HISTORY OF CAL FOOTBALL

Cal Celebrates 122 Years of Football

Golden Bears Boast .557 All-Time Winning Percentage as One of College Football's Storied Programs

Most people today recognize the University of California as one of the world's great academic institutions. The school's faculty has won 18 Nobel Prizes during its history and currently features more Guggenheim Fellows (141) than any other college in the United States. For a third straight year, U.S. News & World Report selected the Berkeley campus as its No. 1 rated public university in the nation.
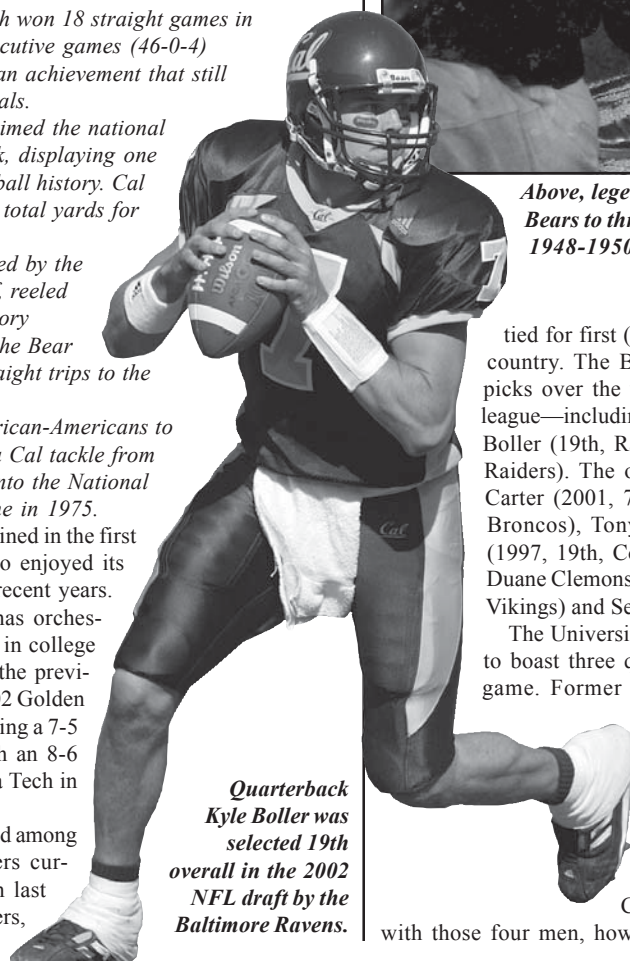

But what many people may not realize is that Cal football also enjoys a rich heritage that dates back to 1882. As the Golden Bears celebrate their 122nd year of football competition this fall, consider the following:

- Cal has played more football seasons than any other school on the West Coast.
- Cal has posted an all-time NCAA record of 574-449-51 for a winning percentage of .558. The Golden Bears' 573 victories ranks 33rd among all Division I-A schools, ahead of such respected programs as Boston College, Wisconsin, Maryland, Illinois, Stanford, Purdue, Oregon, UCLA and Miami (Fla.).
- The Bears have won 13 conference championships and have played in eight Rose Bowls in their history.
- Cal features 21 members of the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, one of the highest honors accorded a collegiate football player. Former quarterback Joe Kapp was the most recent Bear to be inducted in 2004.
- Led by "The Wonder Team," which won 18 straight games in 1920-21, Cal once went 50 consecutive games (46-0-4) without a defeat from 1920-25 – an achievement that still ranks No. 3 all-time in NCAA annals.
- "The Thunder Team" of 1937 claimed the national championship with a 10-0-1 mark, displaying one of the top defenses in college football history. Cal allowed only 33 points and 1,126 total yards for the entire '37 season.
- The Cal teams of 1947-50, coached by the legendary Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf, reeled off a 33-game regular season victory streak. Dubbed "Pappy's Boys," the Bear clubs of 1948-50 earned three straight trips to the Rose Bowl.
- Walter Gordon, one of the first African-Americans to play major college football, was a Cal tackle from 1916-18 and later was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1975.

