cal, 31-24.

Cal quarterback Zach Maynard returned after being benched for the first three series as punishment for missing a tutoring session earlier this summer to throw two touchdown passes for Cal. He also lost a fumble deep in Nevada territory in the fourth quarter as the Bears lost at home to Nevada for the second time in 25 tries and first since 1903.

Keenan Allen answered Jefferson's second touchdown run with an elusive 39-yard score on a reverse to cut the Nevada lead to seven late in the third quarter.

Khalid Wooten fumbled the ensuing kickoff, but Cal had to settle for a field goal by Vincenzo D'Amato that cut the lead to 21-17. Maynard then fumbled at the Nevada 21 at the end of a scramble early in the fourth quarter.

The Bears tied the game later in the fourth on Maynard's 13-yard TD pass to Chris Harper, but could never take the lead.

Maynard led the Bears to a score on his third drive in the game, connecting on a 37-yard TD pass to freshman Bryce Treggs. Harper and Treggs became the first two Cal true freshman to both score in their first game at Cal since Marshawn Lynch and Justin Forsett in 2004.

BERKELEY – California cornerback Marc Anthony scored on a 61-yard interception return in the fourth quarter and the Golden Bears beat Southern Utah, 50-31.

Keenan Allen had two touchdowns, one on a 69-yard punt return, to help the Bears notch their first victory at newly renovated Memorial Stadium.

Cal had 518 yards of offense, and in the fourth quarter, forced two turnovers and scored 30 points.

C.J. Anderson and Isi Sofele both added short touchdown runs, and Daniel Lasco scored on a 77-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Anderson's 7-yard touchdown run capped a 94-yard drive for the Bears. Sofele scored on a 12-yard run and D'Amato added a pair of field goals to give Cal a 20-3 lead in the second quarter.

Allen, who caught a 19-yard touchdown from quarterback Zach Maynard on the first play of the fourth quarter, made it 44-17 with a long punt return. Allen fumbled the ball, but recovered it and then broke free down the right sideline on his way into the endzone.

Cal scored on four consecutive possessions in the second quarter to go in front.

GAME SUMMARIES 3-4

AT #12 OHIO STATE 35, CALIFORNIA 28

September 15, 2012 • TV: ABC • Attendance: 105,232

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Braxton Miller lofted a 72-yard touchdown pass to Devin Smith with 3:26 left and Christian Bryant snuffed out the Golden Bears' last chance with an interception as 12th-ranked Ohio State edged the Golden Bears, 35-28, at Ohio Stadium.

Cal amassed 512 yards of offense (second-straight week the Bears went over 500 yards of total offense), including 331 yards to 173 for Ohio State in the second half alone.

Ohio State built a 20-7 lead at half, but the Cal defense held the Buckeyes to just 25 yards and no first downs on 14 plays in the third quarter.

Brendan Bigelow raced 81 yards on his first carry of the game – the longest run ever by an opposing back in 90-year-old Ohio Stadium and the longest by a Cal player since Jahvid Best's 93-yard touchdown run at UCLA in 2009. Maynard then kept on a one-yard sneak to give Cal a 21-20 lead early in the fourth quarter.

Just two plays after Ohio State took a 28-21 lead, Bigelow, who finished with career-best 160 yards on only four carries, burst through the Ohio State defense for a 16-yard run and then topped that on the next play with a 59-yarder to tie the game at 28.

Miller then promptly threw an interception directly to Cal defensive back Steve Williams.

The Bears patiently drove to the Ohio State 25, where the drive stalled.

Now down by seven after OSU's 72-yard score, the Bears still had a shot to tie, but Maynard overthrew a receiver with 1:09 left and Bryant picked it off.

AT #13/12 USC 27, CALIFORNIA 9

September 22, 2012 • TV: Pac-12 Networks • Attendance: 83,421

LOS ANGELES – Matt Barkley passed for 192 yards and threw two touchdown passes to Marqise Lee, and No. 13 USC notched a 27-9 victory over Cal.

Keenan Allen had nine catches for 93 yards for the Bears, who managed just 250 total yards and couldn't get into the Coliseum end zone.

Cal's defense could feel good about shutting down All-America receiver Robert Woods and managing two interceptions against Barkley, who couldn't beat the Bears on any long downfield throws. Marc Anthony collected a career-best 13 tackles on the day.

Vincenzo D'Amato shook off last week's struggles at Ohio State to hit three field goals for Cal.

USC appeared to be in position to take control after Lee's TD catch capped a sharp drive early in the second quarter, but Barkley threw his second interception on a tipped pass deep in Cal territory shortly before halftime. The Trojans added a late field goal for a 17-3 lead.

Cal pulled within 17-9 midway through the third quarter, and McNeal's fumble led to a drive deep into USC territory – but Cal burned two timeouts on the drive before T.J. McDonald picked off Maynard's throw at the 7. After Andre Heidari made his second field goal and the USC defense forced another three-and-out, the Trojans embarked on their clock-consuming drive.

ARIZONA STATE 27, AT CALIFORNIA 17

September 29, 2012 • TV: FX • Attendance: 51,634

BERKELEY – Taylor Kelly threw three touchdown passes to help Arizona State beat California, 27-17.

Zach Maynard finished 9-for-28 for 126 yards with a touchdown. Isi Sofele rushed for 105 yards and scored his second touchdown of the season. He also reached 2,000 career rushing yards. Cal's standout wide receiver Keenan Allen hauled in four catches for 79 yards and a touchdown, including a 44-yard reception.

Cal's first quarter touchdown took only 1:01 off the clock and covered 76 yards in three plays, starting with a 44-yard pass from Maynard to Allen. After an 8-yard pass play to Bryce Treggs, Sofele scampered 24 yards to tie the game at 7-7.

The Sun Devils settled for field goal attempts on five drives deep into Cal territory. Alex Garoutte converted on only two of them, including having a 37-yarder blocked by Nick Forbes early in the fourth to keep the lead at 20-10.

Cal responded with an 80-yard scoring drive that featured a then-career-best 44-yard run by C.J. Anderson and a 10-yard TD pass from Maynard to Allen, to make it 20-17.

Kelly coolly led Arizona State on 74-yard drive, completing 4-of-5 passes for 45 yards, capped by a 22-yarder to Ozier to make it 27-17 with 6:17 to play.

CALIFORNIA 31, AT WASHINGTON STATE 17

October 13, 2012 • TV: Pac-12 Networks • Attendance: 27,339

PULLMAN, Wash. – Quarterback Zach Maynard threw for a touchdown and ran for another as Cal beat Washington State 31-17.

C.J. Anderson rushed for two touchdowns as the Golden Bears earned their eighth straight win over the Cougars.

Cal got a balanced ground attack from Anderson, Brendan Bigelow and Maynard, who each rushed for more than 50 yards. As a team, Cal rushed for over 300 yards (318) for the first time since 2010 and produced over 500 yards of total offense (507) for the third time this season.

The Bears scored first, after Michael Lowe's interception gave Cal the ball on its own 25. On the third play, Maynard connected with his brother, Keenan Allen, on a short pass that turned into a 69-yard touchdown reception and a 7-0 Bears lead late in the first quarter.

Following a WSU field goal, Cal responded with a 75-yard drive, and Anderson ran in from the 4 to give the Bears a 14-3 lead that they held at the end of the first half.

Cal marched 71 yards on the opening drive of the second half, with Maynard running in from the 1-yard line for a 21-3 lead.

Washington State came back with a 75-yard drive, with Jeff Tuel passing 8 yards to Brett Bartolone for a touchdown to narrow Cal's lead to 21-10 with 6:42 left in the third.

Vincenzo D'Amato hit a 52-yard field goal to lift Cal to a 24-10 lead with 2:02 left in the third.

Anderson added a 29-yard touchdown run for a 31-10 lead.

Cal's Steve Williams hauled in his sixth career interception.

#20/22/23 STANFORD 21, AT CALIFORNIA 3

October 20, 2012 • TV: FOX • Attendance: 61,024

BERKELEY – No. 22 Stanford outgained the Bears 475 to 217 yards, outrushed them 252 to 3 yards and beat Cal, 21-3.

Zach Maynard was sacked four times, the Bears fumbled three times - losing two of them - and had another interception by Josh Nunes wiped out by a penalty.

Scrambling for yards on the game's opening possession, Nunes fumbled and Deandre Coleman recovered at the Cal 47. On the ensuing drive, Chase Thomas jarred the ball loose from Maynard on third down and forced the Bears to punt.

On the next drive, Stepfan Taylor shook two defenders at the line of scrimmage, cut outside and sliced back up the middle for a 7-yard touchdown run to give Stanford a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Zach Ertz broke free for a short catch and ran 68 yards down the sideline. Fellow tight end Levine Toilolo followed with a 9-yard touchdown pass from backup Kevin Hogan to put the Cardinal ahead 14-3 on the first throw of his career.

The Bears lost 2 yards on three plays - all runs - after Keenan Allen returned a punt 29 yards and Brendan Bigelow took a short slant for a 31-yard gain to Stanford's 2. They settled for a 21-yard field goal by Vincenzo D'Amato.

Nunes then found Ertz for a 20-yard touchdown pass to give Stanford a 21-3 halftime lead.

Marc Anthony stepped in front of a pass by Nunes for an interception on the following possession and returned it to the Cal 10. But the Bears' best drive of the game then ended when Wayne Lyons tip-toed the sideline to intercept Maynard's pass at the Stanford 3.

Maynard completed 19 of 31 passes for 214 yards - most with the game already decided.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah – Utah's defense forced three turnovers in a 49-27 victory over California. Keenan Allen hauled in five catches to become Cal's all-time career receptions leader.

The Utes led 28-6 at halftime after a 5-yard TD run by freshman quarterback Travis Wilson.

Utah intercepted Zach Maynard once and sacked him four times. Allen surpassed Geoff McArthur (202, 2000-04) to become Cal's all-time receptions leader with 205 career catches.

Cal outgained Utah, 441-344, but turnovers and penalties hurt the Bears, who scored a pair of late touchdowns.

Utah allowed Cal to average over 10 yards on its first four plays.

D'Amato added a 38-yard field goal - his ninth straight - in the second quarter. Cal finished with 153 yards rushing, but a huge chunk came on Brendan Bigelow's 57-yard TD on the final play of the third quarter, when the Bears trailed 42-6.

Maynard finished 20 of 32 for 288 yards with two TDs and an interception. Allen, meanwhile, needed just three catches to become Cal's all-time receptions leader, but he didn't catch his first pass until 10:52 remained in the third quarter. Allen tied the all-time mark of 202 catches with 4:26 left in the third on a 15-yard reception. He broke the record on an 11-yard catch with 12:43 remaining, and added a 23-yard TD reception on the next play with 12:17 to go.

WASHINGTON 21, AT CALIFORNIA 13

November 2, 2012 • TV: ESPN2 • Attendance: 42,226

BERKELEY – Bishop Sankey ran for 189 yards and two touchdowns to give Washington a 21-13 win over California.

