CAL CREW COACHING STAFF

STEPHEN GLADSTONE

Men's Head Coach

Regarded as one of the premier rowing coaches in the United States, Steve Gladstone enters his 11th season of his second stint – and 18th year overall – as head coach of Cal men's crew.

Last spring, Gladstone directed the Golden Bears to both the IRA national championship and the Pac-10 title. With Cal's win in the Varsity 8 race at the IRA regatta by a two-second margin over Princeton, Gladstone won his 11th IRA crown, tying him with Cornell's Charles "Pop" Courtney for most Varsity Challenge Cup victories in the history of collegiate rowing.

From 2001-04, Gladstone served in the dual role of crew coach and director of athletics at Cal. Wanting to give full measure to coaching, he resigned from his AD position in 2004 but not before he left an indelible impression on the Athletic Department. Most notably, he hired Jeff Tedford in December 2001 to lead the football program.

Despite the pressures of being both athletic director and crew coach, Gladstone led his teams to three medal finishes at IRAs, with a gold-medal standing in 2002 and bronze medals in both 2003 and '04.

Dominance was the norm during the 1999 through 2002 seasons. The varsity eights claimed the IRA national championship each year and set an IRA record time in 1999. Additionally, the JV eight won Pac-10 gold in 2002 and IRA gold in 1999, 2001 and 2002. Gladstone was recognized as Pac-10 Men's Rowing Coach of the Year for five consecutive seasons, from 1998 through 2002.

In 1997 and 1998, with Gladstone's return to Cal, the Bears once again stepped onto the IRA medal stand with third-place finishes both years.

From 1981-94 Gladstone served as the Director of Rowing Operations at Brown University in Providence, R.I. While at Brown, Gladstone established a program that was, at the time, unparalleled in collegiate rowing. His crews amassed four Eastern Sprints championships, five IRA championships and two National Collegiate Rowing championships. In both 1993 and 1994, the Brown varsity crew completed the "triple crown" with victories in each of the aforementioned championship regattas - a feat that had never before and has never since been accomplished. In Gladstone's final season at Brown, the men's crew went undefeated at all levels of competition.

During his previous tenure at Cal from 1973-1980, Gladstone guided the Bears to three undefeated dual-race seasons, an IRA title and a Pac-10 championship.

Gladstone's name has been synonymous with success ever since he began coaching in 1966. After directing the Princeton freshmen to a pair of IRA silver medals, Gladstone took over as varsity lightweight coach at Harvard. He led the Crimson to four straight undefeated seasons, four Eastern Sprints championships and, in 1972, the Thames Challenge Cup and Wyfold Challenge Cup victories at the Henley Royal Regatta in England. During his tenure at Harvard, he served as the U.S. National team coach (1969) and was a selector for the U.S. Olympic team (1972).

A graduate of Syracuse University, Gladstone has served on the Board of Directors of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen and has also been a member of the Men's Olympic Rowing Committee. In 1984, he served as ABC's expert commentator for rowing events at the Los Angeles Olympics, and he worked in the same capacity for NBC at the Seoul Olympic Games in 1988. Immediately prior to his return to Cal, Gladstone was the president and director of marketing for Resolute Racing Shells.

DAVE O'NEILL

Women's Head Coach

Dave O'Neill is in his ninth year as head coach of the Cal program. The list of accomplishments over his eight years is long and impressive by any measure. The program has been invited to the NCAA championships each year, won three Pac-10 titles and two NCAA crowns. The program has taken home five trophies from NCAA's by finishing among the top four nationally, including the 2005 and 2006 championships.

Under O'Neill, Cal's Varsity 8 coached has placed among the top three at NCAA's four times (1999, 2002, 2005, and 2006) and has always finished among the Top 10 at the NCAA regatta. The Varsity 8 has been undefeated in regular season competition the last three years, including the 2005 crew which completed its undefeated season by setting an NCAA record (6:20.7) to win the NCAA Varsity 8 national championship. In addition to the success of the Varsity 8, the Second Varsity 8 has finished among the top three at NCAA's the last four years and won four straight Pac-10 titles.