While the Golden Bears certainly shined in the first half of the 20th Century, Cal has also enjoyed its share of sterling performers in more recent years.

The past two years, Jeff Tedford has orchestrated one of the greatest turnarounds in college football. Inheriting a 1-10 club from the previous coaching staff, Tedford and the 2002 Golden Bears made a six-game upgrade in posting a 7-5 mark in 2002, and followed that with an 8-6 record and 52-49 victory over Virginia Tech in the 2003 Insight Bowl.

California has been perennially ranked among the nation's Top 20 in former players currently in the NFL. During the season last year, Cal had 28 alumni on NFL rosters, tied for first (with USC) in the Pac-10 and tied for 12th in the country. The Bears have developed 20 NFL first-round draft picks over the years, including nine who remain active in the league—including two off of Cal s 2002 squad in quarterback Kyle Boller (19th, Ravens) and defensive Nnamdi Asomugha (31st, Raiders). The other seven active first-rounders include Andre Carter (2001, 7th overall, 49ers), Deltha O'Neal (2000, 15th, Broncos), Tony Gonzalez (1997, 13th, Chiefs), Tarik Glenn (1997, 19th, Colts), Regan Upshaw (1996, 12th, Buccaneers), Duane Clemons (1996, 16th, Vikings), Todd Steussie (1994, 19th, Vikings) and Sean Dawkins (1993, 16th, Colts).

The University of California also is one of only three colleges to boast three quarterbacks who have started in a Super Bowl game. Former Cal QBs Joe Kapp, Craig Morton and Vince Ferragamo earned such honors, while Notre Dame's Darryle Lamonica, Joe Theisman and Joe Montana, and Alabama's Bart Starr, Joe Namath and Ken Stabler also drew Super Bowl opening assignments. A fourth Cal signal-caller – Gale Gilbert – appeared on a Super Bowl team roster but did not play.

Cal's tradition of great quarterbacks doesn't end with those four men, however. Others who have worn the Blue & Gold include Steve Bartkowski, Joe Roth, Mike Pawlawski, Rich Campbell, Gale Gilbert, Troy Taylor, and of course, Boller. On the receiving end of many of those passes were the likes of Dameane Douglas – who set a Pac-10 record with 100 receptions in 1998 – and future NFL All-Pros Dawkins, Gonzalez, Matt Bouza and Wesley Walker.

The Bears' running backs include three for the ages in Chuck Muncie, Russell White and Jackie Jensen, while two years ago Joe Igber completed his career as the school's No. 2 all-time rusher.

On the defensive side, California has cranked out such future pro stars as Hardy Nickerson, Ron Rivera and Ken Harvey, as well as O'Neil, Carter and Upshaw.

But mostly, Cal has been the cradle for great head coaches. While three arrived on the scene early – James Schaeffer went 73-16-7 from 1909-15, Andy Smith followed at 74-16-7 from 1916-25 (including five straight unbeaten seasons), and Waldorf posted a 67-32-4 mark from1947-56 – there have been many noteworthy leaders since. They include Bruce Snyder, Steve Mariucci, Marv Levy, Mike White, Ray Willsey and Joe Kapp.

And the list of assistant coaches who became college or pro head coaches is a veritable "who's who" in the sport. The register includes Bill Walsh, John Ralston, Jim Hanifan, Dom Capers, Paul Hackett, Mouse Davis, Lary Kuharich, Dick Stanfel and Al Saunders.

The backdrop for many of those coaches and players has been California Memorial Stadium, located in idyllic Strawberry Canyon, nestled in the Berkeley hills. The venerable 81-year-old venue was named the best place to watch college football in Sports Illustrated's 1997 special edition on the top 50 college athletic departments in the country.

A new era began at Cal in 2002, as Jeff Tedford assumed the reins as the Bears' first-year head football coach. Tedford's first season at the helm was chock-full of superlatives, as he directed the Golden Bears to their first winning season in nine years and their first Big Game win over Stanford in eight years, while earning Pac-10 Coach of the Year honors.

