STEPHEN GLADSTONE

*Director of Athletics
Men's Head Coach*

Named Cal's new Director of Athletics and Recreational Sports on April 30, 2001, Stephen Gladstone is in his second year serving Golden Bear student-athletes as both coach and Athletic Director.

Regarded as one of the premier rowing coaches in the United States, Gladstone enters his eighth year in his second stint as head coach of the men's crew. In 2002, his Varsity and JV Eights won Pac-10 championship and Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) national championship titles. Gladstone was recognized as Pac-10 Men's Rowing Coach of the Year for the fifth consecutive season in 2002. In 2003 his Varsity Eight placed second at the Pac-10

Championship, and third at IRA's, while his JV Eight won both the Pac-10 and IRA titles.

During his previous tenure at Cal from 1973-80, Gladstone guided the Bears to three undefeated dual-race seasons, an IRA title, and a Pac-10 championship.

With a total of 10 IRA Varsity Challenge Cup titles to his credit, Gladstone currently ranks second in all-time varsity championships behind only Charles "Pop" Courtney, who won 11 titles at Cornell between 1901 and 1915.

Gladstone served as the Director of Rowing Operations at Brown University from 1981-94. At Brown, Gladstone established a program that was regarded as the best in all of collegiate rowing. His crews amassed four Eastern Sprints championships, five IRA championships and two National Collegiate Rowing Championship titles. In both 1993 and '94, the Brown varsity crew completed the "triple crown" with victories in each of these regattas - a feat that had never before been accomplished. In Gladstone's final season at Brown, the men's crew went undefeated as a program at all levels of competition.

Gladstone's name has been synonymous with success ever since he began coaching in 1966. After directing the Princeton freshmen to a pair of IRA silver medals, Gladstone took over as varsity lightweight coach at Harvard. He led the Crimson to four straight undefeated seasons, four Eastern Sprints championships and, in 1972, the Thames Challenge Cup and Wyfold Challenge Cup victories at Henley. During his tenure at Harvard, he was coach of the U.S. National team (1969) and was a selector for the U.S. Olympic team (1972).

A graduate of Syracuse University, Gladstone has served on the Board of Directors of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen and has also been a member of the Men's Olympic Rowing Committee. In 1984, he was selected by ABC to serve as the expert commentator for the rowing events at the Los Angeles Olympics, and he worked in the same capacity for NBC at the Seoul Olympic Games. Immediately prior to his return to Cal, Gladstone served as the president and director of marketing for Resolute Racing Shells.

DAVE O'NEILL

Women's Head Coach

Now in his sixth year at Cal, Dave O'Neill, who garnered Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association, Pac-10 and Independent Rowing News Coach-of-the-Year honors in 1999, brings a refreshing perspective to a program with limitless potential. In the five years under O'Neill, Cal has risen to become one of the premier programs in the country. In each season under O'Neill's leadership, Cal has received team invitations to the NCAA Women's Rowing Championships. His '99 varsity crew won a bronze medal at NCAAs and his 2000 squad finished fourth in in the team standing. In 2002 the varsity eight, again, took bronze and strong showings from the JV eight and fours secured the Bears third in the team standings - Cal's best ever team championship finish. Last Season the Varsity Eight placed fourth in the Pac-10 championships, and tenth place over all at NCAA's. The JV Eight and Varsity Four both took home Pac-10 titles, and top three finishes at NCAA's.

Before coming to Cal, O'Neill headed the women's program at Boston College for seven years. Under O'Neill, the BC women were the only club program in the country to compete against Division I varsity competition, and they did so with tremendous success. His crews won numerous championships at the Big East Regatta, New England Championships, Champion International Regatta, and the IRA.

For three summers O'Neill has run USRowing Development Camps at Cal, and produced crews that won gold at the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta. During the summer of 2002 O'Neill worked with the USRowing pre-elite team, and traveled to the World U23 Regatta in Genoa, Italy. The U.S. women's squad won three medals, the most in the country's history.

As an athlete, O'Neill became one of the country's top lightweight oarsmen. During his freshman year at Boston College, O'Neill helped found the rowing program and, soon after, was invited to pre-elite camps, as well as elite training programs at the Riverside Boat Club and Boston Rowing Center. After medaling at the USRowing Nationals, Olympic Festival, CRASH-B Sprints, and the Canadian Henley, O'Neill decided to focus on his coaching but continues to train for and compete in the country's most prestigious cycling races.

A '91 graduate of Boston College with a B.A. in history, O'Neill is a firm believer that the best way to succeed is to provide the athletes with an environment conducive to learning and achievement: "If we make the everyday experience of Cal Crew a worthwhile and meaningful one, results will follow."

GEOFF BOND

Men's Assistant Coach

Entering his fourth season as freshman coach, Geoff Bond brings a passion for rowing and coaching to the T. Gary Rogers Boathouse. In 2001, Bond's first year guiding the frosh, the Bears notched a bronze medal at the IRA national championships and followed it up with a fourth-place finish in 2002. In 2003 his freshmen took home the Pac-10 title, and placed second at the IRA's.