Cal's running back also reached a new personal best as C.J. Anderson rushed for 160 yards on 22 carries, including a 64-yarder.

Cal played the game without injured star receiver Keenan Allen and then lost starting quarterback Zach Maynard to a left knee injury late in the fourth quarter.

Backup Allan Bridgford drove the Bears to the Washington 25 with just over a minute left but he missed Anderson down the sideline on fourth-and-5 to end Cal's hopes.

Each team had four turnovers in a sloppy game, including three lost fumbles in a span of six plays early in the fourth quarter. The four turnovers by the Cal defense gave the Bears 15 in the previous five games.

Cal settled for field goals twice in the third quarter after driving deep into Washington territory, which proved costly when Seferian-Jenkins made a leaping grab over Steve Williams for a 29-yard score on third-and-goal to give the Huskies a 14-13 lead in the final minute of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Maynard overthrew an open Chris Harper in the end zone and D'Amato missed wide right from 41 yards, ending a streak of 11 straight makes.

Cal's lone touchdown came late in the second quarter on Harper's 14-yard reverse. Harper finished with a career-high 101 yard receiving on a career-high-tying seven catches, including a career-long 36-yard reception.

#3/2/2 OREGON 59, AT CALIFORNIA 17

November 10, 2012 • TV: ESPN • Attendance: 57,672

BERKELEY – Marcus Mariota threw for 377 yards and tie a school record with six touchdown passes as No. 2 Oregon beat California, 59-17.

Cal held Kenjon Barner to 65 yards on 20 carries.

Mariota helped the Ducks break the game open in the second half with four TD passes, including his second and third of the game to Josh Huff.

The biggest moment came midway through the third quarter after the Bears cut Oregon's lead to 24-17 and got a stop on defense to fire up the crowd.

Isi Sofele, who rushed for a season-best 134 yards and a touchdown, had been gashing Oregon's defense in the second half and started this drive with a 14-yard run. But Allan Bridgford was intercepted by Boseko Lokombo on a screen pass under heavy pressure from Arik Armstead.

Mariota found Huff on a 35-yard touchdown pass on the next play to make it 31-17 and the Ducks rolled from there.

Bridgford finished 9 for 21 for 113 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions. His touchdown pass, the first of his career, was caught by Darius Powe. The touchdown reception was also the first at Cal for Powe.

BOWL HISTORY

ROSE BOWL

JANUARY 1, 1921

CALIFORNIA	28
OHIO STATE	0

College football may never again witness the sheer dominance displayed by California's legendary "Wonder Teams" of the 1920s, and the 1920 football team, in particular, will forever be remembered as one of the sport's all-time great teams. Under the genius of coach

Andy Smith, the Golden Bears completely dismantled opponents en route to an 8-0 record and made their first appearance in the Rose Bowl. Despite their record and having outscored opponents by a total margin of 482-14, the Bears entered the contest as an underdog. Possibly because some Easterners had not yet developed much respect for student-athletes on the West Coast, a respected Ohio State team was predicted to beat Cal by six points.

The Bears wasted little time in refuting such predictions, as Pesky Sprott scored a touchdown early in the first quarter to give California a 7-0 lead. Smith's team was able to score two more touchdowns in the second quarter while a ferocious Bear defense held Ohio State scoreless for a 21-0 halftime lead. One of the scores came on a piece of Wonder Team trickery, as Sprott pitched the ball to end Brick Muller on a reverse who heaved the ball over 50 yards to Brodie Stephens for the touchdown. That play helped Cal break the game open and is thought of as one of the most famous plays in the history of the Rose Bowl. The Bears subsequently earned the unofficial national title.

GEORGIA TECH	8
CALIFORNIA	7

The Rose Bowl of 1929 will be remembered forever as one of the most amazing and most talked about games played in the history of collegiate football. California faced an undefeated Georgia Tech squad in a very closely contested battle that was made most memorable thanks to a single play by California's Roy Riegels. After a scoreless first quarter, the Bears threatened by moving the ball to Georgia Tech's 25-yard-line. They were unable to get any farther, however, and possession was lost on downs. The next play became one of the most famous (or infamous) of all time. Riegels, California's All-American center, placed his name in the game's lore when Georgia Tech's Stumpy Thomason was hit by the Bears' Benny Lom at the Georgia Tech 30. Riegels scooped up the fumble and started in the right direction, but suddenly he spun around and headed the wrong way. Riegels had reached the Cal one-yard-line before Lom was able to spin him back around, only to be tackled by Georgia Tech. The play led to a safety when the Engineers blocked Lom's subsequent punt.

Georgia Tech had a 2-0 lead at halftime, then scored again in the third quarter for an 8-0 lead going into the fourth quarter. The Bears finally scored late in the fourth quarter when Lom passed to Irv Phillips in the end zone.

WASHINGTON & JEFFERSON	0

California's Wonder Team of 1921 defeated every opponent they faced in the regular season, scoring a total of 167 points against conference opponents while only allowing 10. California took a 9-0 record into its second straight Rose Bowl, and although the Bears were predicted to record an easy victory, steady rains had reduced the field to a quagmire, and coach Andy Smith predicted a 0-0 tie. The Bears were fortunate to escape with that, as they only gained 49 yards in total offense and had two first downs while Washington and Jefferson had a 36-yard touchdown run called back on an offside penalty. The Bears original strategy to use a wide-open passing attack was impossible given the condition of the field, and they instead had to rely entirely on power. The results were almost disastrous for the Bears, but Archie Nisbet averaged 39.7 yards on 13 punts and deserved much credit for keeping the Presidents from the end zone.

Washington and Jefferson had a distinct advantage in maturity as most of the men on its team were older than the average college player, and California originally objected to having to play a team from a school whose scholarship requirements were far below that of California. The relatively unknown school representing the East was able to keep the Bears from scoring in the swamp-like condition of the field and put an end to California's winning streak at 18 games.

ALABAMA	0

California returned to the Rose Bowl with the "Thunder Team" of 1937. With a devastating offensive backfield and a rock-solid defense, the Golden Bears trampled their opponents in the regular season, posting a 9-0-1 record and scoring a total of 201 points while allowing only 33. The Bears, under coach Stub Allison, recorded six shutouts against opponents and utilized a punishing ground game which not only earned the team the nickname "The Thunder Team" but landed the undefeated squad a berth in the Rose Bowl.

In the Rose Bowl of 1938, the Bears recorded an impressive victory over Alabama, 13-0. California relied on its brilliant backfield of Vic Bottari and Sam Chapman to pave the way on offense. And on defense, the Bears rendered the Crimson Tide offense ineffective, holding Alabama scoreless. Following a fumble recovery by Perry Schwartz in the second quarter, the Bears marched 61 yards and scored on a four-yard run by Bottari. The only other score came early in the third quarter, when Bottari added a second touchdown on another four-yard run, making the final margin 13-0. California had completed an undefeated season for the first time since the Wonder Teams of the 1920s, and was rewarded with its most recent national championship.

NORTHWESTERN	20
CALIFORNIA	14

Pappy Waldorf will always be remembered as one of the greatest coaches ever at California, and his 1948 team was the first of three consecutive squads he would lead to the Rose Bowl. The Bears of 1948 crushed their opponents en route to an undefeated 10-win regular season and a berth in the Rose Bowl of 1949. The Bears scored nearly three times as many total points as they allowed, and proved themselves as the top team on the West Coast.

The Rose Bowl of 1949 was billed as a battle of wits, as it pitted Pappy Waldorf against one of his former players, Northwestern coach Bob Voights. It proved to be an outstanding game, as the Bears matched the running of Jackie Jensen and Jack Swanner against Frank Aschenbrenner, Ed Tunnickliff and Art Murakowski of Northwestern. Aschenbrenner opened the scoring with a 73-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, but Jensen returned the favor with a 67-yard scoring run of his own on the next series. The game may have been decided on a controversial touchdown in the second quarter, when Murakowski scored from one yard out as he fumbled into the end zone. With Jensen sidelined by leg cramps, the Bears took the lead, 14-13, in the third quarter on a run by Swanner. Northwestern came back, however, to score the winning touchdown on a 43-yard run by Tunnickliff with 2:59 left in the game. Although the Bears lost the game, the final Associated Press Poll still ranked California fourth in the nation.

OHIO STATE	17
CALIFORNIA	14

The Golden Bears entered the 1950 Rose Bowl with a perfect 10-0 regular season record and what many considered to be the West Coast's finest post-World War II team. Under coach Pappy Waldorf, the 1949 Bears were an even more dominant team than the previous year's Rose Bowl team. Cal scored an average of over 30 points per contest while only allowing slightly over 11 points per game in the regular season.

The Bears had built a 7-0 halftime lead on a seven-yard run by Jim Monachino, but Ohio State scored 14 unanswered points to open a 14-7 lead at the end of the third quarter. Monachino stunned the Buckeyes early in the final period when his 44-yard touchdown run tied the score at 14-14, but the Bears were to be denied once again. A bad punt by Bob Celeri gave Ohio State the ball deep in California territory late in the game and Ohio State's Jim Hague kicked a 17-yard game-winning field goal with 1:57 left in the contest. The Bears had managed to lose two consecutive Rose Bowls, but if it was any consolation, the final Associated Press Poll ranked the Golden Bears third in the country.

Pappy Waldorf took his Golden Bears team of 1950 to a third consecutive Rose Bowl. Again the Bears entered the Rose Bowl as an undefeated team that had laid waste to the Pacific Coast Conference. And once again California's string of hard luck Rose Bowl defeats continued. The Bears appeared ready to give coach Waldorf his first post-season victory, as they entered the game with a 9-0-1 record, having outscored opponents 218-76 during the regular season.

On the third play of the game, Pete Schabarum exploded on a 73-yard touchdown run that was wiped out because of a penalty. The Bears went ahead 6-0 in the second quarter on a 39-yard touchdown pass from Jim Marinos to Bob Cummings, and it looked as if the Bears might get that elusive Rose Bowl victory. After halftime, however, the Wolverines dominated the action and with only 5:37 left in the game, Michigan took its first lead. Moments later they added a second touchdown to secure a 14-6 win.

Although Pappy was never able to lead California to a Rose Bowl victory, the Golden Bears compiled a 53-9-1 record under coach Waldorf from 1947-52. Even after the Bears lost to Michigan in 1951, California was ranked as high as the fourth best team in the nation in the final polls (No. 4 UPI, No. 5 AP), making it three straight seasons that the Bears had finished among the top five teams in the country.

IOWA	38
CALIFORNIA	12

California's last Rose Bowl appearance was one that many Old Blues would like to forget. Behind quarterback Joe Kapp and halfback Jack Hart, the Bears defeated both USC and UCLA en route to a 7-3 regular season record and the Pacific Coast Conference title. Cal was the premier team on the West Coast and on January 1, 1959, the Bears faced Iowa in the Rose Bowl.