During his tenure at Cal, O'Neill has garnered numerous awards, including the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association's (CRCA) national Coach of the Year in 1999 and 2005 and has been named Pac-10 Coach of the Year three times (1999, 2004, 2005). The CRCA named him Coach of the Year for the west region those same years. He was also named collegiate Coach of the Year by Independent Rowing News in 1999 and was awarded a similar award by the Joy of Sculling conference in 2002. O'Neill's 2005 Varsity 8 was named Crew of the Year by Independent Rowing News.

Throughout his coaching career, O'Neill has been involved with international rowing. O'Neill coached the U.S. Under-23 National team in 2006. He led the women's eight to a gold medal at the U23 World Championship in Hazewinkel, Belgium, in a world-best time in the process (6:06.7). In 2002, he helped coach the U.S. squad that raced at the World U23 Regatta in Genoa, Italy, where he was responsible for the women's pair that finished second. Eight of the women O'Neill has coached at Cal have gone on to race for their respective senior national teams, and there have been eight Golden Bears racing on U23 National teams. O'Neill will again coach the U.S. Under-23 team in 2007.

Before coming to Cal, O'Neill headed the women's program at Boston College for seven years. Under O'Neill, the BC women were the only club program in the country to compete against Division I varsity competition, and they did so with tremendous success. His crews won numerous championships at the Big East Regatta, New England Championships, Champion International Regatta, and the IRA.

As an athlete, O'Neill became one of the country's top lightweight oarsmen. During his freshman year at Boston College, O'Neill was a founding member of the rowing program. Soon after, O'Neill was invited to pre-elite camps, as well as elite training programs at the Riverside Boat Club and Boston Rowing Center. After medaling at the USRowing Nationals, Olympic Festival, CRASH-B Sprints and the Canadian Henley, O'Neill decided to focus on his coaching, but continues to train for and compete in the country's most prestigious cycling races.

A '91 graduate of Boston College with a B.A. in history, O'Neill is a firm believer that the best way to succeed is to provide the athletes with an environment conducive to learning and achievement: "If we make the everyday experience of Cal crew a worthwhile and meaningful one, results will follow."

GEOFF BOND
Men's Assistant Coach

Geoff Bond is a 1988 graduate of Brown University where he earned a B.A. in Classical Greek and Roman History. Bond rowed in Steve Gladstone's powerhouse Brown program, competing in the Freshman, JV and Varsity 8s, between 1984 and 1988.

During that period, Brown won two Eastern Sprints championships and two IRA Varsity national championships.

After graduating from Brown, Bond and his wife, Hilary, spent two years teaching and coaching at the Salisbury School in Salisbury, Conn. They then traveled to Japan where they taught English for two years. Bond headed the Berkeley High School Boys' Crew Program in 1993-94 and 1994-95. When Gladstone returned to Cal in the fall of '96 he asked Bond to join him as his varsity assistant. During Bond's three years of apprenticeship under Gladstone, he helped develop the less experienced athletes, and ultimately coached the Varsity 4+ at the IRA each year. In 1999, he led the Bears' Henley campaign, which ended in a second-place finish in the Ladies' Plate at the Henley Royal Regatta.

Bond is currently in his seventh year at the helm of the California freshman crew. In addition to four consecutive Pac-10 wins in '03, '04, '05 and '06, his crews have been in the medals at the IRA national championships four of the last six years. In both 2004 and 2005, the Cal frosh were undefeated national champions, something never done before at Cal in consecutive seasons. Another first under Bond's leadership has been four consecutive victories over the Washington Huskies in the annual freshmen dual dating back to 1939.

In the rare moments when he is not training his athletes or recruiting the next generation of Cal oarsmen, Bond can be found either preparing his house for the next big quake, napping or doing laps around the Oakland Airport on his bicycle. Currently, he and his wife live in the Oakland Hills with their three children, Evelyn, Phineas and Beatrix.

SARA NEVIN
Women's Assistant Coach

Currently in her sixth season at Cal, Sara Nevin has led the novice crew to the top of the Pac-10; in 2004, the Bears captured the Pac-10 crown for the first time since 1989. Nevin has shown the ability to cultivate novice rowers into competitive oarswomen.