Prior to taking over the freshman program, Bond served as a volunteer assistant coach at Cal for three seasons. During his coaching apprenticeship under Stephen Gladstone, he developed the less experienced oarsmen, raising the standards of the team as a whole. In 1999, he served as head coach for the Bears' Henley campaign, which ended in a second-place finish in the Ladies' Plate at the Henley Royal Regatta.

Bond headed the Berkeley High School boys' rowing program in 1994 and 1996 and was an assistant rowing coach at the Salisbury School in Connecticut, where he taught history from 1988-90.

Bond rowed in Gladstone's powerhouse Brown program, competing in the freshman, JV and varsity eights between 1984-88. During that period, Brown crews won two Eastern Sprints championships and five IRA national championships. Bond graduated from Brown in 1988 with a B.A. in classical Greek and Roman history.

A second-degree black belt in the martial art Aikido, Bond and his wife Hilary lived in Japan for two years teaching English to all levels of students. Currently, they reside in Oakland with their daughter, Evelyn, and son, Phineas.

Fennelly has a strong rowing background. He rowed in high school at St. Joseph's in Alameda and continued at Long Beach State before transferring to Cal and rowing one year in the lightweight varsity eight. In 1979, Fennelly became lightweight head coach while serving as rigger apprentice under the legendary Matt Franich. In 1981, he became Cal's full-time rigger upon Franich's retirement.

Fennelly and his wife, Kathleen, live in Alameda with their two sons, Brian and Patrick.

SARA NEVIN

Women's Assistant Coach

Currently in her third season at Cal, Sara Nevin is coming off a year that saw the Bears novice squad improve immensely. In 2003 Nevin's novice eight placed second at the Pac-10 Championships and was undefeated in dual race competition. Nevin has shown the ability to cultivate novice rowers into competitive oarswomen, as her freshmen have always moved into the varsity and second varsity squads at the season ending regattas.

Nevin joined the Bears in 2002 after serving as the executive director and head coach at the Lake Lanier Rowing Club in Gainesville, Ga. During her five years in Georgia, Nevin coached all levels of rowers from beginners to U.S. National team members. In addition to her coaching, Nevin acted as the full-time boathouse and rowing club director, as well as Regatta Director for the NCAA Women's Rowing Championships in 1998 and 2001.

Before arriving at Lake Lanier, Nevin spent seven years coaching in Seattle, Wash. Between 1989-92, Nevin coached at the Seattle Training Center, coaching a group of elite and pre-elite rowers. Her stint culminated with all eight women earning spots on the '92 Olympic team. From 1990-96, Nevin also coached the varsity boys rowing team at the Mount Baker Rowing Club. There, Nevin grew a program of 16 athletes to over 50 and won four USRowing Junior National Championships, including the school-boys' eight in 1991 and '93.

Nevin earned a B.A. in political science with a minor in pre-medicine from the University of Washington in 1985. During her rowing career at UW, Nevin won three varsity eight national championships between 1983-85 and was undefeated in U.S. collegiate competition. She was a member of the U.S. National team in 1985 and '86.

MIKE FENNELLY

Rigger/Boatman

In his 23rd year as Cal's rigger, Mike Fennelly is regarded as one of collegiate rowing's finest boatmen. He not only maintains all of the program's boats and prepares them for racing, but also keeps the entire boathouse in ship shape. In August of 1992, Fennelly took on the additional responsibility of maintaining the women's equipment.

MEN'S PREVIEW

Coming off of a successful 2003 season, the Cal Men's Crew team looks to make a statement in 2004. After the Varsity Eight claimed second at the Pac-10 Championships, and third in at the IRA Championships, narrowly missing their fifth straight national crown, the Men's team is hungry to regain its titles.

Many of last year's squad members were lost to graduation or to Olympic training, leaving the Bears with the task of regrouping around new leadership. With only two members of the Varsity eight returning, senior co-captain Rob Austerman and senior co-captain coxswain Shawn Ghatan, it was clear early in the fall season that the veterans on this squad would meld together nicely with the sophomores that moved up from last year's very fast freshman boat. The result has been a dynamic group that has repeatedly proven to have an extraordinary capacity for overachievement.

"This is a very solid group of guys," said head coach Steve Gladstone. "They are all contributors. There will definitely be competition for the varsity boat."

As far as identifying individual leaders to replace those who were lost to graduation, Gladstone said it is no easy task. It would be more accurate to say that the squad has benefited from leadership by committee.

"There are so many guys that are leading by example, it is not really possible to single out any one person," Gladstone said.

For example, senior Jesse Bauman has provided inspiring leadership, excelling both in the classroom and on the water. He has the highest GPA on the team and earned Pac-10 All-Academic first team honors last year. His performances have been so significant, however, because of other team members' willingness to respond. Senior Max Frasca and junior Deaglan McEachern, to name two, have regularly answered the call to put forth impressive performances of their own. Other veterans who have worked their way up the ranks to press for a seat in the varsity include Troy Kepper and Rory Tuttle.