Cal wasn't given much of a chance of upending Iowa and that played out true to form as the Hawkeyes recorded a convincing 38-12 victory. The Bears could do little to stop Iowa's powerful rushing game, as the Hawkeyes broke the Rose Bowl record for rushing yardage (429) and total offense (516). Iowa's Bob Jeter erased another Rose Bowl record with an 81-yard touchdown run and finished with 194 yards on only nine carries. Iowa had a commanding 20-0 halftime lead, then increased it to 32-6 after three quarters. Hart was able to score a pair of second half TDs on two runs, but it was hardly enough to turn the tide.

GARDEN STATE BOWL

DECEMBER 15, 1979

TEMPLE	28
CALIFORNIA	17

California returned to post-season play for the first time in 20 years at the 1979 Garden State Bowl. Behind quarterback Rich Campbell, Cal featured a good offense and a solid defense that only yielded 15 points per contest in the regular season. The Bears won their first two and last two games of the year, all on the road, including impressive victories over Washington State and Stanford to bring home the Axe.

Facing Temple in the Garden State Bowl was no easy task for the Bears, as California failed to answer the Owls' rushing attack and suffered a 28-17 defeat. The Owls took control of the game early, scoring on their first three possessions to open a 21-0 first quarter lead. Campbell put the Bears back in the game on a pair of second quarter touchdown passes to Matt Bouza and Joe Rose. The score remained 21-14 Temple until the fourth quarter when Mick Luckhurst's 34-yard field goal pulled California within four at 21-17. That was as close as the Bears were able to come, however, as Temple scored another touchdown late in the game to secure the win.

COPPER BOWL

DECEMBER 31, 1990

CALIFORNIA	17
WYOMING	15

The 1990 Golden Bears surprised the college football world by refuting predictions that they would be a last place team, capturing a 6-4-1 record and finishing in the top half of the conference for the first time since 1979. Perhaps most memorable in the regular season, California put an end to "The Streak" by beating UCLA at Memorial Stadium and making a late rally to tie USC in Los Angeles. Under coach Bruce Snyder, the Bears awakened from their hibernation of the 1980s and were hungry for their first bowl victory in more than half a century.

The Bears offense, which was very potent during the regular season, had its poorest showing of the season, netting only 261 total yards. Fortunately, California's defense rose to the occasion to yield a season-low 15 points. Quarterback Mike Pawlawski fired a 25-yard touchdown pass to Brian Treggs in the second quarter to give the Bears a lead they would never relinquish. Robbie Keen nailed a 46-yard field goal in the third quarter, and fullback Greg Zomalt bulled into the end zone from four yards out early in the fourth as the Bears built a 17-9 advantage. In the final minutes of the game, the Bears had to hold off a Cowboy rally that included a 70-yard punt return for a touchdown. However, California stuffed the two-point conversion attempt to seal the victory.

CITRUS BOWL

JANUARY 1, 1992

CALIFORNIA	37
CLEMSON	13

Led by Mike Pawlawski and Russell White, the Golden Bears put more points on the board than any California squad since the Wonder Team of 1920. The Bears brought a 9-2 record into their first Jan. 1 bowl game in 33 years, capping a season in which they scored a modern-day record 86 points against Pacific, won dramatic come-from-behind games at Arizona and UCLA, and scored more points than any team in history against USC, a 52-30 whipping at Memorial Stadium.

California faced a very tough Clemson squad that had one of the strongest defenses in college football. The Bears, however, exploding for 17 first quarter points to leap to open a comfortable lead before the Tigers knew what hit them. Among the first quarter highlights was a 72-yard punt return for a touchdown by Brian Treggs that just about crushed any hope Clemson had of a comeback victory, as a ferocious Bear defense kept the Tigers at bay for the rest of the afternoon. White rushed for a 103 yards on 22 carries against a run defense that had not allowed a 100-yard runner in nearly four years, and the Golden Bears proved to a national television audience that they were indeed one of the elite Top 10 teams in the nation.

ALAMO BOWL

IOWA	3

Riding a roller coaster of a regular season that began with five straight wins only to be followed by four consecutive losses and then three more victories, California received a bid to the inaugural Alamo Bowl in San Antonio, Texas. The Bears scored on four of their first five possessions and completely shut down the Iowa offensive attack, limiting the Hawkeyes to just 90 yards of total offense in the 37-3 victory.

After three Doug Brien field goals gave Cal a 9-0 lead 20 minutes into the contest, quarterback Dave Barr hit Mike Caldwell for a six-yard score. Linebacker Jerrott Willard followed by picking off a pass and rumbling 61 yards for the touchdown as time ran out in the first half to give Cal a 23-0 margin heading to the locker room. Barr, who passed for two more scores in the second half to Iheanyi Uwaezuoke and Brian Remington, finished the game 21-of-28 for 266 yards, while Lindsey Chapman led the rushing attack with 89 yards. As a team, the Bears ended the contest with an impressive time of possession advantage of 43:14 to 16:46. The victory lifted Cal into the final national polls (No. 24 Coaches/No. 25 AP).

ALOHA BOWL

NAVY	42
CALIFORNIA	38

In a game that followed a pattern established throughout the season, Cal provided plenty of offensive fireworks, but couldn't hold on in a 42-38 loss to Navy at the Aloha Bowl. Cal seemed to have the game well in hand with a 10-point lead late in the contest, but Navy rallied for a pair of touchdowns in the final eight minutes.

The game got off to a bang when Cal's Deltha O'Neal returned the opening kickoff 100 yards for a score. Then the Bears settled into their offense, seeming to score at will in the first half, putting together drives of 81, 73, 35 and 61 yards en route to taking a 35-28 halftime lead. Quarterback Pat Barnes threw for three scores, two to wideout Bobby Shaw and one to tight end Sean Bullard, and O'Neal added a 31-yard TD scamper.

However, Cal could manage only a 41-yard Ryan Longwell field goal in the second half, before Navy put on its late rush that culminated on a 10-yard game-winning TD run by backup QB Ben Fay with 1:41 left in the contest.

VIRGINIA TECH	49

After 98 points and 1,081 yards of offense, the Insight Bowl came down to a 35-yard field goal try, and Tyler Fredrickson made the final kick of his Cal career as time expired to give the Bears a 52-49 victory over Virginia Tech.

Cal's Aaron Rodgers flirted with 400 yards passing in an aerial duel that saw both teams rally from 14-point deficits. Rodgers was 27-of-35 passing for 394 yards and two TDs. He also ran for two scores and was named the game's offensive MVP.

Chase Lyman, starting in place of injured wide receiver Geoff McArthur, caught five passes for a Cal bowl-record 149 yards, including a 33-yarder from Rodgers for a touchdown.

Rodgers, who was 15-for-17 for 245 yards in the second half, scored on an eight-yard option play to put Cal ahead 42-28 with 48 seconds left in the third quarter. Virginia Tech came back as DeAngelo Hall reversed his field for a 52-yard punt return TD that tied the game at 49-49 with 3:11 remaining.

The winning drive came after Virginia Tech's subsequent kickoff went out of bounds, giving Cal the ball on the 35. Rodgers completed three passes to the Hokie 20-yard line, and a five-yard run by J.J. Arrington set up Fredrickson's winning field goal on the game's final play.

TEXAS TECH	45
CALIFORNIA	31

Perhaps pining for a Rose Bowl bid that was snatched away by voters in the final week, Cal came up against the vaunted Texas Tech aerial attack led by Sonny Cumbie and fell, 45-31, in the Pacific Life Holiday Bowl. Cumbie threw for a career-high 520 yards and three touchdowns, as 21st-ranked Texas Tech upended the Golden Bears.

Cal's J.J. Arrington became just the third running back in Pac-10 history and the first for California to rush for 2,000 yards in a season when he reached the milestone against the Red Raiders. The senior carried 25 times for 173 yards against Tech to finish the year with a school-record 2,018 yards. His two-yard run in the first quarter was his 15th rushing touchdown of the year, breaking Cal's season record that has later been tied by Justin Forsett (2007) and Jahvid Best (2008).

Tech had four scoring drives that took under two minutes each. Trailing 14-7 after the first quarter, the Red Raiders scored 24 straight points and held a commanding 31-14 lead by early in the third quarter.

Cal quarterback Aaron Rodgers threw an 11-yard TD pass to Garrett Cross and scored on a 1-yard sneak, both in the final quarter.

Marshawn Lynch rushed for career highs of 194 yards and three touchdowns to win the game's MVP award, and DeSean Jackson caught two scoring passes before Cal's defense held off BYU for a 35-28 victory.

Junior Steve Levy passed for 228 yards in his second career start for the Bears, who held off BYU's fourth-quarter comeback in a high-octane game that featured 915 total yards.

Cal took a 35-14 lead into the final quarter after Lynch's 35-yard scoring run and Jackson's exceptional 22-yard diving TD catch in the third. But BYU quarterback John Beck responded with scoring passes to Jonny Harline and Todd Watkins, whose nine-yard grab with 5:35 left cut Cal's lead to the final seven-point margin.

The Bears missed a 50-yard field goal with 2:20 to play in the fourth, but the Cougars moved just seven yards before Beck's arm was hit by Cal lineman Phillip Mbakogu on the ensuing series. Daymeion Hughes intercepted the wobbling pass to seal the victory.

The Bears' stars were the difference. Jackson scored on a 42-yard romp through the BYU secondary three seconds before halftime, while Lynch had scoring runs of 3, 23 and 35 yards along with a handful of jaw-dropping second-effort rushes. His 194 yards rushing and three touchdowns on the ground also were Cal bowl records.

TEXAS A&M	10

California posted its largest margin of victory in its bowl history with a 45-10 win over Texas A&M.

In his final game in a Golden Bear uniform, Marshawn Lynch rushed for 111 yards and two touchdowns to earn the game's co-offensive MVP honors. Justin Forsett was the game's leading rusher with 124 yards, and also found the end zone in the fourth quarter on an eight-yard dash.

Quarterback Nate Longshore completed 19-of-24 passes for 235 yards and a touchdown, en route to co-offensive MVP honors. Longshore also scored a touchdown on the ground in the first quarter to even the score at 7-7.

Not to be overshadowed by the offense, linebacker Desmond Bishop recorded a game-high 12 tackles to earn the game's Defensive MVP honors.

The Cal defensive unit was spectacular, allowing just 10 points, including a shutout in the second half. San Diego native Mickey Pimentel recorded seven tackles, while Eddie Young intercepted a pass (his first career INT) in the fourth quarter to highlight the other defensive notables.

ARMED FORCES BOWL

AIR FORCE	36

California scored its largest comeback victory in a bowl game with a 42-36 win over Air Force.

The Falcons' crisp option offense kept the Golden Bears guessing through the first 20 minutes as Air Force scored on two drives, then pushed in another seven points after a Bear miscue on a kickoff.

However, with Cal backup quarterback Kevin Riley stepping in under center, the Cal offense came to life. The freshman signal-caller connected with DeSean Jackson for a 40-yard score and found fellow standout receivers Lavelle Hawkins and Robert Jordan for touchdowns to pull the Bears within three, 24-21, midway through the third quarter.