And this past year, he reinforced his gilded reputation by leading one of the nation's least-experienced clubs to a third-place standing in the Pac-10, an 8-6 overall record and the school's first bowl win in 10 years.

Russell White is Cal's all-time leading rusher with 3,367 yards and a 5.1 yards-per-carry average during his three years in Berkeley.

Dameane Douglas set a Pac-10 record with 100 receptions in 1998.

The world of college football may never again witness the sheer dominance displayed by California's legendary "Wonder Teams" of the 1920s, and the 1920 football team, in particular, will forever be remembered as one of the all-time great teams in the history of the sport. Under the genius of coach Andy Smith, the Golden Bears completely dismantled opponents en route to an 8-0 record and made their first appearance in the Rose Bowl. Despite their record and the fact that they had outscored opponents by a total margin of 482-14, the Bears entered the contest as an underdog. Possibly because some Easterners had not yet developed much respect for athletes on the West Coast, a respected Ohio State team was predicted to beat California by six points.

The Bears wasted little time in refuting such predictions, as Pesky Sprott scored a touchdown early in the first quarter to give California a 7-0 lead. That only proved to be the beginning of what was to become a rout, as Andy Smith's team was able to score two more touchdowns in the second quarter while a ferocious Bear defense held Ohio State scoreless for a 21-0 halftime lead. One of the scores came on a piece of Wonder Team trickery, as Sprott pitched the ball to end Brick Muller on a reverse who heaved the ball over 50 yards to Brodie Stephens for the touchdown. That play helped California, which subsequently earned the unofficial national title, break the game open and is thought of as one of the most famous plays in the history of the Rose Bowl.

California's Wonder Team of 1921 may not have been quite as dominant as the 1920 squad, but it was no less successful on the football field. The Bears defeated every opponent they faced in the regular season, scoring a total of 167 points against conference opponents while only allowing 10. California took a 9-0 record into its second straight Rose Bowl, and although the Bears were predicted to have an easy victory, steady rains had reduced the field to a quagmire, and coach Andy Smith predicted a 0-0 tie. The Bears were fortunate to escape with that, as they only gained 49 yards in total offense and had two first downs while Washington and Jefferson had a 36-yard touchdown run called back on an offside penalty. The Bears original strategy to use a wide-open passing attack was impossible given the condition of the field, and they instead had to rely entirely on power. The results were almost disastrous for the Bears, but Archie Nisbet averaged 39.7 yards on 13 punts and deserved much credit for keeping the Presidents from the end zone.

Washington and Jefferson had a distinct advantage in maturity as most of the men on their team were older than the average college player, and California originally objected to having to play a team from a school whose scholarship requirements were far below that of California. The relatively unknown school representing the East was able to keep the Bears from scoring in the swamp-like condition of the field and put an end to California's winning streak at 18 games. It was important to note, however, that California had not yet tasted defeat and would not know it for another four years.

The Rose Bowl of 1929 will be remembered forevermore as one of the most amazing and most talked of games played in the history of collegiate football. California's 1928 team, under coach Nibs Price, faced an undefeated Georgia Tech squad in a very closely contested battle that was made most memorable thanks to a single play by California's Roy Riegels. After a scoreless first quarter, the Bears threatened by moving the ball to Georgia Tech's 25-yard-line. They were unable to get any farther, however, and possession was lost on downs. The next play became one of the most famous (or infamous) of all time. Riegels, California's All-American center, placed his name in the game's lore when Georgia Tech's Stumpy Thomason was hit by the Bears Benny Lom at the Georgia Tech 30. Riegels, who was pursuing the play, scooped up the fumble and started in the right direction, but suddenly he spun around and headed the wrong way. Riegels had reached the Cal one-yard-line before Lom was able to spin him back around, only to be tackled by Georgia Tech. The play resulted in a safety when the Engineers blocked Lom's subsequent punt.

Georgia Tech had a 2-0 lead at halftime, but was able to score again in the third quarter for an 8-0 lead into the fourth quarter. The Bears were finally able to score late in the fourth quarter as Lom passed to Irv Phillips in the end zone, but it was too little, too late.