Aside from the returning oarsmen, last year's freshman boat has had a huge impact on this squad. Seven of those eight oarsmen return, and while these sophomores are young, they have been instrumental in putting the team on the right path. They cut their teeth with some intense racing last year, culminating in a second-place finish at the IRA championships. This year, they look to redeem themselves, and row through anyone who gets in the way. Among those returning are Peter Maiden, Vaclav Vochoska and Gary Champagne.

"I've never worked with a squad that is more spirited or more motivated," said Gladstone. "They are just terrific people. Without question, they have a great moral. They are a hard driven-bunch of guys that have built a strong foundation for success."

On the aggregate, this group has made an emphatic statement that 2003-04 is anything but a rebuilding year for Cal. Their fall race schedule was limited to one appearance at the Head of the Charles Regatta in Boston. Cal had impressive performances in both the Championship Eight event and the Championship Four. In the eight, Cal finished in third place behind Harvard and Princeton, two of the teams that also figure to be in the hunt for an IRA crown. In the four, Cal took fourth place behind Princeton, Harvard and Brown. It is a mistake to read too much into fall race results, but the results clearly indicate, that Cal has a strong group of oarsmen that are sure to put themselves in a position to win at the IRAs.

For 10 years now, Cal's freshmen have made it a habit of going fast. This year should be no different. Gladstone believes that the freshmen team has the talent and the determination to succeed.

"Freshman coach Geoff Bond has done a great job with them," said Gladstone. "They are hard driving; there are some very talented people, and some very driven people. There is a nice combination of high-level experienced oarsmen and youngsters."

This spring will provide a little more to look forward to than usual. The Friends of Cal Crew have worked hard in planning, funding and building the Golden Bears' future home, the T. Gary Rogers Boathouse. If the weather cooperates, Cal Crew should be able to access part of the new boathouse before the season is over. The Friends expect that the boathouse will be completely done by this coming September. The new facility, at about three times the size of the old Ky Ebright boathouse, will offer the teams the kind of space and flexibility they have needed so badly for decades.

"We'll have the room to do a lot of the work we need, in terms of body circuits, lifting and erging," Gladstone said. "It will be a much more effective training space. I look forward to it."

The Golden Bears will likely be ranked near the top when US Rowing releases its preseason coaches poll. Cal will be up against last year's surprise champion Harvard, and perennial contenders Washington, Princeton and Brown for this year's national title in June at the IRA championships.

WOMEN'S PREVIEW

With an experienced team that includes 15 returning letterwinners from last year's fifth place NCAA squad, head coach Dave O'Neill has all the parts in place to make this spring one of the most successful in the program's history. Building upon the success in 2003, which included a win at the San Diego Crew Classic, Cal enters the season with renewed energy and a commitment to reaching a higher level.

Perhaps most importantly, Dave O'Neill has been impressed with the leadership his core of veterans has shown.

"We have a solid group who know what it takes to win at this level. They have learned from past experiences and raised their standards and expectations," said O'Neill, who is in his sixth year at Cal. "The younger members of the squad have stepped up as well to make a terrific team in every way."

The combination of experienced veterans and improving youth has provided O'Neill with an interesting problem.

"More so than in years past, any number of women can race in the varsity eight. There are a number of possibilities and fast combinations," said O'Neill. "Of course, this is a good problem for a coach – too many good athletes."

Leading the way for the Golden Bears are captains Martha Helgeland and Remy Hitomi. Helgeland, a senior from Oslo, Norway, has been in the varsity boat since her freshman year, and Hitomi, a junior coxswain from Cypress, Calif., is a former walk-on.

"I cannot say enough about the captains this year," said O'Neill. "Martha and Remy are the driving force behind this team and set a terrific example for everyone to follow."

Another source of leadership is senior Jane Griffith. After winning two Pac-10 titles in the varsity four, Griffith is ready for an even better senior year.

"Jane worked very hard over the winter and brings an extra spark to the team," said O'Neill. "She has proven to be one of our most consistent and proficient boat-movers."

Sophomore Kaylan Vander Schilden returns, and O'Neill has been impressed with her development as well.

"Kaylan entered Cal quite skilled, but she has taken steps forward in every way," said O'Neill. "She is better technically, stronger than last year, and a stronger presence."

Returning for their junior seasons are Laura Terheyden, Shaina Kennedy and Karin Clifton. Terheyden has rowed in the varsity eight the two previous seasons while Kennedy has coxed. Clifton rowed three-seat in the second varsity that won Pac-10's and placed third at NCAA's in 2003.

"Laura and Shaina have done some wonderful things in our top eight, and both are fierce racers," said O'Neill. "Karin is a quiet, yet intense, competitor who has become one of our best rowers."

Sauna Walchenbach and Erin Reinhardt are two sophomores, and, according to O'Neill, this class is the strength of the team.

"Our sophomores are strong, row well and very much want to win," said O'Neill. "Sauna and Erin are two, in particular, that are going to race and race hard."