Cal ran a relentless ground attack behind tailback Justin Forsett, who scored a pair of TDs before Riley put the game away with a nifty option run for a 42-30 advantage.

Riley earned MVP honors by connecting on 16-of-19 passes for 269 yards and three TDs. Forsett tallied 140 yards rushing and Thomas DeCoud paced the defense with 10 tackles. Jordan caught six catches for 148 yards.

MIAMI, FLA.	17
CALIFORNIA	24

California played its first bowl game ever in the Bay Area and made its hometown fans happy with a 24-17 victory over Miami, Fla.

Cal jumped out to an early 14-0 first quarter lead on a pair of Jahvid Best touchdown runs but Miami eventually came back to tie the contest at 17-17 in the fourth quarter. The game remained tied until late in regulation when Nate Longshore connected with Anthony Miller on a two-yard scoring strike with 2:37 to go. The winning touchdown was set up moments earlier when Zack Follett forced a fumble deep in Hurricane territory and Cameron Jordan returned it to the Miami two-yard line.

Miami was able to put together eight plays on an ensuing drive but time ran out on the Hurricanes after reaching the Bears' 37-yard line.

Best capped a tremendous season for Cal by rushing for an Emerald Bowl record 186 yards and two touchdowns, marking his fourth consecutive 100-yard rushing game and eighth of the season.

The Golden Bears also set several other school bowl records, including the team's 10.0 tackles for loss, Follett's bowl-record-tying 4.0 tackles for loss and 2.0 sacks, a 74-yard first quarter passing play between Longshore and Verran Tucker, and Jordan's seven-yard fumble return.

The Golden Bears jumped out to a two-touchdown lead but could not prevail as Utah's Jordan Wynn threw for a career-high 338 yards and three touchdowns to rally the Utes to a 37-27 victory over California in the Poinsettia Bowl.

The Bears, in a bowl game for the school-record seventh straight year, had their four-game postseason winning streak snapped. The Utes scored 27 straight points to win their ninth straight bowl game, the longest streak in the country and tied for the second-longest ever following the 2009 season.

Shane Vereen, who scored twice, became the seventh Cal back to gain more than 100 yards in a bowl, finishing with 122 yards on 20 carries. Vereen started the scoring with a 36-yard touchdown run and Eddie Young intercepted Wynn on the first play of Utah's next drive, returning it 31 yards for a score.

But Utah's defense shut down Cal while the Utes offense on its last four possessions of the first half. Cal finally scored again on a 1-yard run by Vereen with 39 seconds left in the third quarter to put the Bears within six at 27-21 before Utah kicked a 25-yard field goal to pull away.

Playing in the Holiday Bowl for the third time in school history, the Longhorns topped the Golden Bears, 21-10, in the 2011 Bridgepoint Education Holiday Bowl at Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego, CA. In addition, Cal fell to 0-5 all-time against Texas.

The Bears jumped out to an early 3-0 lead on a 47-yard field goal by Giorgio Tavecchio, but the Bears could only manage one more score in the contest. Isi Sofele scampered six yards for Cal's lone touchdown of the game on the opening drive of the second half to take a brief 10-7 lead.

Texas quarterback David Ash added his name to the list of quarterbacks who've caught a touchdown pass in the Holiday Bowl and he also threw for one score. Ash caught a 4-yard pass from wide receiver Jaxon Shipley in the second quarter to join BYU's Steve Young, Texas A&M's Bucky Richardson and Oregon's Harrington as quarterbacks who've caught touchdown passes in the Holiday Bowl. Ash would later throw a 47-yard touchdown pass to Marquise Goodwin, who made a nice over-the-shoulder catch in full stride. That score gave the Longhorns a 14-10 lead and proved to clinch the win for Texas.

Keenan Allen led the Bears with nine catches for 82 yards.

WOODALL SCHOLARSHIP CREATED FOLLOWING WORLD TRADE CENTER TRAGEDY

A Brent Woodall Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established to honor the former Cal tight end who died in the attacks on New York's World Trade Center on September 11, 2001. The scholarship will provide funding for future student-athletes to play Cal football.

Woodall was working as a stock trader on the 89th floor of the South Tower when the building was hit. He was a four-year letterman at Cal (1988-91) and a key member of the '91 squad that finished ranked No. 8 in the nation after a 10-2 record and a Citrus Bowl victory over Clemson. He completed his career with 55 receptions for 646 yards and four touchdowns.

Contributions to the Woodall Scholarship should be made out to the U.C. Regents/Brent Woodall Memorial Scholarship Fund and mailed to Bear Backers, University of California Athletic Department, 195 Haas Pavilion, Berkeley, CA 94720.

THE UNIVERSITY

Founded in the wake of the gold rush by leaders of the newly established 31st state, the University of California's flagship campus at Berkeley has become one of the preeminent universities in the world. Its early guiding lights, charged with providing education (both "practical" and "classical") for the state's people, gradually established a distinguished faculty (with 22 Nobel laureates to date, including nine current faculty), a stellar research library, and 350 academic degree programs.

This California institution became a catalyst of economic growth and social innovation – the place where vitamin E was discovered, a lost Scarlatti opera found, the flu virus identified, and the nation's first no-fault divorce law drafted. Scholars at Cal have conducted ground-breaking research on urban street gangs and on basic human nutritional requirements, identified why wartime supply ships were failing at sea, invented technologies to build faster and cheaper computer chips, and imaged the infant universe.

In recognition of broad and deep excellence, respected sources have repeatedly ranked the University at or near the top in fields ranging from engineering and the "hard" sciences to the social sciences, arts and humanities. The National Research Council, in the most recent version of its highly-regarded report on U.S. public and private universities, ranked Cal No. 1 nationally in the number of campus graduate programs (48 out of 52) among the top 10 in their fields.

In accordance with the University's "public" character, Cal has long served talented individuals regardless of means. As early as 1897, financial aid was available for "needy and deserving" students. More than a century later, Cal combines outstanding teaching and research programs with broad access for students of all means – educating more federal Pell Grant recipients from low-income families than all eight Ivy League universities combined. Twenty-five percent of freshmen are the first in their families to attend college.

During the Nov. 7, 2009, home game against Oregon State, Oliver E. Williamson was recognized for receiving the Nobel Prize in Economics.

With well over 11 million volumes and more than 400 special collections, Berkeley's library holdings among its 32 libraries are the fourth-largest in the United States and have been ranked first in the nation among public libraries.
- There are over 1,700 clubs on campus from which students may choose.

CAL STUDENT-ATHLETE FACTS

- Cal had 46 participants, including 38 athletes and five coaches, at the 2012 Summer Olympics — more than any other public school in the nation. Cal's all-time Olympic medal count: 178 medals won by Cal students and alumni, 99 of them gold
- Twelve Golden Bear squads had Academic Progress Rates of 985 or better, with five teams above 990. Overall, Cal's average team score was at least 975 for the fourth year in a row, with 13 different teams publicly honored by the NCAA for their APR performances during that span
- For 10 straight years from 2003-12, Cal finished among the top 15 in the Directors' Cup, a national ranking that measures overall success in intercollegiate athletics programs.
- 84 national championships within 15 different sports.
- 256 individual national championships won by Cal student-athletes.

DISCOVERIES AND CONTRIBUTIONS BY UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA SCHOLARS

1887 • EARTHQUAKE SCIENCE

Earth Sciences professors set up the Western Hemisphere's first string of seismographic stations, to systematically record seismic activity and publish these earthquake records.

1892 • SIERRA CLUB

The Sierra Club is co-founded by John Muir; UC Berkeley professors Joseph LeConte, J. Henry Senger, and Cornelius Beach Bradley; Stanford University's David Starr Jordan; artist William Keith; and attorney Warren Olney. Many of the club's 182 charter members are scientists, and LeConte's maps of the Sierra range are among its first publications.

1895 • NUTRITION

grapes M.E. Jaffe becomes the first professor of nutrition in the United States. UC Berkeley quickly moves to the top in this field, making important contributions to the emerging understanding of the positive dietary role of vitamins, minerals, and protein, and the negative role of cholesterol and fats.

1904 • RUBE GOLDBERG

Rube Goldberg receives his engineering degree. Goldberg subsequently achieves immortality, and a Pulitzer Prize, for his drawings making light of the discipline he studied. The cartoonist's absurdly complex mechanisms for accomplishing simple tasks have become so ingrained in popular culture that his name appears in the dictionary as an adjective.

1907 • CLEANER SMOKESTACKS

Frederick G. Cottrell, professor of chemistry, develops an electrical precipitation device to clean smokestack emissions; it is still in use today.

1914-20 • YOSEMITE WILDLIFE SURVEY AU91DIO

owl Joseph Grinnell, the founding Director of the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology, and zoology professor Tracy Storer conduct a landmark survey of Sierra Nevada birds, mammals, reptiles, and amphibians, from the Central Valley through Yosemite Valley to Mono Lake. This early work makes it possible for subsequent generations to compare species diversity to the baseline data (see, for instance, the recent Grinnell Resurvey Project.) In a colorful audio narrative, Ward Russell recounts what it was like to be in the field with Grinnell.

1922 • VITAMIN E

Anatomy professor Herbert M. Evans and Dr. Katharine S. Bishop co-discover vitamin E.

1924 • DEEP-SEA DIVING

Chemist Joel H. Hildebrand formulates a mixture of helium and oxygen for deep-sea diving, enabling divers to explore deeper into the sea than ever before, without experiencing the "bends."

1930S • FRUIT COCKTAIL

After working his way through school doing odd jobs, William (Vere) Cruess becomes a professor, a food technologist, and chair of the "Division of Fruit Products" at Berkeley. There he invents the canned-fruit cocktail. A transcript (PDF) of Cruess's oral history, produced by the Regional Oral History Office, is online.

1930S • STATISTICAL THEORY

Math professor Jerzy Neyman becomes one of the founders of modern statistical theory, whose applications range from designing the census to assessing the outcome of medical trials. With British statistician Egon Pearson, Neyman develops a method for choosing the most effective test of a hypothesis, and later develops foundational statistical-theory concepts.

1931 • THE CYCLOTRON

Ernest Lawrence Ernest O. Lawrence designs the first cyclotron, launching the scientific use of particle physics to discover the fundamental structure of matter. The cyclotron has a major impact on the treatment of diseases, making it possible to create in large quantities the radioactive isotopes used in medical treatments. In 1939, Lawrence becomes UC Berkeley's first Nobel laureate.

1935 • VITAMIN K

Herman J. Almquist with Berkeley's Division of Poultry Husbandry discovers and synthesizes vitamin K, a biomolecule necessary for blood to clot properly. The manuscript announcing the discovery is rejected by Science magazine, creating a critical delay that allows Henrik Dam of Copenhagen to beat Almquist to publication and become known as the vitamin's discoverer.