Many of her rowers have moved up the ranks to contribute to the varsity's success. The class of '05 was Nevin's first crew at Cal, and this group of seniors provided the leadership for the 2005 NCAA championship team.

Nevin joined the Bears in 2002 after serving as the executive director and head coach at the Lake Lanier Rowing Club in Gainesville, Ga. During her five years in Georgia, Nevin coached all levels of rowers from beginners to U.S. National team members. In addition to her coaching, Nevin acted as the full-time boathouse and rowing club director, as well as Regatta Director for the NCAA Women's Rowing Championships in 1998 and 2001.

Before arriving at Lake Lanier, Nevin spent seven years coaching in Seattle, Wash. Between 1989-92, Nevin coached at the Seattle Training Center, coaching a group of elite and pre-elite rowers. Her stint culminated with all eight women earning spots on the '92 Olympic team. From 1990-96, Nevin also coached the varsity boys' rowing team at the Mount Baker Rowing Club. There, Nevin grew a program of 16 athletes to over 50 and won four USRowing Junior National Championships, including the school-boys' eight in 1991 and '93.

Nevin earned a B.A. in political science with a minor in pre-medicine from the University of Washington in 1985. During her rowing career at UW, Nevin won three varsity eight national championships between 1983-85 and was undefeated in U.S. collegiate competition. She was a member of the U.S. National team in 1985 and '86.

MIKE FENNELLY
Rigger/Boatman

In his 26th year as Cal's rigger, Mike Fennelly is regarded as one of collegiate rowing's finest boatmen. He not only maintains all of the program's boats and prepares them for racing, but also keeps the entire boathouse in ship shape. For the past 15 years, Fennelly has taken responsibility of maintaining the women's equipment in addition to the men's.

Fennelly has a strong rowing background. He rowed in high school at St. Joseph's in Alameda and continued at Long Beach State before transferring to Cal and rowing one year in the lightweight varsity eight. In 1979, Fennelly became lightweight head coach while serving as rigger apprentice under the legendary Matt Franich. In 1981, he became Cal's full-time rigger upon Franich's retirement.

Fennelly and his wife, Kathleen, live in Alameda with their two sons, Brian and Patrick.

2007 SEASON OUTLOOK

MEN'S PREVIEW

California men's crew looks to make a statement in 2007 after a successful 2006 season. Last year, the Golden Bears won the school's 15th Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) national championship. Cal returns seven members from the 2006 Varsity 8 squad that won the Pac-10 and IRA titles: seniors Elliot Hayes, Daniel Casaca and Marko Knezevic, and juniors Charlie Smith, Max Wyatt, Jan Tize and Marko Marjanovic.

"The goals are pretty simple and they don't vary year-by-year," said Cal head coach Steve Gladstone. "Our goal is to absolutely maximize the depth and talent we have. The goal to repeat as national champions isn't a reasonable goal since we can't control the speed of other boats. A tough, yet still achievable goal is to maximize our team. Our guys are really progressing well and there is real vitality. We are looking forward to the season."

This year's Varsity 8 has great experience, with the squad made up primarily of rowers from the 2004 and 2005 undefeated, national champion freshman squads, as well as the 2006 national champion varsity crew.

"When you have people that are used to being successful, that forms a habit," Gladstone said. "If properly nurtured, that is a tremendous asset."

The varsity crew has a strong commitment to work hard in practices. Their ambition to succeed is a great asset to the Bears as they vie for back-to-back IRA national championships.

"We have good depth - people with good mental and physical capabilities," Gladstone said. "On a day-by-day basis, the individuals challenge each other and are working to beat each other. They compete daily in three or four boats. In order to work at the level you need to be at to succeed, you need to have competition."

With seven of the eight oarsmen returning from the 2006 Pac-10 champion freshman crew, all levels of Cal rowing show potential for great results. The Bears' depth lies not only in the varsity boat, but also in the second tier of rowers.

"What it (the team's depth) does is allow us to have more capable people," Gladstone said. "That keeps the pot boiling, and that internal competition is absolutely essential. You can't compete without that."