Freshman Jelena Djukic has turned heads from the outset and is certain to be important if the Bears hope to win a Pac-10 title.

"Right away Jelena made an impact on our team," O'Neill said. "Pound for pound, she is the strongest rower I've coached, and her technique has improved significantly."

Also returning are seniors Ashley Peterson and Jessica Patak. They bring different skills to crew, and both are expected to contend for the varsity.

"Ashley is a clever rower who sets a nice rhythm, and JP, plain and simple, might be the strongest rower in the NCAA," said O'Neill.

Three more seniors who will be important are Kelly Tilmanis, Hilary Meu and Teresa Oja, while freshmen Katie Swanson and Lindsay Wall have joined the varsity squad for the spring campaign. All are expected to play important roles for the Bears.

Under the leadership of third-year assistant coach Sara Nevin, the novice squad looks to match its 2003 feat of an undefeated dual season.

"The novices have really taken to the team concept, which is so important in our sport," said O'Neill. "They have a great combination of experienced recruits and walk-ons, and all are committed to a fast novice eight."

The 2004 season will provide the Golden Bears with a number of challenges. The early season classics of Windermere and San Diego will again be tough races as Cal looks to match last year's victories. The duals with Washington and Stanford highlight the mid-season and will have national ranking implications. However, the Golden Bears clearly have their eyes set on the Pac-10 championship.

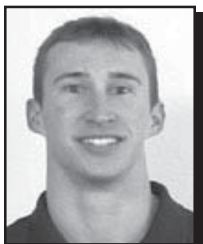

"Everyone knows the that winning a Pac-10 team title is the goal," said O'Neill. "This is the toughest conference in the country, and this accomplishment will set us up for an NCAA Regatta two weeks later."

MEN'S SQUAD

WINDERMERE CREW CLASSIC

The Cal men picked up where they left off in 2002, dominating the competition at the Windermere Crew Classic in Redwood City. The Bears scored victories in the Varsity Eight, Second Varsity Eight and Freshman/Novice categories. Both the Varsity and Second Varsity Eight teams won in convincing fashion over Wisconsin, Penn and Princeton. The freshmen also defeated Wisconsin and Sacramento State.

Although all the Bear boats won their respected races, some of the victories did not come as easily as others. The first race of the day was the closest. The Varsity Eight held a comfortable four-seat lead over Wisconsin until the 1600-meter mark, when the Badgers made their move and forced the Bears to up their tempo. Over the last few meters the Bears held on and narrowly beat a strong Wisconsin team by just .4 seconds with a time of 5:33.9.

SAN DIEGO CREW CLASSIC

The No. 1 ranked Bears headed south to the San Diego Crew Classic and showed why they held the top spot. The Varsity, JV and Frosh/Novice teams all came away champions. The Varsity Eight team won its fifth straight Copley Cup by defeating rival Washington by 1.09 seconds. Oregon State was third, followed by Temple, UC Davis, Stanford and USC.

The JV A boat garnered a victory in the Sharp Cabrillo grand final by beating Washington, as well, by a total of 2.37 seconds. The JV B boat came in fourth in the same race with a time of 6:14.78.

The Lightweight Eight finished fourth behind strong Yale, Navy and Purdue teams with a time of 6:29.35. The Novice Eight followed the lead of the varsity teams, by capturing a victory in the Derek Guelker Memorial Cup final. The Bears beat Oregon State by 1.85 seconds. The Novice Eight B finished in fourth.

WASHINGTON DUAL

In the dual between the No. 1 Bears and the No. 2 Huskies, the Bears came out victorious over their rival to win the Schoch Cup with a time of 5:59.2. The Freshmen Eight came away with a win as well, beating the Huskies by 1.6 seconds.

The JV Eight and Varsity Four finished behind the Husky teams, which gave the two schools a split in the overall competition.

STANFORD DUAL

All three Bear teams cruised to victories in the annual Big Row. The Men's Varsity Eight won by almost eight seconds over the Cardinal. The Bears have beaten the Cardinal in 29 of the last 31 meetings, with this win being the 14th straight. Cal leads the all-time series, 53-18.

PAC-10 CHAMPIONSHIPS

Cal took the overall points victory at the Pac-10 championships, but was upset by Washington in the Varsity Eight race. This was the first time in five years the Bears have lost the title. The Huskies charged hard throughout the entire race and beat the Bears by 2.4 seconds. The JV Eight, Frosh/Novice and Varsity Four all took home Pac-10 crowns.

IRA NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

At the 101st IRA Championships the Bears were gunning for an unprecedented fifth straight national title. Cal, though, saw its streak ended by a surprising Harvard and a strong Washington team. The loss was especially tough for the seniors in the boat who had never settled for anything less than first at the IRA's.

The JV Eight team captured its third consecutive IRA title with a great performance over Harvard and Washington. The JV Eight had an early lead, and held it throughout the race, beating rival Washington by nearly a boat length. Harvard came in third, followed by Cornell, Wisconsin, Stanford, and Oregon State.

