HEAD COACH JOANNE BOYLE

Cal: 18-11
Career: 85-40
(4 years)

JOANNE BOYLE

Duke 1985

First Year at California

Joanne Boyle, who steered Richmond to three straight postseason appearances, was named head women's basketball coach at California April 15, 2005.

In 2005-06, Boyle has directed a freshman-dominated Cal team to an 18-11 overall record, a sixth-place showing in the Pac-10 (10-8) and the school's first postseason appearance since 1992-93. The Golden Bears boast winning overall and conference records for the first time since 1992-93 when they posted a 19-10 mark and tied for fourth in the Pac-10 at 10-8. This year, Cal notched victories over No. 13 Arizona State (66-64) at home and No. 23 USC (72-67) on the road.

Under Boyle's tutelage, four Cal players received conference postseason honors, highlighted by guard Alexis Gray-Lawson securing the Bears' first Freshman of the Year award. Center Devane Hampton became the eighth player in Pac-10 history to be named first-team All-Pac-10, and freshman forward/center Ashley Walker joined Gray-Lawson and Hampton on the Pac-10 All-Freshman team. Guard Jené Morris received honorable mention Pac-10 All-Freshman.

Boyle, who enters the 2006 postseason with an 85-40 career record, came to Cal after serving three seasons as head coach at Richmond, where she directed the Spiders to three consecutive 20-plus win seasons, including a 23-8 record and the program's first NCAA berth in 14 years in 2004-05. The Spiders finished with a 12-4 record in the Atlantic 10 last year, their best mark in the four years since they joined the conference. In January, the program received its first-ever national ranking – No. 25 in the ESPN-USA Today-WBCA Coaches' Poll.

This past season, Richmond earned the program's first at-large bid and third overall invitation to the NCAA Tournament. The 11th-seeded Spiders lost to sixth-seeded Florida State, 87-54, in the first round. Also in 2004-05, Boyle coached Richmond to wins over Virginia, Liberty and Dartmouth – all NCAA Tournament qualifiers – and fielded a team that led the Atlantic 10 in three-point field goal percentage (35.1%) and ranked in the top five in the conference in 13 statistical categories. For Boyle's efforts, the Richmond Times-Dispatch named her the Virginia State Coach of the Year.

The Philadelphia native recorded a 67-29 mark (.698) in three seasons at Richmond. In addition to the 2005 NCAA Tournament, she led the Spiders to the WNIT quarterfinals in 2003 (21-11) and to the WNIT semifinals in 2004 (23-10). Her 2003-04 team paced the conference in six statistical categories, including scoring offense, scoring margin, field goal percentage and assist/TO ratio. At 17.9 assists per game, Richmond ranked 10th in the nation.

Under Boyle's guidance, six Richmond players were selected All-Atlantic 10, with Kate Flavin receiving first-team honors in 2004 and 2005.

Boyle was hired by the Spiders in April 2002, inheriting a team which posted a 14-16 overall record the previous year and hadn't enjoyed a postseason appearance since 1990-91. As she did at Richmond, Boyle has brought a winner to Berkeley in her inaugural season at the helm.

Boyle also has a proven track record as a recruiter, inking Blue Star Index's 12th-ranked recruiting class in the country for 2005-06. She signed Crystal Goring, who was rated the No. 6 best player nationally by Blue Star and earned McDonald's and WBCA All-America honors.

Before accepting her first collegiate head coaching job at Richmond, Boyle was an integral part of Duke's rise to national prominence as an assistant coach for nine seasons. The season before Boyle's arrival in 1993-94, Duke compiled a 12-15 record and finished last in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Two seasons into her stint in Durham, N.C., the team notched 20-plus wins (22-9) for the first time in 10 years and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

With Boyle on staff, Duke garnered eight straight NCAA Tournament berths, highlighted by appearances in the 1999 national championship game and the 2002 semifinals. The Blue Devils reached the 20-win plateau seven times, twice amassed at least 30 victories, were ranked in the top 10 nationally four straight years, grabbed four regular-season ACC championships and advanced to the 1998 NCAA Elite Eight and to the 2000 and 2001 NCAA Sweet 16.

Kodak All-Americans Michele VanGorp (1999), Georgia Schweitzer (2001), Alana Beard (2002 and 2003) and Iciss Tillis (2003) were among the players who benefited from Boyle's presence at Duke. Beard was selected the 2003 Kodak Player of the Year.

Fueling Duke's rise on the national scene were four straight top five recruiting classes from 1999-02.

Duke's success in 2001-02 was particularly rewarding for Boyle, who faced a unique personal challenge off the court. In late November, Boyle suffered an arteriovenous malformation (AVM) in her brain, which resulted in brain surgery and a lengthy hospital stay. The genetic condition is a capillary deficiency that causes an eruption of blood vessels which produces stroke-like symptoms and bleeding within the cerebellum.

An AVM differs from a clot in that an AVM cannot reappear.

Surrounded by her team, friends and family, Boyle fought valiantly to overcome her illness. Her recovery process was more rapid than her doctors had predicted. Her steely resolve, coupled with intense physical and speech therapy, enabled Boyle to return to her role on the Blue Devils' bench within a month. Not long after that, she was on her way to San Antonio, Texas, with the team for Duke's second Final Four appearance in four years.