The varsity crews fall race schedule featured one appearance at the Head of the Charles Regatta in Boston where the Bears finished in seventh among the collegiate rowing teams. While the course and race format is very different than spring racing, it is an indication that Cal has a good group of oarsmen that is sure to put itself in a position to succeed at the IRA national championship regatta. The freshman squad came in first out of 78 crews racing in the Youth 8 at the Head of the Charles Regatta. At the Head of the American Regatta, the freshman squad took first place in both the Open 4+ and the Novice Collegiate 8.

Cal returns seven athletes from the 2006 Pac-10 champion Freshman 8.

Cal's freshman squads have made a habit of going fast. With the great successes of the boats over the past four years, two first-place and two second-place finishes at the IRA national championships, there are high expectations for this year's group to remain a dominant force.

"The 2007 California frosh are ambitious," said Cal freshman coach Geoff Bond. "Their Head of the Charles win, a Cal crew first, combined with successful inter-squad work with the Cal varsity, indicates that the freshmen should have the speed to contend at the top level in the spring. With very good depth on the team, the intensity of competition for the top boats and seats will be fierce. Hopefully, that will in turn generate speed on the race course in early June."

The team is looking forward to a full season of competition against the usual challengers. Building on last year's success, Cal is awaiting a chance to defend its 2006 IRA national championship against perennial foes from around the nation and within the Pac-10.

"The challenge is without question the University of Washington," Gladstone said. "Their freshman won the IRA championship last year. Harvard and Wisconsin will be strong. Washington, Stanford and Harvard stand out, in that order, as strong competition."

WOMEN'S PREVIEW

Sporting back-to-back NCAA team championships, California women's crew looks to continue the success it has achieved over the last several years in 2007. With the potential to claim another national title this spring, the Golden Bears are aiming to become the first women's crew team to stand atop the victory platform three years in a row.

The 2007 team will include a number of newcomers along with a strong group of veterans. Cal returns 16 letterwinners, most of whom have experience racing at NCAA's and head coach Dave O'Neill said he sees a lot of potential in this team.

"Every team is a little different," said O'Neill, who is in his ninth year at the helm of the program. "There are new challenges each year. This year's team has learned a lot, and they continue to improve each day."

While the Golden Bears have a strong pool of talented and experienced women, they expect to be challenged throughout the season.

"Everyone on the team understands that each year is different, and the only thing we can do is make the 2007 team as fast as possible," O'Neill said. "The Pac-10 is going to be very competitive, so the racing will be tough throughout the season. We will stay focused on what we can do and on our goals for the year."

Leading the way for the Bears are captains senior Megan Smith and junior Mara Allen. Smith gained valuable experience last summer when she raced with the U.S. Under-23 National team, winning a gold medal at the U23 World Championships.

"The Under-23 team really opened Megan's eyes to what she is capable of doing, and she has stepped up to another level this year," said O'Neill, who served as head coach of the U.S. squad. "Mara is a solid rower and a driving force on our team."

The California Golden Bears return 16 letterwinners from the 2006 national champion women's crew.

Also returning to the varsity squad are junior Onna Poeter and sophomore Krista Ellis. Poeter rowed three-seat in the 2006 Varsity 8, while Ellis coxed the Varsity boat.

"Onna has come a long way, and she is really moving the boat well," O'Neill said. "She has always been one of the strongest women on the team, and she is now becoming one of the most efficient, as well. Krista is a true competitor. Her focus and drive is felt by everyone."

Junior Candice Rediger and sophomore Lauren Nowinski both competed in the Second Varsity 8 last spring, and according to O'Neill they have returned better than ever and have now become mainstays in the top crew.

"Candice and Lauren are stronger and faster than last year, and they are intense racers," O'Neill said.

Seniors Kirsten Hextrum and Megan O'Connor are back for their last season of racing, and both will be integral in the team's success. Hextrum and O'Connor were key members of the 2006 Second Varsity 8 which won the Pac-10 championship and placed second at NCAA's.

Three more members of the 2006 Second Varsity 8 return for the upcoming season. Ali Seders, Kaiti Seders and Maggie Devine continue to improve, and they add valued depth to a team loaded with talent.

"Our Second Varsity 8 has done very well the last few years," O'Neill said. "Much of this comes from the fact that most of these women would be in many other programs' top crew. The intrasquad competition raises the level for everyone, and these three women are stepping up."

