2005 REGIONAL SUMMARIES

NCAA REGIONAL
MAY 19-21
FRESNO STATE / FRESNO, CA

GAME 1: BYU 3, CALIFORNIA 1

BYU broke up Kristina Thorson's no-hitter with three runs in the sixth inning, as the fourth-seeded Cougars upset No. 1 seed California, 3-1.

The loss snapped the Bears' 13-game regional winning streak that dated back to 2001 and was their first loss in a regional opener since 1998. It also meant Cal would have to win four games over the next two days to remain alive in the NCAA Tournament and advance to the Super Regional round.

The Bears took a 1-0 lead on a second inning two-out single from right fielder Alex Sutton that scored shortstop Chelsea Spencer. Cal mustered just two hits the rest of the way and four on the evening.

Thorson didn't allow a Cougar hit through the first five innings, facing just two batters over the minimum. However, she gave up back-to-back base hits to BYU's Lauren Watson-Perry and Krystle Chamberlain to begin the sixth before striking out second baseman Debbie Dodds. A wild pitch, however, during the next at-bat, moved both runners in to scoring position.

Thorson got Ianeta Le'i to pop out to Spencer and, with two down, the Bears intentionally walked Ashlyn Russell. The next hitter, Paige Paramore, grounded to Spencer, who tried to backhand the ball before seeing it glance off her glove and into left field. The ball rolled toward the foul line - away from left fielder Lindsay James - allowing the bases to empty.

Thorson, who entered the game having allowed just one run in her previous 35.2 innings pitched, struck out seven in six innings of work.

Designated player Emily Friedman went 2-for-3 for Cal, which collected all four of its hits from the last three spots in the batting order.

GAME 2: CALIFORNIA 4, LONG BEACH STATE 3

Catcher Haley Woods belted a two-run double on a two-out, 3-2 pitch in the top of the seventh to lift California to a 4-3 victory over Long Beach State. The Bears, facing elimination from the NCAA Tournament with a loss, advanced to the loser's bracket final against BYU.

Cal took a brief 1-0 lead in the top of the second on an RBI-single from first baseman Julie Meyer that plated designated player Emily Friedman. Long Beach State responded in the bottom of the inning as Kourtnee Gervasi doubled down the right field line with one out. Jonae Perez advanced to third on the hit and scored on an error by Cal shortstop Chelsea Spencer, who bobbled the throw down to second base in an effort to get Gervasi.

Cal starter Kelly Anderson then walked 49er third baseman Melanie McCauley and was replaced by Kristina Thorson, who promptly induced a groundout from catcher Brooke LeSage and struck out center fielder Lauren Johnson to end the threat.

The Bears roared back in the third as a two-out base hit from second baseman Jessica Pamanian plated left fielder Lindsay James for a 2-1 advantage. But again, the 49ers tied the score in the bottom of the inning when Lacy Tyler doubled in Oli Keohohou to knot the game 2-2.

Long Beach State finally surpassed Cal in the fourth as Lauren Johnson rocketed the first pitch she saw from Thorson into the left field bleachers for a 3-2 lead.

Cal put runners on base on base in both the fifth and sixth, but the timely hit was still to come. Right fielder Alex Sutton reached to lead off the seventh on an error by LBSU shortstop Tyler. Erika Racklin entered to pinch run for Sutton, but was cited on a runner's interference call on a grounder to second base by Vicky Galindo. The next batter, Lindsay James, singled and, following a pop up by center fielder Kaleo Eldredge, the stage was set for Woods.

The junior fought back from 1-2 count deficit to line a shot to the base of the wall, allowing Galindo and James to score with ease.

Thorson retired the side in order in the seventh to preserve victory. Long Beach State starter Meredith Cervenka fell to 23-9.

GAME 3: CALIFORNIA 9, BYU 0

Senior Kelly Anderson tossed her sixth career no-hitter and the second in California softball postseason history to pace the Bears to a 9-0, five-inning victory over BYU and into the Fresno State Regional championship game.

Anderson walked the third Cougar she faced, but put the clamps on the BYU hitters after being staked to a five-run lead in second inning. She set down 11 consecutive hitters until walking back-to-back Cougars in the fifth. In the process, Anderson, who no-hit North Carolina and Saint Mary's earlier in the season, became the first Bear since Jocelyn Forest in 1999 to toss a postseason no-hitter.

Cal added one run in the third and was able to shorten the game with three more in the fourth. Shortstop Chelsea Spencer, designated player Emily Friedman and right fielder Alex Sutton all had multiple hits for Cal while third baseman Vicky Galindo and Woods each collected a pair of RBI. Spencer added two runs.

GAME 4: CALIFORNIA 3, FRESNO ST. 1

Behind a two-run fifth and a six-inning relief effort from senior Kelly Anderson, California defeated Fresno State, 3-1, to force a final game to determine the regional champion.

For the first time in program history, the Bears have won three consecutive postseason games after losing the first of a regional tournament. It marked just the second time Cal won three straight regional games when facing elimination.

Cal starting pitcher Kristina Thorson struck out two Bulldogs in the first inning, but Fresno State jumped on the junior immediately in the second. Kristin Sylvester led off the inning with a ground-rule double over the left field wall. Thorson then hit Rachel Donaldson and was replaced in favor of Anderson. The senior promptly walked Jenna Cervantez before a sacrifice fly to left from Shauna Johnson brought home Sylvester.