1937 • NUCLEAR MEDICINE

John Lawrence, Ernest Lawrence's brother and the director of Berkeley's Donner Lab, becomes the father of nuclear medicine. In 1937 in the first use of radioisotopes to control disease, Lawrence treats individuals suffering from polycythemia vera (over-abundance of red blood cells) with doses of radio-pharmaceuticals; use of iodine to diagnose and treat hyperthyroidism follows.

1940S • CARBON-14 AND PHOTOSYNTHESIS

A team led by chemist Melvin Calvin resolves the riddle of photosynthesis, tracing the pathways by which plants use sunlight to convert carbon dioxide to carbohydrates. As part of this effort, Calvin discovers that carbon-14 can be used as a molecular tracer, and uses it to reveal the path of carbon as it travels through a plant. In 1961, Calvin is awarded the Nobel Prize in chemistry.

1940S • FLU VACCINE

The influenza-virus vaccine is developed during World War II by biochemist Wendell M. Stanley and colleagues.

1941 • TRANSURANIC ELEMENTS

Glenn Seaborg Using the cyclotron, plutonium is produced by professors Glenn T. Seaborg and Edwin McMillan and colleagues. For this work, Seaborg and McMillan share the 1951 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Plutonium is one of 16 elements to be discovered at UC Berkeley and the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory.

1943 • THE ATOMIC BOMB

During World War II, UC directs operation of the U.S. government laboratory at Los Alamos, New Mexico, incorporating work by Berkeley faculty and others to develop the atomic bomb. The laboratory is directed by physics professor J. Robert Oppenheimer.

1944 • BOVINE-GROWTH HORMONE

Bovine-growth hormone is first purified by the Institute of Experimental Biology's Herbert Evans and Choh Hao Li paving the way for the purification of human-growth hormone and, 30 years later, the cloning of human-growth hormone by scientists at UC San Francisco.

1947-55 • LIPOPROTEINS AND HEART DISEASE

heart John Gofman, medical physics professor, and his former doctoral students Frank Lindgren and Alex Nichols, discover and name the various lipoprotein classes — such as low-density lipoproteins (LDL), today referred to as "bad" cholesterol, and "good" high-density lipoproteins (HDL) — and discover the role of LDL and HDL in heart disease. The ratio of HDL to LDL is a strong indicator of heart-disease risk, they report. Gofman and Nichols also conduct dietary studies showing that people respond differently to diets high in fat and cholesterol, depending on their lipoprotein profiles.

1951 • INSECT CONTROL

Professor Edward Steinhaus, a pioneer in the field of insect pathology, uses bacteria to attack a caterpillar that infests alfalfa. This is the first successful use of an insect pathogen to control insects in the field. Today these bacteria, Bacillus thuringiensis, are used worldwide to fight crop disease; the bacteria secrete a toxin that kills insects, and genetic-engineering companies insert the gene for this toxin into plants, producing crops with a built-in insect resistance.

1952 • WETSUITS

Physicist Hugh Bradner invents the first wetsuit. The new protective garment helps to spawn new sports such as board sailing and body boarding; transform commercial, military, and recreational deep-sea diving; and advance understanding of oceans.

1964 • FREE SPEECH MOVEMENT

Free Speech Movement protest Inspired by the Civil Rights movement and fueled by opposition to the war in Vietnam, Berkeley students organize against rules limiting their political activities on campus. Asserting their Constitutional rights, Free Speech Movement activists hold a series of demonstrations and actions for the right to use Sproul Plaza for political discussion and the dissemination of political literature. The student movement compels the university to drop restrictions on speech, a reform subsequently adopted by most other U.S. campuses.

1966-1969 • NO-FAULT DIVORCE

Herma Hill Kay Herma Hill Kay, a faculty member at Boalt Hall, co-drafts California's 1970 no-fault divorce law, the first of its kind in the nation. The law eliminates the need to place blame on a spouse for a failed marriage and makes "irreconcilable differences" sufficient ground for divorce. Eventually, every state in the nation enacts some version of no-fault divorce. Kay later serves as the first female dean of the law school (1992-2000).

1967 • MOLECULAR EVOLUTION

DNA double helix Biochemist Allan Wilson founds the field of molecular evolution, using genetic material, rather than fossils, to investigate the origins of humanity. In 1967, Wilson and doctoral student Vincent Sarich show that proteins evolve and change as life evolves, and consequently can serve as a "molecular clock" to measure the evolutionary relationships between animals, such as between gorillas, chimpanzees, and humans. In the early 1980s, Wilson and colleagues defy conventional thinking (which dates human origins to some 25 million years ago); they trace humans back to common ancestors in sub-Saharan Africa some 200,000 years ago. Today, scientists compare DNA to determine evolutionary family trees.

In 1971, Berkeley Professor Bob Fabry buys a $99 copy of UNIX and provides it to a group of students, including Bill Joy, who modify the original code to include a number of new features. In 1977, Joy releases Berkeley UNIX under the Berkeley Software Distribution moniker, and encourages a world of hackers to improve it. The team incorporates these upgrades into future releases — creating a revolutionary new paradigm for software development and distribution, now known as Open Source, which makes source code available for anyone to build upon and improve.

The landscapes of his native Northern California figure large in the sensual geography of Hass's work. He is later awarded the National Book Award and the Pulitzer Prize for his 2007 book Time and Materials.

1995 TO PRESENT • PLANET HUNT

BOB JACOBSEN

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE

Bob Jacobsen, a Professor of Physics, serves as Cal's faculty athletics representative.

Appointed to the position in 2010, Jacobsen provides oversight and advice to Cal Athletics concerning compliance with NCAA rules and student-athlete academic matters.

He is empowered by the NCAA to represent Cal in dealings with both the NCAA and the Pac-12, and advises the chancellor on campus policies relating to student-athletes.

Jacobsen spent 1976 through 1986 working in the computer and data communications industry for a small company that was successively bought out by larger and larger companies before he returned to graduate school. From 1991-94, he was a scientific associate and scientific staff member at CERN, the European Laboratory for Nuclear Physics, in Geneva, Switzerland. While there, he was a member of the ALEPH collaboration concentrating on B physics and on the energy calibration of the LEP collider. He joined the faculty at Cal in 1995.

Among Jacobsen's honors at the University are its Distinguished Teaching Award, the Noyce Prize for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching and the Goldman Award for Distinguished Faculty Advising of Undergraduates. He has delivered lectures on his research activities on four continents and taught special classes for graduate students at 11 universities.

Jacobsen's research has studied the basic properties of the Universe using the techniques of particle physics. Upon arrival at Berkeley he joined the BaBar experiment, a worldwide collaboration of more than 500 scientists and engineers who built a device to study the fundamental interactions of matter and antimatter. During its run from 1999-2006, the experiment accumulated the world's largest sample of particles for studying the intrinsic difference between matter and antimatter.

His current project, the LUX collaboration, is installing a detector 4,000 feet underground in the Homestake Mine in South Dakota to study dark matter, which comprises the majority of the Universe yet is largely unknown.

Jacobsen obtained a B.S.E.E. from MIT in 1978 and his Ph.D. in experimental high-energy physics from Stanford in 1991.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

SANDY BARBOUR
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Director of Athletics at the University of California since the fall of 2004, Sandy Barbour has guided Cal Athletics through one of the most successful periods in school history, a tenure marked by championships, innovation, facility modernization and revenue growth.

Under her direction, the athletic department has become one of the consistently elite programs in the country, all while maintaining its commitment to a mission that seeks to match its level of excellence with that attained by the entire institution.

Built upon four pillars - to teach, to serve, to compete and to excel - Cal Athletics strives to combine high athletic achievement with the academic rigors of the No. 1 public university in the country, and to do so with integrity, passion, respect, teamwork, innovation, diversity and professionalism. The department is charged not only to be a campus and community leader, but also to be a place where individuals can grow to their utmost potential. In other words, "Athletics done right," to use one of Barbour's favorite phrases.

During Barbour's nine years overseeing Cal's 29-sport program that supports nearly 850 student-athletes, Golden Bears have captured 18 team national titles and another 88 individual crowns. Cal has also finished among the top 10 schools in the annual Directors' Cup standings six times, including a program-best third in 2011, and revenues in ticket sales, sponsorships and fundraising have all reached record levels.

Among Cal's many team athletic accomplishments are a 2006 Pac-12 co-championship and seven bowl-game invitations in football; the men's basketball team's first conference title in 50 years in 2009-10; a first-ever NCAA Final Four berth in women's basketball in 2013; and two trips to the national semifinals in volleyball.

This past year, Cal's rugby team captured the National College Championship 7s tournament, the women's varsity eight won its race at the NCAA regatta, Max Homa was the NCAA medalist in men's golf, and men's and women's swimmers combined for five individual national titles. On the international level, a total of 46 Golden Bear student-athletes, alumni and staff represented Cal at the 2012 Olympic Games in London and they brought home a school-record-tying 17 medals, including 11 gold. Other highlights included men's golf setting a modern-day mark with 12 stroke-play victories in 14 events and women's basketball claiming its first-ever Pac-12 title.

Under Barbour's leadership, two major facility projects designed to benefit both student-athletes and fans have opened. On Sept. 1, 2012, Cal welcomed a sold-out crowd to a newly restored California Memorial Stadium after the historic facility underwent a $321 million renovation and seismic retrofit to bring the facility up to modern standards while honoring the historic nature of the building.

A year earlier, Cal opened the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance, a state-of-the-art student-athlete training, coaching, and applied sports science and sports medicine center that supports daily needs of football and 12 Olympic sports programs. The 142,000-square-foot facility embodies Cal High Performance Initiative, the department's innovative performance philosophy designed to build competitive advantage, maximize efficiency and enhance the student-athlete experience.

On the academic front, the average GPA for Cal's 29 teams is nearly 3.0 and the women's golf team achieved the highest team grade-point average in Cal's recorded history when it posted a 3.46 GPA for the fall 2012 semester. More than 175 student-athletes annually earn academic all-conference notice, and 13 teams have received national recognition for their NCAA Academic Progress Rates over the last four years.

One of the "100 Most Influential Women in Business" in the Bay Area according to the San Francisco Business Times, Barbour was named a regional Athletic Director of the Year for 2008-09 by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), and she was a finalist for National AD of the Year at the Sports Business Awards. Barbour was previously chosen a 2006 Woman of Distinction by the East Bay Business Times and the 2006 National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWAA) Division I-A National Administrator of the Year.

Barbour is an active member of several committees on both the national and conference levels. In July 2010, she was selected as the Pac-12 representative to the NCAA Division I Leadership Council, a four-year appointment. She chairs the Pac-12 Athletic Directors TV Committee and serves on the conference's Recruiting Guidelines Committee. Barbour has also served on the NACDA Executive Committee, the NCAA Diversity Leadership Strategic Planning Committee, the NCAA Women's Basketball Discussion Group and the WBCA Defensive Player of the Year Selection Committee.

In the past, Barbour has also served as the chair of the Pac-10 Budget and Finance Committee, been a member of the Pac-10 Executive Committee and the Pac-10 Television Committee, and was vice president of the conference in 2007-08.