Newcomers Taryn O'Connell and Eeva Karppinen have proven to be real boat-movers, O'Neill said, noting that the freshmen have stepped into the program and have made an immediate impact.

"Taryn and Eeva add a lot of power and skill to our team," O'Neill said. "Although they are freshmen, they arrived with plenty of experience, and we will rely on them heavily throughout the season."

Under the leadership of fifth-year assistant coach Sara Nevin, the novice squad is loaded with talent, and their development will be critical to the team's success this spring and beyond.

"Athletes from the novice squad have always contended for the NCAA crews by the end of the spring, and the same will be true this year," O'Neill said. "We could have as many as six or seven freshman racing in our top two eights."

The Golden Bears will face a number of challenges during the 2007 campaign. The San Diego Crew Classic will be the first real test as the Golden Bears look to capture their fifth straight title. The Windermere Classic will be another significant test, as the team will face Notre Dame, Tennessee and Louisville. The Simpson Cup against rival Washington will be another great competition as the race moves to Seattle this year.

"After winning NCAA's the last two years, everyone will be excited to race us, so we need to be prepared," O'Neill said. "I am confident we will be."

Ultimately, these races point to the Pac-10 and NCAA championship regattas where the Cal women will be racing at their peak. The team is ranked second in the preseason poll, and O'Neill believes this team has the potential to earn a third straight NCAA title.

"The women on this team recognize what they can accomplish, and they have shown real commitment to each other and the program," O'Neill said. "I am excited to watch them race."

2006 SEASON IN REVIEW

MEN'S SQUAD

WINDERMERE CREW CLASSIC

In the fourth annual Windermere Crew Classic, all three Golden Bear boats went undefeated for the fourth straight year. The varsity eight, second varsity eight and freshman eight all came away from Redwood Shores unscathed and only one race was decided by less than five seconds.

The varsity eight beat Navy handily by an eight second open water victory. The Bears defeated Yale by a 19 second margin. Against Northeastern, Cal opened up a quick two second lead over the Huskies. The Bears continued to race hard and expanded their lead over Northeastern to a full 14 seconds.

The second varsity eight started off the regatta with a nine second victory over Navy, followed by an eight second win over Yale and then defeated Northeastern by 10 seconds. The JV eight showed their power winning all three of their races by an open water margin.

In their first race at Redwood Shores, the freshmen posted impressive victories over Pennsylvania and Long Beach State, winning by 17 and 28 seconds respectively.

SAN DIEGO CREW CLASSIC

Cal's varsity eight came out in second place behind No. 4 Stanford. In one of the closest races of the regatta, the No. 2 California Golden Bears put together a very fast race, but it wasn't enough to win their eighth consecutive Copley Cup. Both Cal and Stanford got out to fast starts, but after 1,000 meters the Cardinal had a two-second lead. The Bears fought hard but couldn't capture the lead. Stanford finished just two seconds ahead of Cal after 2000 meters.

Cal's second varsity eight claimed the Sharp Cabrillo Cup championship, finishing three seconds ahead of the Cal B and 25 seconds ahead of UC Davis. Their Bears faced little challenge outside of the other Cal team on their way to victory.

For the third year in a row the Cal freshman eight stroked to a strong finish over the rest of the competition. The Bears captured the Derek Guelker Memorial Cup with a six second win over Pac-10 rival Stanford.

STANFORD INVITATIONAL

The Cal varsity eight boat defeated Wisconsin for the second consecutive year in a dual race at Redwood Shores. The Bears started out strong and expanded their lead throughout the rest of the race, ending with an open-water margin over Wisconsin.

WASHINGTON DUAL

The Golden Bears won the Schoch Cup, winning all three dual races against Washington by an open water margin.

In the men's varsity eight race, the Huskies jumped out to an early lead of .28 seconds after 500 meters, but the Bears quickly turned things around, progressively moving ahead of Washington and finishing the race almost nine seconds ahead of the Huskies.

The second varsity eight started off in a similar fashion to the varsity race, with the Huskies jumping out to a quick half second lead after 500 meters. Cal turned things around and ended up with a four second margin of victory over Washington.