California returned to the Rose Bowl with the "Thunder Team" of 1937. With a devastating offensive backfield and a rock-solid defense, the Golden Bears trampled their opponents in the regular season, posting a 9-0-1 record and scoring a total of 201 points while allowing only 33. The Bears, under coach Stub Allison, recorded 6 shutouts against opponents and utilized a punishing ground game which not only earned the team the nickname "The Thunder Team" but landed the undefeated team an appearance in the Rose Bowl.

In the Rose Bowl of 1938, the Bears recorded an impressive victory over Alabama, 13-0. California relied on their brilliant backfield of Vic Bottari and Sam Chapman to pave the way on offense, and on defense, the Bears rendered the Crimson Tide offense ineffective, holding Alabama scoreless. Following a fumble recovery by Perry Schwartz in the second quarter, the Bears marched 61 yards and scored on a four-yard run by Bottari. The only other score came early in the third quarter, when Bottari scored a second touchdown on another four-yard run, making the final margin 13-0. California had completed an undefeated season for the first time since the Wonder Teams of the 1920s, and was rewarded with the Golden Bears second and last National Championship.

Coach Pappy Waldorf will forever be remembered as one of the greatest coaches ever at California, and his 1948 team was the first of three consecutive Golden Bear teams he would lead to the Rose Bowl. The Bears of 1948 crushed their opponents en route to an undefeated, 10 win season, earning the team a berth in the Rose Bowl of 1949. The Bears scored nearly three times as many total points as they allowed, and proved themselves as the top team on the West Coast.

The Rose Bowl of 1949 was billed as a battle of wits, as it pitted Pappy Waldorf against one of his former players, Northwestern coach Bob Voights. It proved to be an outstanding game, as the Bears matched the running of Jackie Jensen and Jack Swaner against Frank Aschenbrenner, Ed Tunnicliff, and Art Murakowski of Northwestern. Aschenbrenner opened the scoring with a 73-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, but Jensen returned the favor with a 67-yard scoring run of his own on the next series. The game may have been decided on a controversial touchdown in the second quarter, when Murakowski scored from the one-yard-line as he fumbled into the end zone. With Jensen sidelined with leg cramps, the Bears took the lead, 14-13, in the third quarter on a run by Swaner. Northwestern came back, however, to score the winning touchdown on a 43-yard run by Tunnicliff with 2:59 left in the game. Although the Bears lost the game, the final Associated Press Poll ranked California as the fourth best team in the nation.

The Golden Bears entered the 1950 Rose Bowl with a perfect 10-0 record and what many considered to be the West Coast's finest post-World War II team. Under coach Waldorf, the 1949 Bears were an even more dominant team than the previous year's Rose Bowl team, scoring an average of over 30 points per contest while only allowing slightly over 11 points per game. Unfortunately for California, however, luck was not on their side.

The Bears had built a 7-0 halftime lead on a seven-yard run by Jim Monachino, but Ohio State was able to score 14 unanswered points to open a 14-7 lead at the end of the third quarter. Monachino stunned the Buckeyes early in the final period when his 44-yard touchdown run tied the score at 14-14, but the Bears were to be denied once again. A bad punt by Bob Celeri gave Ohio State the ball deep in California territory late in the game and Ohio State's Jim Hague kicked a 17-yard game-winning field goal with 1:57 left in the contest. The Bears had managed to lose two consecutive Rose Bowls, but if it was any consolation, the final Associated Press Poll ranked the Golden Bears as the third best team in the country.

Pappy Waldorf took his Golden Bears team of 1950 to a third consecutive Rose Bowl. Again the Bears entered the Rose Bowl as an undefeated team that had laid waste to the Pacific Coast Conference. And once again California's string of hard-luck Rose Bowl defeats continued. The Bears appeared ready to give coach Waldorf his first post-season victory, as they entered the game with a 9-0-1 record, having outscored opponents 218-76 during the season.