Prior to moving to Berkeley, Barbour was the deputy director of athletics at Notre Dame, serving as the university's senior athletic administrator from July 2002 to September 2004. She previously held an associate athletic director position there starting in 2000.

Barbour's career in intercollegiate athletic administration spans more than 30 years, beginning as a field hockey assistant coach and lacrosse administrative assistant at the University of Massachusetts in 1981. She has since served as assistant athletic director at Northwestern and in 1991 was recruited to Tulane as an associate athletic director.

In 1996, Barbour was appointed Tulane's director of athletics at age 36, and during her three years overseeing the program, Green Wave teams won 12 conference championships. In her first year in the position, the school captured four conference titles, a feat never before accomplished in Tulane history. She also hired Tommy Bowden as head football coach during her first year. Bowden proceeded in 1997 to post the Green Wave's first winning season (7-4) in 16 years, and then directed the school to a 12-0 record, a Conference USA championship and a No. 7 national ranking the following season as the 1998 Liberty Bowl champions.

In her position at Notre Dame, Barbour oversaw facilities and event operations for the school's 26-sport program, including football game management and the department's two golf courses. She was also responsible for developing, maintaining and implementing Notre Dame's $127 million athletics facilities master plan.

Additionally, her role at Notre Dame included responsibilities for women's lacrosse, men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track, men's and women's swimming and men's golf. She also assisted with the administration of women's basketball.

Born Dec. 2, 1959, in Annapolis, Md., Barbour grew up in a military family. Her father was a career aviator in the U.S. Navy, and her family lived in various U.S. locations as well as in Western Europe during her childhood.

Barbour graduated cum laude in 1981 with a B.S. degree in physical education from Wake Forest, where she was a four-year letterwinner and served as captain of the field hockey team. She also played two varsity seasons of women's basketball.

Barbour earned advanced degrees at both Massachusetts (an M.S. in sports management in 1983) and Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management (an MBA in 1991).

Between master's programs, Barbour served as assistant field hockey and lacrosse coach at Northwestern from 1982-84. She also held the position of director of recruiting services during that period, before being promoted to assistant athletic director for intercollegiate programs in 1984, a position she held until 1989.

Prior to joining Tulane, Barbour worked in programming and production for FOX Sports Net in Chicago during the summer of 1990.

Foti Mellis, who has more than 25 years of experience in intercollegiate athletics and has worked at Cal since 2002, serves as the athletic department's Senior Associate Athletic Director for Intercollegiate Services.

In his role, Mellis is responsible for the overall delivery of a world-class student-athlete experience, including all functions and activities that directly impact Cal's ability to serve its student-athletes. The three broad areas of oversight are Administration (student-athlete affairs, sports operations, scheduling, post season championships and summer camps), Performance Services (sports medicine, strength & conditioning, nutrition, sports science, and high performance) and Compliance Services (including financial aid and eligibility). In addition, he is the department's liaison to campus for Admissions, Financial Aid, UC State Government Relations and the Center for Student Conduct. He also supervises women's volleyball, women's soccer, softball, men's and women's track & field, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, women's gymnastics and men's crew.

During his time at Cal, Mellis most recently was responsible for the supervision of Capital Projects and oversight of the successful completion of California Memorial Stadium and the Simpson Center. Early in his tenure, he reorganized and enhanced Cal's compliance operations, and implemented a student-athlete database networked to all department staff and various campus units. He was also instrumental in the restructuring of the Student-Athlete Affairs unit that included additional staff and the development of a new philosophy for the student-athlete experience.

Mellis arrived at Cal after spending four years as Assistant Athletic Director for Compliance at Arizona State, where he oversaw all areas of compliance for the department. Prior to his stay in Tempe, he spent two years at The University of Tulsa as Director of Compliance from 1996-98. Mellis began his administrative career at Northwestern in 1994, spending one year as an intern and a second year as a compliance assistant.

A graduate of UC Davis, Mellis held various positions with the Aggies from 1988-94, including assistant men's basketball coach, academic advisor and intern in the athletic department. He received his bachelor's degree in managerial economics in 1990 and his master's in education in 1996, both from UC Davis.

DAVID SECOR

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR / CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

David Secor, who has served in the University of California System for more than three decades and owns 12 years of experience as a Chief Financial Officer, has been named Senior Associate Athletic Director/Chief Financial Officer at Cal on June 24.

Secor's primary responsibility is to provide strategic oversight and daily management of business and finance. Acting as the key steward of Cal Athletics' financial resources, Secor will offer alignment and collaboration with campus partners in business and finance.

With an extensive background in both financial planning and athletic administration, Secor begins his tenure at Cal following more than 30 years at UCLA. He is well versed with the UC system with 12 years of experience as UCLA's Senior Associate Athletic Director and Chief Financial Officer, before serving as the Director of Financial Services for UCLA Capital Programs the past three years.

In his role as UCLA's CFO, Secor managed all aspects of the athletic department's finances, including budget oversight, budget forecasting, accounting and purchasing. As the principal financial advisor to the athletic director, Secor was responsible for balancing an annual operating budget that grew to $65 million in his tenure. He developed an innovative model, restructuring financial reporting systems that helped to reduce the athletic department's controllable expenses and to deliver an operating surplus six straight years.

Secor also has an extensive background in financial planning and budget oversight for capital projects. He has managed the financial aspects of several major construction projects, including the recently completed renovation of Pauley Pavilion, the home of UCLA's men's and women's basketball, men's and women's volleyball and women's gymnastics programs.

Secor joined UCLA Capital Programs as the Director of Financial Services. As a lead financial officer for the campus' major capital improvements, he developed strong relationships with campus clients to determine financial feasibility of proposed projects and worked collaboratively to institute successful funding strategies. Secor's experience includes the implementation of a successful model to calculate debt capacity based on campus financial data.

Secor served as the Budget Officer for the UCLA Office of the Administrative Vice Chancellor. He began his work in the UCLA athletic department in 1990, serving a six-year term as the department's Fiscal Officer. His tenure as an administrator at UCLA began in 1982 where he worked as a computer support manager, computer programmer and purchasing manager for the Associated Students program.

A 1985 graduate of UCLA with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Mathematics, Secor was a both a Regents and California State Scholar.

TRADITIONS & SPIRIT

Perhaps nowhere else in America is the color and pageantry of college football better captured than at the University of California and Memorial Stadium, where the Golden Bears returned to play their home games last season after the stadium's extraordinary renovation. Recognized by Sports Illustrated to have the best view of any college stadium in the country, the venue has been brought up to 21st century standards and will now blend a modern stadium with the rich history of a college football experience that has borne some of the most colorful and time-honored traditions in the sport.

BIG C

The Big C is located on Charter Hill above Memorial Stadium and was constructed in 1905 by the classes of 1907 and 1908. The road up to the Big C was built in 1916 by the male members of the Cal student body in three-and-a-half hours, using 2,000 picks and shovels that were donated by the Southern Pacific Railroad. The Rally Committee became the custodians and guardians of the Big C sometime after 1952. Since then, the Committee has been in charge of painting the C and protecting it from vandalism.

BLUE AND GOLD

Official colors of the University of California were established at Berkeley in 1868. The colors were chosen by the University's founders, who were mostly Yale men who had come West. They selected gold as a color representing the "Golden State" of California. The blue was selected from Yale blue. Cal teams have donned the blue and gold since the beginning of intercollegiate athletic competition in 1882.

CAL BAND

The University of California Marching Band has been a tradition for more than 100 years, exemplifying many of the best aspects of student life at one of the nation's most prestigious public universities. It boasts over 200 members, a student-run management and a unique high-step marching style, all of which combine to make it one of the most singular bands of its kind.

Formed as the R.O.T.C. Cadet Band in 1889, the Cal Band adopted its present name in 1923. It has performed across the country and around the world at such events as the Brussels World Fair in 1958, Expo '70 in Japan and a Bicentennial Tour of the United States in 1976. In 1980, the Band took to the stage with the San Francisco Ballet, and it was the official state band for the city's welcome to Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip of Great Britain in 1983.

CAL BEARENTS

Initiated in the fall of 1986, Cal Bearents has grown from an idea of six people into an organization numbering in the hundreds. Proud moms, dads, siblings, aunts, uncles, cousins, grandparents, in-laws and friends all gather together to share the Cal football experience with the players.

Because no one understands the triumphs and tribulations in a student-athlete's season as thoroughly as family and friends do, all Bearents share a special bond. Regardless of whether their player plays in a starring or supporting role, Bearents consistently provide a network of support for the players and each other. In addition to extending an open invitation for all players to join family and friends for postgame barbecues after each home game, Bearents also participate in and coordinate various other events throughout the year with Cal alumni and Bear Backers.

CALIFORNIA LETTERMAN'S CLUB

Cal's football alumni association, the California Letterman's Club, is an active organization that supports the Golden Bear football program. Formerly known as the Sons of California, the group was created several years ago to continue the relationships that were forged on the football field. Each year, the Letterman's Club has a reunion at a home game and holds a fundraising golf tournament in the spring. In addition, they sponsor a reception at the end of the year for graduating football players and honor a deserving alumnus with the Glenn T. Seaborg Award named for the renowned Nobel laureate and former University of California chancellor. For more information about the California Letterman's Club please contact the Cal Athletics development office at (510) 642-2427.

CALIFORNIA VICTORY CANNON

The California Victory Cannon was presented to the Rally Committee in time for the 1963 Big Game by the class of 1964. At home games in Berkeley, it is shot off at the beginning of each game, after each score and after each Cal victory. Only once, against Pacific on Sept. 7, 1991, did the Bears score too many times, racking up 12 touchdowns before the cannon ran out of ammunition. The cannon, which was originally kept on the sidelines, has been mounted on Tightwad Hill above Memorial Stadium since 1971. In 2011, the cannon was present for home games at AT&T Park but was not fired due to clearance regulations.

CARD STUNTS

The Cal rooting section is credited with establishing one of the most time-honored traditions in college football with its card stunt performances. Cal began this activity for the 1910 "Big Game," a rugby match between Cal and Stanford. The original stunts performed that afternoon depicted the Stanford Axe and a big blue "C" formed on a white background.

The tradition has been a crowd favorite at Memorial Stadium as several times each season Cal students perform as many as 10 different stunts, using more than 5,000 cards. The painstaking process of plotting the positions of the cards, which once took days to complete, is now aided by computers that add to the precision of the images produced in the card section.

ESP/BEAR BACKER FOOTBALL HOSPITALITY

Endowment Seating Program (ESP) participants have access to up to three new exclusive club spaces, all of which are located on the west side of the stadium. On the first two floors, ESP participants will have access to the Field Level Club, which features a sports bar-style atmosphere. Food and beverage (including alcohol) is available for purchase in this area, which is also adjacent to the new Cal Athletic Hall of Fame Room. Flat panel televisions and comfortable seating areas are located within the Field Level Club, to allow fans an indoor location to catch up with friends, and see the day's action.