The Bear's freshman eight also started out half a second behind the Huskies after 500 meters. Just like all the other Cal boats, the Bears regained the lead by the 1000 meter mark. The freshman eight ended up winning by four and a half seconds. This win was the freshman eight's fourth consecutive victory over the Huskies, the Bears longest such streak.

STANFORD DUAL

The California Golden Bears won the Schwabacher Cup, winning all three of the races in the dual race against Stanford.

In the men's varsity eight race, the Bears jumped out to an early lead of .55 seconds after 500 meters, and the Bears never let up. At the conclusion of the race Cal had stretched their lead to a full three seconds.

The second varsity eight dominated their race throughout, claiming a two second lead after just 500 meters and seven seconds by the 1500 meter mark. The Bears finished the race 14 seconds ahead of Stanford.

The Bear's varsity four also held a multi-length lead by 500 meters and a 19 second lead at the half way point. The Bears continued to dominate the race, eventually winning by more than 47 seconds.

PAC-10 CHAMPIONSHIPS

Cal won its second consecutive Pac-10 championship in convincing fashion, finishing the day undefeated in all four levels of competition.

In the men's varsity eight, Stanford started out ahead of the Bears, but Cal made a strong comeback to defeat the Cardinal by three seconds. Washington, Oregon State and Loyola Marymount followed, six, 15 and 25 seconds behind Cal respectively.

The Bears' led the varsity four race throughout, jumping out to a two-second lead after 500 meters and a three second lead with 500 meters to go. The Huskies made a strong push, but Cal held onto a one second lead as they crossed the finish line.

The freshman eight continued its undefeated streak in the closest race of the day. The Bears led throughout, but the Huskies never let Cal more than 1.5 seconds ahead. The Bears finished the race just .2 seconds ahead of Washington.

Cal once again was unchallenged in the second varsity eight, jumping out to a quick two-second lead after 500 meters. The Bears never let up, finishing more than three seconds ahead of the Huskies.

IRA NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

The varsity eight captured the gold medal for the first time since 2002; finishing ahead of Princeton, Brown and Harvard. The varsity eight finished the year with just one loss; the Bears lost to Stanford at the San Diego Crew Classic. The IRA varsity national championship marked the 15th such accomplishment in school history; only Cornell (26) has won more IRA varsity national championships.

Cal's freshman eight fell to Washington by just over one second. This defeat was the Bear's first since Cal finished second, behind Princeton, in the 2003 IRA National Championships.

The men's varsity eight led Cal to a 15th IRA national championship.

WOMEN'S SQUAD

UC SANTA BARBARA / BRITISH COLUMBIA / SIMON FRASER

The Bears began the 2005 racing season with wins over British Columbia in the varsity eight, Simon Fraser in the JV eight and UC Santa Barbara in the third varsity eight and novice eight. Each of the Cal boats won its races by at least 10 seconds, with the third varsity boat finishing more than 30 seconds ahead of the Gauchos.

WINDERMERE CREW CLASSIC

For a fourth consecutive year the Bears dominated competition at the Windermere Crew Classic, winning six of their seven races and all three varsity races. The varsity eight defeated no. 4 Ohio State, no. 16 Boston University and no. 3 Virginia by six, 12 and 11 seconds respectively.

SAN DIEGO CREW CLASSIC

The No. 2 Bears won their fourth straight Jessop-Whittier Cup at the 33rd annual San Diego Crew Classic.

The Bears trailed no. 8 USC throughout the first 1000 meters, but the Trojans proved to be no challenge for Cal, as the Bears rowed to a two second victory.

In the second varsity eight race Cal held a lead throughout. The Bears jumped out to a one second lead after 500 meters and maintained this lead for the rest of the race.

In one of the day's closest races, the novice eight started the race with a one-second lead over Texas and a two-second lead over both Oregon State and Cal after 500 meters. The race concluded with the Bears one second ahead of the Longhorns and five seconds ahead of the Cardinal.

The third varsity eight, rowing in the Carley Copley Cup Grand Final, dominated the field. The Bears finished 14 seconds ahead of Notre Dame and 15 seconds ahead of Riverside Rowing Club.