The Cal bats woke up in the bottom of the inning. Following a walk to second baseman Jessica Pamanian, Spencer earned a two-out base hit - the Bears' first of the afternoon off Jamie Southern. Designated player Emily Friedman then singled to center field to bring Pamanian home and tie the game 1-1. Cal's score ended a 78-inning streak by Southern of not having allowed an earned run.

In the fifth inning, center fielder Kaleo Eldredge doubled down the right field to score third baseman Vicky Galindo for a 2-1 Cal lead. With the speedy Lindsay James at third, catcher Haley Woods laid down a squeeze bunt. The ball dribbled a foot in front of the plate and James scored with ease.

Anderson struck out four and allowed two hits in improving to 26-7.

GAME 5: CALIFORNIA 1, FRESNO ST. 0

Kelly Anderson threw her second no-hitter in as many days and Vicky Galindo's first-inning homer held up as California defeated Fresno State, 1-0, to capture the Region 2 title.

The victory against the host Bulldogs was the second in a span of five hours for Cal.

Anderson (27-7) received all of the offense she would need on Galindo's third homer of the season - an arching shot that carried just over the right field wall and out of reach of Fresno State's Daisy Gaynor.

Anderson, who no-hit BYU a day earlier with six strikeouts, was even more impressive against the nation's 15th-ranked team. In perhaps her most dominant performance of the season, she allowed just one ball to leave the infield - a right field fly out by the Bulldogs' Leticia Pacheco in the first - and just faced just two batters over the minimum. She also didn't allow a runner past first base. All of this after tossing six innings and picking up the victory in Cal's defeat of Fresno earlier in the day.

The no-hitter was the seventh of Anderson's career. She ranks second all-time in that category. Overall, Anderson allowed just one unearned run and five hits in 20.1 innings pitched at the Fresno State Regional.

Fresno starter Jamie Southern, who tossed all of the Bulldogs' postseason innings, scattered seven hits and struck out three.

NCAA SUPER REGIONAL
MAY 27-28
BAYLOR / WACO, TX

GAME 1: CALIFORNIA 8, BAYLOR 0

California took advantage of five Baylor errors and starter Kelly Anderson tossed a three-hitter as the Golden Bears moved one step closer to their seventh straight Women's College World Series, capturing Super Regional game No. 1, 8-0, in six innings.

Cal scored four unearned runs off of Baylor starter Lisa Ferguson in the third inning as the 15th-seeded Bears committed three errors in the inning.

Cal designated player Emily Friedman reached on a fielding error by Baylor shortstop Kim Wilmoth to lead off the third. Two batters later, right fielder Alex Sutton doubled to score Jessica Vernaglia, running for Friedman. Third baseman Vicky Galindo then singled up the middle and after stealing second, center fielder Kaleo Eldredge grounded a two-out pitch to Baylor third baseman Stephanie Pomes who threw in the dirt to first baseman Tessa Lynam. The errant toss allowed Galindo and Sutton to score for a 3-0 lead.

The next batter, catcher Haley Woods, singled to left fielder Kylie Conroy, who charged the ball but allowed it to slip under her glove, letting Eldredge score.

After Cal added three runs in the fifth inning, the Bears ended the game an inning later on a run by Lindsay James that invoked the eight-run rule.

Cal exploited Baylor's fielding mishaps by stealing five bases, and eight of Cal's nine starters reached base at least once.

GAME 2: BAYLOR 4, CALIFORNIA 1

Baylor scored four runs in the sixth inning to defeat California, 4-1, and force a third-and-deciding game at the Super Regional.

The game, originally scheduled for 1 p.m., was moved first to 2 p.m. and then rolled back to 7:30 p.m. because of day-long precipitation in central Texas.

Cal scored its only run on a first-inning leadoff homer by third baseman Vicky Galindo.

Prior to the sixth inning, Cal starter Kelly Anderson was in complete control. A day after she three-hit Baylor in game No. 1, Anderson allowed just two hits through five and one-third innings.

With one out in the Baylor sixth, Carrie Leerberg singled. Leerberg stole second before the next batter, Tessa Lyman, singled to right center field. Cal right fielder Alex Sutton retrieved the ball and threw home in an effort to get Leerberg. The toss was on line and in time, but Bears' catcher Haley Woods was cited for obstruction for blocking the plate without first having the ball.

The earned run was the first Anderson had allowed in 31.2 postseason innings.

Anderson then allowed an infield single to Stephanie Pomes and walked Kim Wilmoth, loading the bases. Melissa Huffhines then unloaded a bases-clearing triple over Sutton's head for the winning margin.

Second baseman Jessica Pamanian collected three of Cal's five hits.

GAME 3: CALIFORNIA 7, BAYLOR 1

Junior Kristina Thorson tossed a one-hitter and California scored all of its runs in the first two innings as the Bears clinched their seventh consecutive Women's College World Series berth with 7-1 victory against host Baylor in the championship game of the Waco Super Regional.

The Bears jumped on Baylor starter Cristin Vitek immediately, as the first five Cal hitters of the game collected base hits. That stretch produced Cal's first two scores on a two-run double from center fielder Kaleo Eldredge that plated third baseman Vicky Galindo and left fielder Lindsay James.

Cal added five additional runs in the second, and by the time Baylor's Lisa Ferguson entered the game with two outs in the inning, the Bears' offense had shredded through three pitchers.

Thorson, meanwhile, was untouchable. She threw four and one-third perfect innings before giving up a solo homer to Baylor's Stephanie Pomes - the only hit she allowed. Thorson struck out 12, including the Baylor side in the third, and faced just one batter over the minimum.