On the third play of the game, Pete Schabarum exploded on a 73-yard touchdown run that was wiped out because of a penalty. The Bears went ahead 6-0 in the second quarter on a 39-yard touchdown pass from Jim Marinos to Bob Cummings, and it looked as if the Bears might get that elusive Rose Bowl victory. After halftime, however, the Wolverines dominated the action. With only 5:37 left in the game, Michigan took the lead. Moments later they added a second touchdown to secure a 14-6 win over California.

Although Pappy was never able to lead California to a Rose Bowl victory, from the years 1947 to 1952, the Golden Bears compiled a 53-9-1 record under coach Waldorf. Even after the Bears lost to Michigan in 1951, California was ranked as high as the fourth best team in the nation in the final polls, making it three straight years that the Bears had finished among the top five teams in the country.

California's last Rose Bowl appearance was one that many Old Blues would like to forget. Behind quarterback Joe Kapp and halfback Jack Hart, the Bears defeated both USC and UCLA en route to a 7-3 record and the Pacific Coast Conference Championship. California was the premier team on the West Coast and on January 1, 1959, the Bears faced Iowa in the Rose Bowl.

The Bears weren't given much of a chance of upending Iowa and California was true to form as the Hawkeyes recorded a convincing 38-12 victory. The Bears could do little to stop Iowa's powerful rushing game, as the Hawkeyes broke the Rose Bowl record for rushing yardage (429) and total offense (516). Iowa's Bob Jeter erased another Rose Bowl record with an 81-yard touchdown run and finished with 194 yards on only nine carries. Iowa had a commanding 20-0 halftime lead, then increased it to 32-6 after three quarters. Hart was able to score a pair of second half TDs on two runs, but it was hardly enough to turn the tide.

California returned to post-season play after 20 years at the 1979 Garden State Bowl. The Golden Bears of 1979, behind quarterback Rich Campbell, featured a good offense and a solid defense that only yielded 15 points per contest in the regular season. The Bears won their first two and last two games of the season, all on the road, including impressive victories over Washington State and Stanford to bring home the Axe.

Facing Temple in the Garden State Bowl was no easy task for the Bears, as California failed to answer the Owls rushing attack and suffered a 28-17 defeat. The Owls took control of the game early, scoring on their first three possessions to open a 21-0 first quarter lead. Campbell put the Bears back in the game on a pair of second quarter touchdown passes to Matt Bouza and Joe Rose, and in the fourth quarter, Mick Luckhurst's 34-yard field goal pulled California within four at 21-17. That was as close as the Bears were able to come, however, as Temple scored another touchdown late in the game for the win.

WYOMING 15

The 1990 Golden Bears surprised the college football world by refuting predictions that they would be a last place team, capturing a 6-4-1 record and finishing in the top-half of the conference for the first time since 1979. Perhaps most memorable in the regular season, California put an end to "The Streak" by beating UCLA at Memorial Stadium and making a late rally to tie USC in Los Angeles. Under coach Bruce Snyder, the Bears had finally woken from their hibernation of the '80s and were hungry for their first bowl victory in more than half century.

Against Wyoming in the Copper Bowl, the Bears offense, which was very potent during the regular season, had its poorest showing of the season, gaining only 261 total yards. Fortunately, California's defense rose to the occasion to yield a season-low 15 points. Quarterback Mike Pawlawski fired a 25-yard touchdown pass to Brian Treggs in the second quarter to give the Bears a lead they would never relinquish. Robbie Keen nailed a 46-yard field goal in the third quarter, and fullback Greg Zomalt bulled into the end zone from four yards out early in the fourth as the Bears built a 17-9 advantage. In the final minutes of the game, the Bears had to hold off a Cowboy rally that included a 70-yard punt return for a touchdown. However, California stuffed the two-point conversion attempt to seal the victory and gave Old Blues everywhere a special reason to celebrate New Year's Eve.