The two-level Stadium Club is located just beneath the press box area. Accessible to University and Stadium Club participants, it features great views of the bay through the stadium's historic west wall arches, as well as complimentary food and beverage pregame and at halftime. Comfortable seating and television screens will also be available in this upscale area.

Finally, the new University Club, California Memorial Stadium's premier game experience, are located directly above the renovated press box, complete with unparalleled views of campus, the San Francisco Bay and game field. This exclusive area for University Club seat holders includes complimentary food and beverage pregame and at halftime. An outdoor deck looking out towards the bay augments the premium seating availability that features the stadium's most comfortable seats, complete with an ultra-padded chairback, dual cup holders, cherry wood grain and an unprecedented 36" of legroom.

GOLDEN BEARS

In 1895, the University of California track and field team was the dominant power on the West Coast and decided to challenge several of the top teams in the Midwest and East on an eight-meet tour that is now credited by many historians as putting Cal Athletics onto the national scene. As a symbol of the University, regent Arthur Rodgers, class of 1872, commissioned a blue silk banner emblazoned with a golden grizzly bear, the symbol of the state of California. The banner was carried by the team on its successful tour, which saw them win five of the eight competitions. Cal Athletics fans were so ecstatic over the team's performance that professor Charles Mills Gayley was inspired to write the song "The Golden Bear." Cal's athletic teams have been known as the Golden Bears ever since.

MARCH TO VICTORY

Cal began a new "tradition" in the fall of 2002 with the March to Victory. Approximately two-and-a-half hours before kickoff of each home game, the Spirit Groups form a human tunnel just outside the north tunnel of Memorial Stadium to cheer on the team as it exits the buses to march into the locker room.

PAPPY'S BOYS

Founded in 1986, Pappy's Boys is an organization of more than 500 former Golden Bears who played under legendary Cal football coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf. Not only does the group get together to relive the success of the Cal teams during the Waldorf era, but it also supports the current program in many ways. Recent efforts include establishing a $400,000 endowment for football scholarships and raising funds for two of the most recent additions to campus statuary: that of Waldorf kneeling near Faculty Glade and the giant grizzly bear by Memorial Stadium. Waldorf compiled a 67-32-4 record as head coach at Cal from 1947-56. For the 1948-50 seasons, Waldorf guided the Bears to a 39-3-1 record and three consecutive Rose Bowls. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1966 and into the Cal Athletic Hall of Fame in 1987. In the late 1990s, Pappy's Boys produced a book, "Pappy's Boys, The Rose Bowl Years: A Legacy of Winning," which was edited by Sports Illustrated writer Ron Fimrite and produced by former Cal quarterback Dick Erickson. The book contains 59 autobiographical essays by players, coaches, and others involved in the Waldorf Rose Bowls, plus a preface by former Cal chancellor Glenn T. Seaborg.

TIGHTWAD HILL

For decades, enterprising Golden Bear fans have hiked to Tightwad Hill high above the northeast corner of Memorial Stadium. Not only does the perch provide a free look at the action on the field, but it also offers a spectacular view of San Francisco Bay and many of the area bridges to the west.

CAL SPIRIT GROUPS

The Cal Spirit groups are responsible for promoting all spirit-related activities and are active at home events, as well as many away contests. In addition, they act as ambassadors of the University by assisting with alumni functions, fundraising events and other formal occasions promoting Cal spirit. The groups are the Rally Committee, Cal Cheerleading, Cal Dance Team, Cal Mic Men and the Cal mascot, Oski.

The Rally Committee, the oldest student group on campus, upholds school spirit and tradition. Above and beyond producing all rallies on campus, Rally Com is responsible for maintaining the Big C, displaying the California banner, the Cal flags, and constructing and executing card stunts at football games. Not to be forgotten is the California Victory Cannon, and when The Axe is in the possession of the Bears, the Committee is the custodian of The Axe.

Cal Cheerleading is an integral part of Cal Spirit! You can see the cheerleaders at all football games, men's and women's basketball, volleyball and other events. Their primary focus is to support each program and lead the crowd before and during the game. They work with the Mic Men to lead stadium wide cheers and increase crowd participation through the use of stunting, signs and poms. They also participate in various rallies, alumni and community events.

The Cal Dance Team dances to traditional Cal fight songs and Cal Band rock songs. During the football season, they perform on a platform that is elevated off the football field. They participate as well in various rallies, alumni and community events.

Cal Mic Men are student leaders of the rooting sections at all Cal sporting events. In addition, they emcee at rallies, alumni and community events.

Oski, the official mascot of the University of California, has been a tradition at the school since making his debut during the 1941 football season. Prior to his arrival, live mascots were used at Memorial Stadium with varying degrees of success. It was decided in 1940 that a costumed mascot would make a more suitable alternative to a live bear. Named after the popular "Oski Wow-Wow" yell, the Cal mascot is selected by the Oski Committee, a governing body that oversees all aspects of caring for the lovable Bear. Oski's identity is unknown to everyone, with the exception of the committee.

SONGS OF CAL

While through the years Cal has collected numerous songs that are popular with its alumni and fans alike, two songs are regularly heard during the team's football games. Those songs include the familiar fight song entitled "Big C," a brisk marching tune composed by N.S. McLaren and H.P. Williams of the class of 1914. The other is the Cal alma mater, "Hail to California," written and composed by Clinton R. "Brick" Morse, class of 1896.

HAIL TO CALIFORNIA

*Hail to California, Alma Mater Dear
Sing the joyful chorus, Sound it far and near.
Rallying 'round her banner, We will never fail.
California Alma Mater, Hail! Hail! Hail!*

BIG C

*California!
On our rugged Eastern foothills, stands our symbol clear and bold.
Big C means to fight and strive and win for Blue and Gold.
Golden Bear is ever watching. Day by day he prowls.
And when he hears the tread of lowly Stanford Red,
from his lair he fiercely growls!

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Cal football players train in the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance, a revolutionary student-athlete training, coaching, and applied sports science and sports medicine center that opened in January of 2012. The Simpson Center embodies the High Performance Initiative (HPI), Cal's innovative performance philosophy designed to build competitive advantage, maximize efficiency and enhance the student-athlete experience.

A 142,000 square-foot facility, the Simpson Center is a state-of-the-art complex with year-round access for over 450 student-athletes. The Simpson Center is home to the locker rooms, meeting rooms and offices for Cal football and 12 Golden Bear Olympic sports for use on a daily basis.

THE SIMPSON CENTER PROVIDES:

- Performance Training & Assessment
- Therapy, Rehabilitation & Reconditioning
- Sport Performance Laboratories
- Academic Support Services & Study Area
- Dedicated Team Room, Locker Room & Office Space
- Nutrition & Food Service
- Medical Clinic

The signature feature of the Simpson Center is the High Performance Zone – a fully integrated training space with world-class strength and conditioning, sports medicine and sports science facilities and services. Developed with sports performance in mind, high quality equipment and an open layout provide impressive training options to prepare for the highest levels of competition.

This multi-purpose space encompasses 18,700 square feet, spans two stories and stretches the length of a football field. Planned to accommodate 100 student-athletes at a time, Golden Bears are able to complete a full training session without the need to move or wait for equipment.

The facility's weight room is outfitted with over 50,000 pounds of weight, 22 fully customized work stations with inlaid platforms that provide student-athletes with a state-of-the-art facility that incorporates the latest technology and adaptability in exercise and monitoring equipment. The 25-yard turf area is used for warm-ups, plyometrics, short agility work, medicine ball throws, rehabilitation and much more. Spin, Pilates, yoga and back classes are among the activities that take place in the fitness studio.

Other features in the Simpson Center include a training room, rehabilitation facilities including underwater and AlterG treadmills, cold plunges, a medical suite, dining and nutrition and academic support area, team meeting room, locker room and player lounge – all just a few steps away.

The strength and conditioning department is an integral part of Cal football. The program's philosophy is geared towards helping each student-athlete achieve the highest level of athletic development and injury prevention.

By teaching how all the components of strength and conditioning fit together, student-athletes understand how to maximize power as it applies to sports. This includes enhancement of speed, strength, agility and flexibility, which results in improved power. Motivating, educating and help-to increase their ability to perform at their peak during competition.

Athlete workouts are position-specific and closely monitored by the conditioning staff, who work in collaboration with the entire sports medicine team (doctors, athletic trainers, physical therapists, nutritionists, etc.) to ensure the health and safety of all student-athletes.

In this way, Cal's strength and conditioning program is a vital component linking the "full circle" of a student-athlete's physical development from conditioning through rehabilitation and re-conditioning.

ing to reach maximum athletic development is the primary focus of the Cal program.

The training regimen at Cal is a year-round process that emphasizes improving athleticism. With closely monitored workouts that involve a great deal of individual instruction and attention, student-athletes are taught the correct techniques

The mission of the Sports Medicine Program at the University of California, Berkeley, is to provide systematic, multidisciplinary services that utilize advanced scientific and administrative practices to support student-athletes in the pursuit of optimal physiological and psychological health, personal development and high performance.

Golden Bear student-athletes are privileged to be supported by one of the top medical staffs in college athletics, along with some of the most modern training and rehabilitation equipment in the country. The comprehensive program features state-of-the-art facilities, as well as a staff of acclaimed sports medicine practitioners.

Cal's athletic training facilities include more than 6,000-square feet, split between the Simpson Center Sports Medicine Facilities and the Paul F. White Sports Medicine Complex at Haas Pavilion. Both facilities include rehabilitation space and equipment, hydrotherapy space and an extensive pre-practice preparation area, as well as physician examination areas. With both facilities operational year round, Cal Sports Medicine is able to serve the student-athletes in close proximity to their practice and competition sites.

In addition, Cal student-athletes also use University Health Services (UHS), which jointly with Intercollegiate Athletics oversees and coordinates sports medicine services to all injured or ailing Golden Bear athletes. UHS, housed in the Tang Center, is recognized as one of the largest and most comprehensive campus health service centers in the country. It provides access to physician clinics, laboratory services, X-ray and other ancillary services such as sports nutrition and counseling.

The expert staff of team physicians is led by Casey G. Batten MD. Dr. Batten was named head team physician for Cal Athletics in 2010, after serving as an associate team physician since 2006. The staff features specialists from the fields of orthopedic surgery, family medicine, internal medicine, psychiatry and podiatry, among others. With its diverse backgrounds and areas of expertise, the staff has vast experience treating injured athletes at every level of competition, including Olympic and professional athletes.

Cal's athletic training staff, led by head athletic trainer Ryan Cobb and supported by insurance coordinator Dan Westbrook, includes 19 certified athletic trainers and 40 sports medicine interns. The staff tends to the day-to-day health care needs of Cal student-athletes in all sports, including the evaluation and treatment of injuries and illnesses. Rehabilitation of injuries is also the responsibility of the athletic training staff, with additional assistance from two experienced staff physical therapists. The athletic trainers provide coverage at home and away athletic contests, and practices are staffed on a full-time basis.