The freshmen Eight claimed second place in what ended up being one of the closest races of the competition. The Bears finished just .14 seconds ahead of third place Harvard, but could not keep up with the swift pace of Princeton.

The Varsity Four with Coxswain placed fourth in its grand final behind North Carolina, Columbia and Washington. The Freshmen Four with cox won the petite final with a time of 7:04.96, nearly four seconds ahead of second-place Rutgers.

HEAD OF THE CHARLES REGATTA

At this prestigious regatta Cal had impressive performances in both the Championship Eight event and the Championship Four. In the eight, Cal finished in third place behind Harvard and Princeton, two of the teams that also figure to be in the hunt for an IRA crown this June. In the four, Cal took fourth place behind Princeton, Harvard, and Brown.

WOMEN'S SQUAD

VICTORIA & BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Bears started the season off with a win against both the University of Victoria and the University of British Columbia. The teams battled heavy headwinds, but in the end, the Varsity Eight and JV Eight stroked to double-digit time victories over the two Canadian crews. The closest race of the day came between Cal's 3rd Varsity, and Uvics's Lightweight Varsity Eight – Cal won by only 1.6 seconds.

WINDERMERE CREW CLASSIC

The Bears dominated all of their races in this annual 2000-meter classic in Redwood City, notching victories against Michigan State, Ohio State and Virginia. The Varsity Eight and Varsity Four with Coxswain won their races by a large margin, proving they were the best on the water that day.

The JV Eight didn't make its race look so easy as Michigan State and the Cal battled through the entire course. At the 1500-meter mark, the race was neck and neck, but the Bears sprinted ahead at the 1000, taking a two-second lead. They would never let the Spartans get any closer. The Bears finished 2.4 seconds ahead of the Spartans.

The Bears were the only team at the classic to win all of their races.

SAN DIEGO CREW CLASSIC

No. 4 Cal won the Jessop-Whittier Cup for the first time in program history at the San Diego Crew Classic. Defeating the defending national champion Washington to claim the victory.

Cal had to play catch-up throughout almost the entire race. The Bears were as far back as third until they charged up to the front over the middle 1000 meters to win the race in a time of 6:42.50. They narrowly edged out Washington by .08 seconds. Stanford was third, followed by USC, Washington State, Oregon State, and Texas.

In the JV Eight final, the Bears led the entire way until the last 500 meters when they were over taken by Washington and Washington State.

The Novice squad finished sixth behind winner Washington State. Oregon State finished second, followed by UCLA, Washington, Texas and Cal.

OREGON STATE DUAL

Cal, now ranked No. 1, was victorious in all its races against the Beavers. The Varsity Eight led from the start. Cal held a six-seat lead at the 1000-meter mark, but Oregon State never gave up. The Beavers pressured the Bears hard down the stretch, Cal responded and pulled away winning by 3.3 seconds.

The JV Eight won by an even larger gap of 15 seconds. The Varsity Four, Varsity Four-B, Novice Eight and 2nd Novice Eight also finished victorious—all winning by more than eight seconds. The most surprising race came when Cal's 3rd Varsity Eight beat Santa Clara's Varsity by more than 18 seconds.

WASHINGTON DUAL

The No. 1 Cal Varsity Eight lost a tough race to Washington by a mere three fourths of a length. The race was as close as it could get for the first 1600 meters, with neither team taking more than a two-seat lead. The race changed when the Huskies got a second wind and surged ahead of the Bears with 400 meters to go. UW's speed was too much for the Bears, who could not respond. In the end, Cal finished 2.7 seconds behind the Huskies.

The Bears' 2nd Varsity Eight also fell to the Huskies by 3.0 seconds. The Varsity Four, however, came out victorious in its race, winning by 7.7 seconds. Finally, the Novice Eight won its race by a large margin of 9.4 seconds.

STANFORD DUAL

Coming off a tough defeat in Seattle, the No. 2 Bears came charging back to claim The Big Row. The Bears swept all their races against the Stanford Cardinal on the waters of Redwood Shores. The Varsity Eight took control of its race early, holding a six-seat lead. The Cardinal did not go quietly, it surged with 500 meters to go. But the Bears were ready, gaining two seats and winning by a total of eight seats and a 2.5-second margin.

PAC-10 CHAMPIONSHIPS

Cal came away from Rancho Cordova with a second-place overall team standing at the Pac-10 championships. The Bears' Varsity Eight placed fourth behind the surprising Stanford team, Washington and Washington State.

Cal's JV Eight and Varsity Four both took home the Pac-10 title. The JV raced proved to be a nail biter, with Cal winning by only .6 seconds. The win snapped Washington's six-year grasp on the title and was the first win in the event for the Bears since 1980.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

Cal placed fifth at the NCAA championships in Indianapolis. The JV Eight captured the bronze medal with a strong showing behind Brown and Washington.

Cal's Varsity Four came in second, the highest place by a Cal boat at the NCAA regatta, almost three seconds behind a fast Brown boat.