LOUISVILLE, WISCONSIN,
INDIANA, PURDUE,
NOTRE DAME

On Saturday, under difficult weather conditions the Bears varsity eight defeated Wisconsin and Louisville by four and eight seconds respectively. The second varsity eight fell to Wisconsin by less than a second, while finishing nine seconds ahead of Louisville. In the Sunday races, Cal stayed ahead of its competition, defeating Indiana and Purdue by 11 and 32 seconds respectively at the varsity level. The second varsity eight defeated Wisconsin by three seconds, after falling to the Badgers the day before; Notre Dame finished 11 seconds behind the Bears. In the late Sunday varsity eight race, the Bears defeated Notre Dame and Purdue by five and 52 seconds respectively.

WASHINGTON DUAL

The Bears won three of the four races against Washington, beating the Huskies in a dual race for the third straight year. The varsity eight, varsity four and novice eight were all victorious over Washington, but the Huskies avoided a sweep by winning the second varsity eight race by six seconds. The varsity eight defeated Washington by two seconds, the closest race of the day. The varsity four and novice eight won by 21 and three seconds, respectively.

STANFORD DUAL

The California Golden Bears won all six of the races in the dual race against Stanford. Facing a strong headwind, the Cal varsity eight won their fourth consecutive dual matchup against Stanford by 14 seconds. In the day's closest race, Cal's varsity four A defeated the Cardinal by eight seconds.

PAC-10 CHAMPIONSHIPS

For a third consecutive year the Cal women's crew won the Pac-10 team title. The varsity eight defeated Washington State by three seconds to capture their third consecutive championship; Stanford, Washington, UCLA and Oregon State rounded out the field. The second varsity eight won its fourth consecutive Pac-10 title with a two second win over the Bruins; Washington State, Washington, Stanford and USC came in behind the UCLA. The Novice eight fell to Gonzaga and Washington, finishing nearly eight seconds out of the lead and four seconds behind the Huskies; Oregon State, Sacramento State and Stanford followed four, 14 and 23 seconds behind Cal respectively. The varsity eights third consecutive championship marked the first time a team other than Washington has won more than two consecutive Pac-10 championships (Cal 1978-1979 and UCLA 1990-1991).

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP

California finished second in all three of its grand finals, enough to propel the Bears to their second consecutive NCAA team title. The strong performances earned Cal 66 points in the team competition, the same total as Brown; with a higher position in the varsity eight race, Cal was awarded the championship. The varsity four finished second, four seconds behind Brown and less than half a second ahead of Ohio State. Washington State, Washington, and Michigan State rounded out the field. The second varsity eight finished nearly six seconds behind Brown, and only .29 seconds ahead of third place Wisconsin. Ohio State, Washington State and Princeton came in behind the Badgers. Princeton easily defeated Cal by nearly seven seconds, but the Golden Bears edged out the Brown Bears by .261 seconds to claim second place.

The win is Cal's third NCAA women's team crown in school history, after the Bear softball squad captured the 2002 NCAA Women's College World Series. For women's crew, it was the team's third national title, with the first coming under the AIAW (precursor to the NCAA) in 1980 and the second coming last year. Cal became the third team to win back-to-back team titles (Washington 1997-1998 and Brown 1999-2000).

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

One of the real success stories for the University of California in recent years is the development and growth of a comprehensive academic support program for its student-athletes.

The Academic Program for Student-Athletes, which is housed under the University's Student Life Educational Development cluster, is the tutorial and academic support program for the nearly 1,000 student-athletes at Cal. Centrally-located in the César E. Chavez Student Center, the program provides a spacious and comfortable arboretum for quiet study, separate classrooms for individual and group tutorials, and a computer lab for word processing and required course work.

Geared around the understanding of the amount of time student-athletes must devote to practice, training, physical therapy and team travel, the program creates an environment where students can cultivate good study habits, receive individual or group tutoring and obtain counseling from academic advisors.

The tutorial component promotes and enhances students' academic skills and progress by providing individual tutoring, group workshops, study groups, credit courses and intensive special programs. The program focuses mainly on freshman and sophomores, and the Center uses between 50-60 tutors per semester to guarantee that as many courses as possible are covered. Tutorial sessions are also offered at night enabling student-athletes to receive help after practices when they have more time to devote to studying.