CLEMSON 13

The Golden Bears made back-to-back bowl appearances for the first time in more than 40 years at the Florida Citrus Bowl. Led by quarterback Mike Pawlawski and tailback Russell White, the Bears had their most explosive offense since the 1975 team won the national scoring championship; in fact, the 1991 team put more points on the board than any California team since the Wonder Team of 1920. The Bears brought a 9-2 record into their first Jan. 1 bowl game in 33 years, capping a season in which they scored a modern-day record 86 points against Pacific, won dramatic come-from-behind games at Arizona and at UCLA, and scored more points than any team in history against USC, a 52-30 whipping before a crowd of 70,000+ at Memorial Stadium.

In the Citrus Bowl, California faced a very tough Clemson squad that had one of the strongest defenses in college football, particularly against the rush. The Bears wasted little time being impressed, however, exploding for 17 first quarter points to leap to a comfortable lead before the Tigers knew what hit them. Among the first quarter highlights was a 72-yard punt return for a touchdown by Brian Treggs that just about crushed any hope Clemson had of coming back, as a ferocious Bear defense kept the Tigers at bay for the rest of the afternoon. Russell White gained 103 yards on 22 carries against a rush defense that had not allowed a 100-yard runner in nearly four years, and the Golden Bears proved to a national television audience that they were indeed one of the elite, Top-10 teams in the nation.

Riding a roller coaster of a regular season that began with five straight wins only to be followed by four consecutive losses and then three more victories, California received a bid to the inaugural Alamo Bowl in San Antonio, Texas, its third bowl in four years. The Bears scored on four of their first five possessions and completely shut down the Iowa offensive attack, limiting the Hawkeyes to just 90 yards of total offense. As a result, Cal became the first Pac-10 school to post three bowl victories in the 1990s.

After three Doug Brien field goals gave Cal a 9-0 lead 20 minutes into the game, the Bears scored a pair of touchdowns in the final minute of the first half. With 35 seconds on the clock, quarterback Dave Barr hit Mike Caldwell for a six-yard scoring pass. Iowa tried to move quickly down field for a late score, but linebacker Jerrott Willard picked off a Paul Burmeister pass and rumbled 61 yards for the touchdown as time ran out, handing Cal a 23-0 halftime margin. Barr, who passed for two more scores in the second half to Iheanyi Uwaezuoke and Brian Remington, finished the game 21 of 28 for 266 yards, while Lindsey Chapman led the rushing attack with 89 yards. As a team, the Bears ended the contest with an impressive 43:14 to 16:46 time-of-possession advantage. The victory was so impressive that Cal was ranked among the Top-25 teams in the nation in the final polls.

In a game that followed a pattern established throughout the 1996 season, Cal provided plenty of offensive fireworks, but a porous defense proved to be the Bears undoing in a 42-38 defeat to Navy in the Jeep Eagle Aloha Bowl on Dec. 25. Cal seemed to have the game well in hand with a 10-point lead late in the game, but reserve Navy quarterback Ben Fay came off the bench to rally the Midshipmen for a pair of touchdowns in the final eight minutes.

The game got off to a bang when Deltha O'Neal returned the opening kickoff 100 yards for a score. However, Cal missed the extra point and held a 6-0 lead 13 seconds into the contest. Once the Bears settled into their offense, they seemed to score at will in the first half, putting together drives of 81, 73, 35 and 61 yards en route to taking a 35-28 halftime lead. Quarterback Pat Barnes threw for three scores, two to wideout Bobby Shaw and one to tight end Sean Bullard, and O'Neal had a 31-yard TD scamper.

Cal, though, could manage only a 41-yard Ryan Longwell field goal in the second half, before Navy put on its late rush, culminating on a 10-yard TD run by Fay with 1:41 left in the contest.

After 98 points and 1,081 yards of offense, the Insight Bowl came down to a 35-yard field goal try, and Tyler Fredrickson made the final kick of his Cal career as time expired to give the Bears a 52-49 victory over Virginia Tech.