The Varsity Eight placed fourth in the Petite Final, but Cal's overall performance gave the Bears a top 5 team finish.

One of the real success stories for the University of California in recent years is the development and growth of a comprehensive academic support program for its student-athletes—the Academic Programs for Student-Athletes.

The Academic Program for Student-Athletes, which is housed under the University's Student Life Educational Development cluster, is the tutorial and academic support program for the nearly 1,000 student-athletes at Cal. Centrally-located in the Cesar E. Chavez Student Center, the program provides a spacious and comfortable arboretum for quiet study, separate classrooms for individual and group tutorials, and a computer lab for word processing and required course work.

Geared around the understanding of the amount of time student-athletes must devote to practice, training, physical therapy and team travel, the program creates an environment where students can cultivate good study habits, receive individual or group tutoring and obtain counseling from academic advisors.

The tutorial component promotes and enhances students' academic skills and progress by providing individual tutoring, group workshops, study groups, credit courses and intensive special programs. The program focuses mainly on freshman and sophomores, and the Center uses between 50-60 tutors per semester to guarantee that as many courses as possible are covered. Tutorial sessions are also offered at night enabling student-athletes to receive help after practices when they have more time to devote to studying.

The advising component offers a broad range of services and programs to meet the unique needs and bipolar demands of student-athletes, including assistance in understanding and complying with University, college and NCAA rules, developing time management skills and resolving personal issues unique to student-athletes. During the freshman year, advisors typically try to help student-athletes make a successful academic transition from high school, while during the sophomore year, they assist student-athletes in making decisions on appropriate majors and fields of study. For the final two years, advisors take more of an exiting approach, ensuring that proper academic progress is being made and referring juniors and seniors to areas on campus that can help with internships, graduate school applications and career planning.

HISTORY OF CAL CREW

The University of California and its rowing program were both founded in 1868, and crew thereby became the first sport at Cal. The Cal men's crew began its dominance of national and international rowing in earnest in 1924 with the hiring of Carrol ("Ky") Ebright as head coach. Over Ebright's leadership of 36 years, Cal crew became synonymous with Olympic gold medals and national collegiate championships.

Over the years, Cal has won gold medals representing the United States three times in the Olympic Games, more than any college or university in the world. The year 1928 proved to be a landmark year in Cal crew history as the team compiled arguably the greatest season in the history of collegiate rowing. The crew was undefeated domestically, went on to become the American entry in the 1928 Olympics, and brought home gold from Amsterdam.

The Cal varsity eight repeated its Olympic conquest four years later with a close victory over Italy in the 1932 Olympics at Long Beach, CA, as it too was unbeaten all year. Sixteen years later Cal brought home a third gold medal, this time from the 1948 Olympics at Henley-on-Thames, England.

Ebright's crews also won a total of six Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) championships. In fact, some argue that Ebright's 1939 IRA champion might have been the fastest of all of his fine crews: it had little trouble with its collegiate competitors, defeating Washington by 12 lengths before going on to set the still-standing four-mile course record at the IRA.

Jim Lemmon moved up from frosh coach taking over the reins from Ebright in 1960 and in his seven years as head coach strung together an impressive streak, winning three IRA championships and two Pacific Coast championships. Lemmon's 1964 crew also earned bragging rights as one of California's finest, going through the regular season and the IRA without a loss.

Cal won its next IRA title in 1976, during Steve Gladstone's first turn at the helm from 1973-80. Cal also won the 1979 Pacific Coast championship, as the Bears dominated West Coast rowing and earned a spot in the semifinals of the Grand Challenge Cup at the Henley Royal Regatta in England. Craig Amerkhanian, who guided the Bears frosh crews to the two most recent IRA gold medals was a stalwart in that crew.

Mike Livingston became head coach in 1981 and directed the Bears for three years. His 1982 crew was outstanding. It defeated every top crew in the country in scoring victories in the San Diego Crew Classic and Pacific Coast Championships while earning Cal a berth in the semifinals of the Grand Challenge Cup at Henley.

In 1984, Tim Hodges, Cal's stroke in 1974 and '75, stepped up from freshman coach to lead the varsity. He guided the Bears to dual race victories over Washington in his final three seasons, 1985-87. Hodges'

1986 crew was one of the country's best, as it defeated eventual national champion Wisconsin en route to the Bears victory in the inaugural Redwood Shores Classic and then easily won the Pacific Coast championship. In 1988, Bruce Beall in his first year with the reins guided California to its fourth consecutive dual race victory over Washington.

Mark Zembsch, a 1982 graduate of Cal, took his turn at the helm of program in 1992 after two years of coaching Cal freshmen squads. The Bears showed improvement, winning the '92 traditional cup race over Washington in both the varsity and junior varsity events. In 1995, after three years of rebuilding, the Bears had their best season in nine years, ending in a sixth-place finish at the national championships.