Prior to coaching at Duke, Boyle played professional basketball overseas for division one teams in Luxembourg and Germany before returning to the United States after three years. During her European stay, she also won three league championships as head coach of two second division clubs – Etlebrook Luxembourg and Osnabruck Germany.

Boyle, a four-year letterwinner at Duke, graduated in 1985 with a degree in economics and obtained a master's of science degree in health policy and administration from North Carolina in 1989. She ended her playing career ranked second on the Duke scoring charts and second in assists. Her 75 steals during the 1984-85 campaign remained the highest single-season total until Beard broke the mark in 2000-01.

Boyle graduated from Gateway High School in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1981 and played three years of basketball there.

CALIFORNIA

ASSISTANT COACHES

LINDSAY GOTTLIEB
First Year at California

Lindsay Gottlieb, a veteran member of head coach Joanne Boyle's staff, is in her first season as an assistant coach for the California women's basketball team.

Gottlieb assists with all aspects of Cal's program, including recruiting and scouting. During the 2005-06 season, Gottlieb helps with the development of Cal's post players.

During Gottlieb's three seasons as an assistant coach at Richmond under Boyle, the Spiders posted 20-plus wins each year and advanced to the postseason three times. In 2004-05, Richmond finished with a 23-8 record and earned the program's first NCAA Tournament berth in 14 years. The Spiders were invited to the 2003 and 2004 WNIT.

Prior to Gottlieb's stint at Richmond, she served as an assistant coach at New Hampshire in 2001-02, under head coach Sue Johnson.

Before joining the New Hampshire staff, Gottlieb was an assistant coach for two years at Syracuse with Marianna Freeman at the helm. In addition to her coaching duties for the Big East program, Gottlieb was the assistant director of the school's girls' basketball camp. While at Syracuse, she earned her master's degree in philosophy of education.

Gottlieb obtained additional coaching expertise with the Westchester Basketball Association AAU program and Kutcher's Sports Academy.

The Scarsdale, N.Y., native graduated from Brown University in 1999 with a bachelor's of arts degree in political science after playing four years of basketball. Gottlieb was a student assistant coach during the 1998-99 campaign and received the Team Heart and Soul Award in 1999.

A self-described sports geek, Gottlieb advanced to be one of the final 100 contestants for the 2003 ESPN Dream Job television show.

KIM HAIRSTON
First Year at California

Kim Hairston, who helped Richmond achieve national prominence last season, is in her first year as an assistant women's basketball coach at California.

Hairston assists with all aspects of Cal's program, including recruiting and scouting. She focuses on coaching the Golden Bears' guards in 2005-06.

A former standout player at Richmond, Hairston served as an assistant coach at her alma mater during its breakout 2004-05 campaign. The Spiders posted a 23-8 record and earned the program's first NCAA Tournament berth in 14 years. When Richmond head coach Joanne Boyle assumed the reins at Cal, Hairston decided to make the trek west, as well.

Before joining Richmond's staff, Hairston spent two years as an assistant coach at James Madison, where her primary duties included guard development, game strategy and recruiting.

Prior to JMU, Hairston served as an assistant in 2001-02 at Howard, helping the Bison to a first-place finish in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference.

In 2000, Hairston jumpstarted her collegiate coaching career with a one-year stint at James Madison. That season, the Dukes advanced to the semifinals of the 2001 WNIT.

Hairston starred at Richmond for two years (1998-00) after transferring from Radford, where she was named the 1996 Big South Rookie of the Year. As a Spiders' co-captain her senior year, she was named to the 2000 Colonial Athletic Association All-Defensive team.

A product of Bassett, Va., Hairston received her bachelor's degree in sports science from Richmond in 2000.

DEAN MENDES
First Year at California

Dean Mendes, who boasts 12 years of collegiate coaching experience, is in his first season as an assistant coach for the California women's basketball team.

Mendes' arrival at Cal comes on the heels of his two seasons as an assistant coach at Vermont, under women's head coach Sharon Dawley. He was the recruiting coordinator for the Catamounts and assisted with all aspects of the program.

Prior to his time at Vermont, Mendes (pronounced men-DEEZ) served as an administrative assistant for the Boston College women's basketball program during the 2002-03 campaign. The Eagles advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 that season.

Mendes, who hails from Easton, Mass., served four years as assistant women's basketball coach and recruiting coordinator at Brown before his stint at Boston College.

In addition, Mendes developed his coaching skills as an assistant women's basketball coach at Assumption College (1994-96) and at Worcester State College (1996-98).

He earned a bachelor's of arts degree in communications from Fordham in 1982. Mendes' daughter, Shardae Gonsalves, competes on the basketball and lacrosse teams at Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

Mendes, who lists the New York Yankees as his favorite team, is engaged to marry Tina Maietta on Aug. 19, 2006.

Assistant coaches Kim Hairston (far left), Dean Mendes, Lindsay Gottlieb, along with head coach Joanne Boyle (crouching), intently watch the action.