Cal's Aaron Rodgers and Virginia Tech's Bryan Randall each flirted with 400 yards passing in an aerial duel that saw both teams rally from 14-point deficits. Rodgers was 27-of-35 for 394 yards and two touchdowns. He also ran for two scores and was named the game's offensive MVP. Randall was 24-for-34 for 398 yards and tied an Insight Bowl-record with four TD passes.
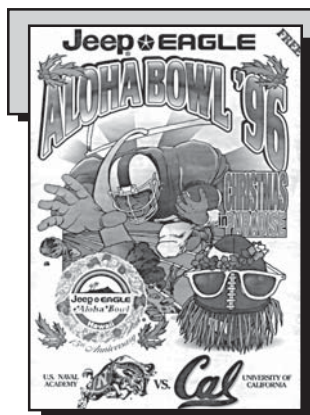

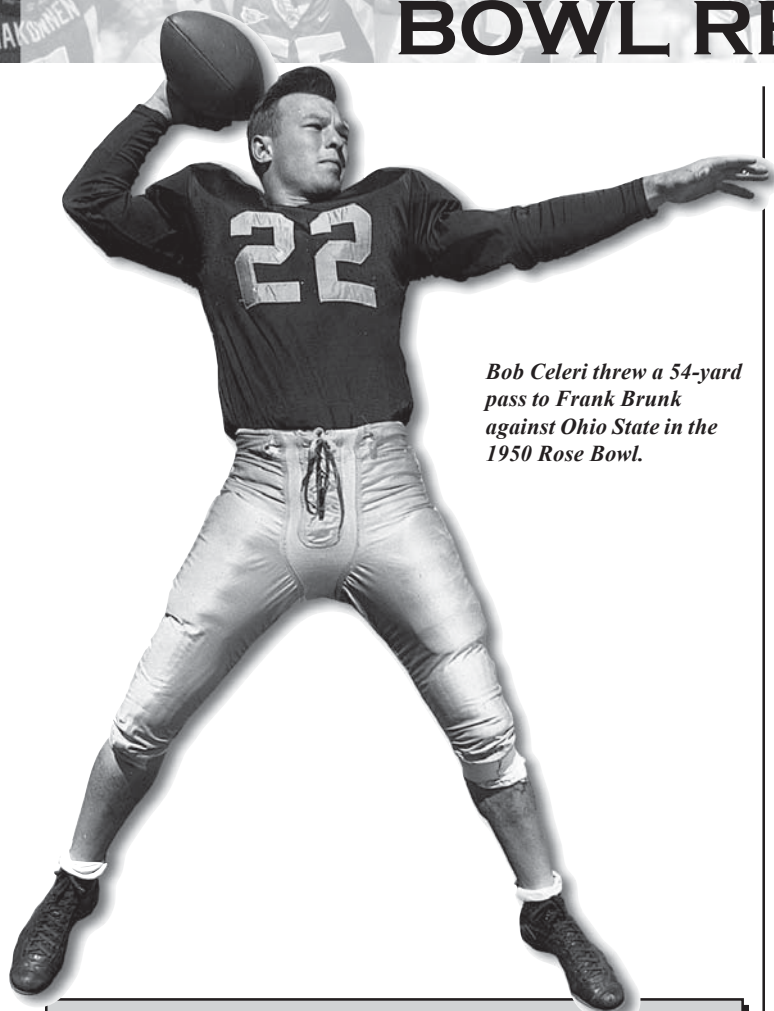

Chase Lyman, starting in place of injured WR Geoff McArthur, caught five passes for Cal bowl-record 149 yards, including a 33-yarder for a touchdown.

Rodgers, 15-for-17 for 245 yards in the second half, scored on an 8-yard option play to put Cal up 42-28 with 48 seconds left in the third quarter. Virginia Tech came back, though, and DeAngelo Hall reversed his field for a 52-yard punt return that tied the game at 49-49 with 3:11 remaining.

The winning drive came after Brandon Pace's kickoff went out of bounds and gave Cal the ball on the 35. Rodgers completed three passes to the Hokie 20-yard line, and a five-yard run by J.J. Arrington set up Fredrickson's winning field goal on the game's final play.