Stephen Gladstone returned for a second stint coaching the Bears in 1997 after many successful seasons at Brown. Charged with returning Cal men's crew to the upper echelon of collegiate rowing, Gladstone wasted no time as the varsity earned an IRA bronze in '97 and '98 and IRA gold during undefeated seasons in '99, '00 and 2001. The Bears won their fourth-consecutive IRA gold in 2002.

Although only 26 years as a varsity sport, the history of Cal women's crew is impressive. One of the top women's intercollegiate sports at Cal, women's rowing started several times earlier in the century as a club and intramural program, but women's crew began as an intercollegiate sport with a flourish in the fall of 1974. Daig O'Connell (Cal '72), the program's first coach, immediately led the Bears to early dominance of women's West Coast rowing. The Bears won the Pacific Coast intercollegiate title their first year of competition in 1975. In fact, they went on to the Pacific Coast championship in four of their five years under O'Connell's tutelage. During O'Connell's years, Cal owned the women's events at the San Diego Crew Classic and in 1979 finished second in the U.S. National Collegiate Championships.

In 1980, O'Connell turned the program over to Pat Sweeney, a 1976 Olympic silver medalist coxswain from Great Britain. In Sweeney's first year, Cal women's crew dominated the national championships. The Bears won the varsity eight, Cal's first ever varsity national championship in any women's sport, and also captured the varsity four and finished second in the junior varsity eight. Although Washington moved to the forefront of women's rowing from 1981-88, winning seven of eight national championships, the Bears captured national titles in the novice eight in 1984 and the varsity four in 1981. During the 1980's, the Bears continued with many successes, including adding to its impressive list that now totals 14 athletes on the U.S. National Team.

From 1988-93 the Bears were led by John Squadroni, who twice took successful varsity crews to the national championships, finishing seventh in 1991 and fourth in 1993, in addition to defeating Washington in both the varsity and junior varsity eights in 1990.

Anna Considine spent four seasons guiding the Bears from 1994-97. Although Cal experienced mixed results during Considine's tenure, her 1997 varsity eight advanced to the final before finishing sixth at the inaugural NCAA Women's Rowing Championship. Upon Considine's departure, Marisa Hurtado assumed the head coaching duties on an interim basis and led the varsity back to the NCAAs in 1998.

In 1999, Dave O'Neill, moved to the forefront of Cal women's crew, as he took charge of the program. In O'Neill's first season as head coach, the Bears earned their first team berth to the NCAA Championships and the bronze-winning varsity eight returned to Berkeley with Cal's first NCAA medal. The Cal women's team has competed at NCAAs each year under O'Neill's tutelage garnering rankings of No. 4 and No. 6 in 2000 and '01, respectively. During 2002 campaign, O'Neill's varsity eight again took bronze while the Bears finished at No. 3 in the overall NCAA Team Championship. In 2003 the Bears were invited, for a fifth straight year, to the NCAAs, a feat that only a select few programs have done.

The Friends of Cal Crew is an organization of rowing alumni and friends of the California Men's and Women's Crews. The "Friends" provides financial support and assistance to the Golden Bear program through two fund-raising groups, the Friends of Cal Women's Crew (Liz Miles, President) and the Friends of Cal Men's Crew (Craig Huntington, President).

Cal Crew is one of the oldest collegiate athletic programs in the country, but rowing is not a revenue-generating sport. If Cal Crew is to maintain the incredible level of excellence it has enjoyed, new revenue sources must be found.

Two of the most important functions of the Friends of Cal Men's and Women's Crews are to organize consistent annual giving and to fundraise for capital projects.

For information on any of the Cal Crew Funds, or if you'd like to help or donate to our ongoing fund-raising efforts, contact the Bear Backer Office, 2223 Fulton St., University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720 or call (510) 642-2427.

T. GARY ROGERS BOATHOUSE

For more than a century, the home of the California crews has been the Oakland Estuary, located between Alameda Island and the city of Oakland. The Estuary offers 11 miles of protected waters, and is one of the few courses in the nation where a straight three-mile race can be held.

The Ky Ebright Boathouse, steeped in almost eighty years of tradition, always embodied the great history and outstanding achievements of Cal Crew. As storied as that facility was, however, it struggled to meet the needs of today's program. Fortunately, the Friends of Cal Crew provided a solution with their campaign to plan, fund, design, and build the future home for Cal Crew, the T. Gary Rogers Boathouse. The new facility will be a three building campus, offering five boat bays, on a property that is three times the size of the former site.

The preserved and restored front half of the Ky Ebright will serve as the inspirational link to the past on the new site, located on the corner of Derby and Glascock streets. The T. Gary Rogers Boathouse is projected to be complete in the summer of 2004. For more information, progress on the construction, or to make a contribution to the fund, please visit www.calcrew.com, or call (510) 452-6112.

BRIONES RESERVOIR

Located over the Berkeley Hills in Orinda, the Briones Reservoir serves as the home of Cal women's crew. With its crystal clear water and limited boat traffic, Briones offers a beautiful escape while providing excellent training conditions 365 days a year.

The topography of the surrounding hills combined with the L-shaped body of water result in flat water conditions regardless of wind direction. In the summer of 2002 a new two-bay facility was completed, which has added to the allure of Briones for both the Cal men and women.