Whether it's for taping, physical therapy or the prompt recovery from an illness or injury, Golden Bear student-athletes have the full confidence that Cal's medical staff will provide the best care available with one of the most progressive treatment and rehabilitation programs in the country.

STUDENT-ATHLETE AFFAIRS

Jog For Jill

There is more to life than wins and losses, and University of California student-athletes have the opportunity to learn that lesson through participation in an NCAA program – Student-Athlete Affairs – which is designed for athletes to get more out of their college years than just what they experience in the athletic arena. By focusing on “real life” skills and personal development, the Student Athlete Affairs Program not only assists student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but enhances student-athletes’ growth in their college years and beyond.

This program helps students by concentrating in three major areas – Professional Development, Community Outreach and Leadership.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The professional development portion of the Student-Athlete Affairs Programs offers student-athletes opportunities to prepare themselves for life after college. Each year a variety of workshops on career development are offered including resume writing, interview skills and networking. In addition, the annual Career Connections event puts student-athletes in direct contact with Bay Area professionals who are looking to hire for both internships and full-time jobs. The program has proven to be a valuable source of contact with successful Cal alumni and has initiated career paths for many Golden Bear student-athletes.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Cal’s student-athletes exhibit a strong commitment to the community. Over 3,000 hours of giving back is completed each year by participation in a variety of activities such as College Sports Day where they teach 200 kids about their sport, as well as raising funds for various charitable organizations and making meaningful contributions to the community. In doing so, the student-athletes serve as ambassadors between the University and the community and as role models to children.

Cal Athletics receives requests from local schools and community organizations for student-athletes to speak to kids ranging from kindergarten to high school. The student-athletes address a wide variety of wellness-related topics in addition to emphasizing the importance of education and maintaining self-esteem. The goal is to support young students in finding a path to productive and healthy futures, taking an interest in the children’s lives and providing encouragement to do well in school.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Through their involvement in the Student-Athlete Affairs Program, Cal student-athletes are prepared to be productive and successful adults when they graduate from the university and move on to their next challenge in life. Whether it is learning how to make a solid first impression as they represent Cal through etiquette training or participating in leadership roles in the department and campus to shape action plans that enhance the student-athlete experience, our student-athletes are actively engaging in opportunities to develop a well-balanced lifestyle, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills. Director of Career Development Ron Coccimiglio is responsible for the personal development of the Cal football team.

College Sports Day

Leadership Retreat

LEADERSHIP

Many Cal student-athletes have been active participants in various student-mentor programs with low-income and/or minority youth in the East Bay community. Working in conjunction with the Sage Project, Cal athletes have been paired with young students in a mentor/role model project, often growing to be a part of the child’s extended family. These student-athletes are a positive force in assisting youth to stay in school, eventually enter college and succeed as members of the community. Each year Cal student-athletes are selected to represent Cal at Pac-12 and NCAA Leadership Conferences.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

With representatives from all 29 sports at Cal, the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee not only does the group work to improve interaction between student-athletes, coaches and administrators, but it also works with other campus organizations to create positive student-athlete experiences. Among the areas of emphasis are student-athlete welfare, student-athlete camaraderie, community service, campus relations, communication and input on proposed NCAA legislation.

BIG C SOCIETY

The Big C Society is a group of former student-athletes – both men and women – who share a common bond: they have distinguished themselves by their athletic skill and/or unwavering dedication to Cal Athletics. The purpose of the Big C Society is to encourage and support the athletic program through an uncompromising commitment to excellence.

Among the many activities sponsored by the Big C Society are: the Cal Athletic Hall of Fame Dinner, the Honors Celebration Luncheon, first-year varsity letter awards and a “Welcome Back” BBQ for all Cal student-athletes.

PACIFIC-12 CONFERENCE

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Conference ushered in a new era on July 1, 2011, officially becoming the Pac-12 Conference with the additions of the University of Colorado and University of Utah.

Just 27 days after the Conference officially changed its name, Commissioner Larry Scott announced the creation of the Pac-12 Networks on July 27, 2011, solidifying a landmark television deal and putting the Conference on the forefront of collegiate athletics. The Networks, including one national network, six regional networks, and a robust digital network marked the first-ever integrated media company owned by a college conference. In addition, the "TV Everywhere" rights allow fans to access Pac-12 Networks outside the home on any digital device, including smartphones and tablet computers.

The Pac-12 launched its China Initiative in 2011 as a way to proactively promote the Conference and member institutions through student-athlete exchanges and sport. In its first two years, Pac-12 student-athletes have enjoyed unique cultural and athletic experiences in China, and the Conference has gained significant brand exposure for the future and set a foundation for growth.

On the field, the Pac-12 rises above the rest, upholding its tradition as the "Conference of Champions®," claiming an incredible 127 NCAA team titles since 1999-2000, including eight in 2012-13. That is an average of over nine championships per academic year. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success, with championships coming in 28 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led or tied the nation in NCAA Championships in 47 of the last 53 years. The only exceptions being in 1980-81, 1988-89, 1990-91 and 1995-96 when the Conference finished second, and only twice finished third (1998-99 and 2004-05).

For the eighth-consecutive year, the Pac-12 had the most NCAA titles or tied for the most of any conference in the country, winning at least six every year since 2000-01. No other conference has won double-digit NCAA crowns in a single year, the Pac-12 doing so six times, including a record 14 in 1996-97.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 was the first conference to reach 400 championships in 2010-11. With the inclusion of Colorado and Utah, the Conference surpassed another major milestone, with league teams capturing 450 titles, outdistancing the next conference by nearly 200. In all, Conference teams have won 459 NCAA Championships (309 men's, 150 women's).

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual Learfield Sports Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. Seven Pac-12 member institutions ranked among the top-25 Division I programs in 2012-13, including No. 17 Cal. It marked the third-straight year at least six member schools were in the top 25.

The Conference's eight national titles came in the form of five women's and three men's crowns. Five different league schools claimed NCAA titles and, of the six NCAA institutions to have won multiples titles, two were from the Pac-12. No other conference in the country had more than one team win multiple NCAA titles.

In addition to the eight national championships, the Pac-12 also had runners-up in eight

NCAA Championship events, including California's second-place finishes in men's and women's swimming and diving and women's rowing.

Participation in the postseason was a common occurrence for the Pac-12 in 2012-13. Of the 22 sports sponsored by the Conference, 15 witnessed at least half its teams participating in NCAA or other postseason action. The men sent 59 of a possible 101 teams into the postseason (58.4 percent), while the women sent 70 of a possible 114 teams (61.4 percent).

The culmination of the 2012 Pac-12 football season included a pair of BCS bowl wins in a postseason that saw the Pac-12 send a record eight teams into bowl games. It was the third consecutive year that the Pac-12 had two teams participate in BCS bowls.

After 11 years in Los Angeles, the Pac-12 moved its postseason basketball tournament to Las Vegas and the MGM Grand Garden Arena. Following the conference tournament, Cal was one of five Pac-12 teams to participate in the NCAA Tournament, while the conference had three squads compete in the NIT Tournament.

On the women's side, Pac-12 teams saw tremendous success with four teams earning NCAA Tournament bids and two more playing in the WNIT. The Bears, who earned a share of the Pac-12 regular-season title, the program's first, advanced to their first-ever NCAA Women's Final Four. It was the sixth-straight year a Pac-12 team had advanced to the national semifinals.

The Pac-12's 28 baseball national titles in the sport are, by far, the most for any conference.

Without question, the Conference has dominated the softball field, winning 23 national championships in the sport since 1982, most recently capturing six in a row from 2006-11. Eight Pac-12 teams earned NCAA Tournament bids in 2013.

Pac-12 members have won 309 NCAA team championships on the men's side, 88 more than the next closest conference. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-12 - 16 basketball titles by six schools (more than any other conference), 53 tennis titles, 45 outdoor track & field crowns, and 28 baseball titles. Pac-12 members have won 25 of 44 NCAA titles in volleyball, 39 of 43 in water polo, 28 in skiing, and 23 in swimming & diving national championships.

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA individual champions. Over 2,000 (2,123) individual crowns have been won by Pac-12 student-athletes over the years with 1,459 by male student-athletes.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 32 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 23 occasions, including 13-consecutive years from 2000-2013. Overall, the Pac-12 has captured 150 NCAA women's titles, easily outdistancing the SEC, which is second, with 90. Pac-12 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 23 softball titles, 20 tennis crowns, 14 volleyball titles, 15 of the last 24 trophies in golf, and 13 in swimming & diving.

Pac-12 women student-athletes shine nationally on an individual basis, as well, having captured an unmatched 664 NCAA individual crowns.

PAC-12 CONFERENCE HISTORY

The roots of the Pac-12 Conference date back 98 years to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. The original membership consisted of four schools - the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was Commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and the PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Since then, the Conference has been considered the premiere league in women's athletics, securing the most NCAA titles in women's sports of any conference nearly every year.

Thomas C. Hansen was named the Commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009. Hansen was succeeded by current Commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

During the 2010-11 academic year, the University of Colorado accepted its invitation to join the Pac-12 on June 11, 2010, and on June 17, 2010, the University of Utah agreed to join the Conference. The Buffaloes and Utes officially became the 11th and 12th members of the Conference on July 1, 2011, the first additions to the league since 1978. Since 1978, member schools have won 274 NCAA titles, including 139 women's and 135 men's.

It was during that 2010-11 academic year that Scott helped deliver monumental changes that transformed the Conference into a modern 12-team league. The Conference expanded to add two more teams, agreed to equal revenue sharing for the first time in Conference history, created two divisions - the North and the South, for football only, established a Football Championship Game for the first time ever, secured a landmark media rights deal that dramatically increased national exposure and revenue for each school, establishing the Pac-12 Networks and Pac-12 Digital Network that guaranteed enhanced exposure across all sports.

Currently, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and three women's sports.

Pac-12 Championship Game

PLAYOFF COMING IN 2014-15

On June 26, 2012, the BCS Presidential Oversight Committee agreed to launch a four-team playoff beginning with the 2014-15 season. The new format will continue at least 12 years, through the 2025-26 season.

The semifinals will be rotated among six bowl games and will be played either New Year's Eve or New Year's Day. The championship game, to be managed by the 11 conferences and rotated among neutral sites every year, will be on a Monday at least six days after the last semifinal game.

A selection committee will rank the teams for the playoff.

Since it opened in the fall of 1923, California Memorial Stadium has produced scores of unforgettable memories for generations of Golden Bears. From the Wonder Teams of the 1920s to the Pappy Waldorf years mid-century to the recent success under Jeff Tedford, the facility has treated fans of all ages to many of the greatest moments in the history of Cal football. It stands as one of the most enduring symbols of the University of California campus and has served as a gathering point for students, alumni, faculty, staff and other supporters for nearly 90 years. Now in its second season following a $321 million renovation that brought the historic building up to modern standards the Sonny Dykes era is set to begin in an enjoyable environment for the hundreds of thousands of people who visit and partake in games every year – all while maintaining the architecture and character of the celebrated stadium.