"I have coached and trained throughout the country, and, for me, Briones is the finest body of water in North America," said women's head coach, Dave O'Neill.

ERGOMETER FACILITY

Located underneath the west grandstand at the Edwards Track Stadium, the men's and women's on-campus ergometer facility hums with the spinning of the flywheel and the beat of the boom box seven days a week.

Although the Draconian concrete structure seems a bit foreboding at first, it provides the perfect atmosphere to concentrate on pulling hard.

"The erg room is an integral part of our overall training program," said coach Stephen Gladstone. "Although we have water available to row on all year around, during the winter months we use the machines frequently."

With the music blaring, the coxswains yelling and 40 rowers chasing personal bests, the energy in the ergroom reaches a fever pitch on a regular basis.

Whether it is a scheduled team workout or a solitary training piece, the convenient location of the facility allows the student-athletes to get on and off the erg quickly and get back to life outside of rowing as soon as possible.

The University of California is one of the world's leading academic institutions. The school, known throughout the world as "Cal," is truly a prototype of a contemporary university. It attracts what many consider the finest applicant pool in the country, generates an ethnically and culturally diverse student population on campus, and provides one of the finest undergraduate and graduate learning experiences in the world today.

WORLD-CLASS FACULTY AND STUDENTS

The Berkeley campus is renowned for the size and quality of its libraries and laboratories, the scope of its research and publications, and the distinction of its faculty and students. National rankings consistently place Cal's undergraduate and graduate programs among the very best. The faculty includes eight Nobel Laureates, 122 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 19 MacArthur Fellows, 81 Fulbright Scholars, three Pulitzer Prize winners and more Guggenheim Fellows (137) than any other university in the country.

The quality of Cal's diverse and independent student body complements the stature of the faculty. More than 31,000 students annually enroll at Cal. Of these, about 22,000 are undergraduates, while about 9,000 are graduate students. Students come to Berkeley from all over California, in addition to every state in the union and more than 2,000 students from 75 countries around the world.

The undergraduate student body can best be characterized by its diversity; there is no one racial or ethnic majority. Students reflect all age groups, and economic, cultural and geographic backgrounds. This dynamic mix produces the wide range of opinion and perspective essential to a great university.

THE BAY AREA

Overlooking San Francisco Bay, the campus is a lush and tranquil 1,232-acre oasis in an urban setting. The grounds have retained much of the beauty of their rural beginnings. Spacious lawns, hiking and running trails, as well as groves of oak, redwood and eucalyptus blend with the Neo-classical architecture of John Galen Howard. The University is bordered by the wooded rolling hills of Tilden Regional Park and the City of Berkeley, one of America's most lively, culturally diverse and politically adventurous municipalities.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

By any standard, the University of California offers its students one of the best educations available. Since its birth it has earned a reputation unmatched by any public university in America. According to a recent study by the National Research Council, Cal ranks first nationally in both the number of graduate programs in the Top 10 in their fields (97 percent) and the number of "distinguished" programs for the scholarship of the faculty (32 programs).

Although Cal is well known for its stellar graduate programs, undergraduate teaching is a campus priority.

Cal offers a wide arena for academic endeavor and personal growth with more than 7,000 courses in nearly 300 degree programs. Exceptional support services such as the Student Learning Center, Career and Graduate School Services, the Disabled Students' Program, and campus and alumni mentor programs reflect Cal's strong commitment to undergraduate education. Study abroad is available to undergraduate students through the Education Abroad Program, which maintains more than 90 study centers in countries such as Australia, Costa Rica, Egypt, Hong Kong, New Zealand and Thailand.

Each year, more than 8,500 students receive degrees from the University

- about 5,500 bachelor's degrees, 2,000 master's degrees, 900 doctorates and 200 law degrees.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

The excellence of the University's intercollegiate athletic program rivals the school's academic reputation as Cal boasts one of the finest all-around programs in the nation. Twenty-seven sports - men's and women's basketball, crew, cross country, golf, gymnastics, soccer, swimming and diving, tennis, track & field and water polo; men's baseball, football and rugby; along with women's softball, volleyball, field hockey and lacrosse - are sponsored by the University. Over the years, Cal has captured almost 60 national team championships - including men's crew and rugby in 2001 - while claiming over 100 NCAA individual championships in a variety of sports.

OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM

A myriad of activities also goes on outside the classroom. There are more than 350 registered student organizations, such as the Marching Band, Hang Gliding Club, radio station KALX, ethnic associations, humor and literary magazines, debate team, Cal Corps (volunteer programs), Cal in the Capitol/Sacramento, and political organizations.

In addition, Cal has a host of other features, including public lectures and concerts, campus-sponsored forums and seminars, clubs and workshops, dramatic presentations, international festivals, art, photographic, design, architectural, anthropological and archaeological exhibits and displays, and dozens of bookstores within one-square mile - all of this making Berkeley one of the most intellectually stimulating communities in the country.