The advising component offers a broad range of services and programs to meet the unique needs and bipolar demands of student-athletes, including assistance in understanding and complying with University, college and NCAA rules, developing time management skills and resolving personal issues unique to student-athletes. During the freshman year, advisors typically try to help student-athletes make a successful academic transition from high school, while during the sophomore year, they assist student-athletes in making decisions on appropriate majors and fields of study. For the final two years, advisors take more of an exiting approach, ensuring that proper academic progress is being made and referring juniors and seniors to areas on campus that can help with internships, graduate school applications and career planning.

HISTORY OF CAL CREW

The University of California and its rowing program were both founded in 1868, and crew thereby became the first sport at Cal. The Cal men's crew began its dominance of national and international rowing in earnest in 1924 with the hiring of Carrol ("Ky") Ebright as head coach. Over Ebright's leadership of 36 years, Cal crew became synonymous with Olympic gold medals and national collegiate championships.

Over the years, Cal has won gold medals representing the United States three times in the Olympic Games, more than any college or university in the world. The year 1928 proved to be a landmark year in Cal crew history as the team compiled arguably the greatest season in the history of collegiate rowing. The crew was undefeated domestically, went on to become the American entry in the 1928 Olympics, and brought home gold from Amsterdam.

The Cal varsity eight repeated its Olympic conquest four years later with a close victory over Italy in the 1932 Olympics at Long Beach, CA, as it too was unbeaten all year. Sixteen years later Cal brought home a third gold medal, this time from the 1948 Olympics at Henley-on-Thames, England.

Ebright's crews also won a total of six Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) championships. In fact, some argue that Ebright's 1939 IRA champion might have been the fastest of all of his fine crews: it had little trouble with its collegiate competitors, defeating Washington by 12 lengths before going on to set the still-standing four-mile course record at the IRA.

Jim Lemmon moved up from frosh coach taking over the reins from Ebright in 1960 and in his seven years as head coach strung together an impressive streak, winning three IRA championships and two Pacific Coast championships. Lemmon's 1964 crew also earned bragging rights as one of California's finest, going through the regular season and the IRA without a loss.

Cal won its next IRA title in 1976, during Steve Gladstone's first turn at the helm from 1973-80. Cal also won the 1979 Pacific Coast championship, as the Bears dominated West Coast rowing and earned a spot in the semifinals of the Grand Challenge Cup at the Henley Royal Regatta in England. Craig Amerkhanian, who guided the Bears frosh crews to two IRA gold medals was a stalwart in that crew.

Mike Livingston became head coach in 1981 and directed the Bears for three years. His 1982 crew was outstanding. It defeated every top crew in the country in scoring victories in the San Diego Crew Classic and Pacific Coast championships while earning Cal a berth in the semifinals of the Grand Challenge Cup at Henley.

In 1984, Tim Hodges, Cal's stroke in 1974 and '75, stepped up from freshman coach to lead the varsity. He guided the Bears to dual race victories over Washington in his final three seasons, 1985-87. Hodges' 1986 crew was one of the country's best, as it defeated eventual national champion Wisconsin en route to the Bears victory in the inaugural Redwood Shores Classic and then easily won the Pacific Coast championship. In 1988, Bruce Beall in his first year with the reins guided California to its fourth consecutive dual race victory over Washington.

Mark Zembsch, a 1982 graduate of Cal, took his turn at the helm of program in 1992 after two years of coaching Cal freshmen squads. The Bears showed improvement, winning the '92 traditional cup race over Washington in both the varsity and junior varsity events. In 1995, after three years of rebuilding, the Bears had their best season in nine years, ending in a sixth-place finish at the national championships.

Stephen Gladstone returned for a second stint coaching the Bears in 1997 after many successful seasons at Brown. Charged with returning Cal men's crew to the upper echelon of collegiate rowing, Gladstone wasted no time as the varsity earned an IRA bronze in 1997 and 1998 and IRA gold in 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002 and 2006. With the 2006 IRA championship, the Bears have won 15 IRA national championships, the second most behind Cornell (26).

Although only 27 years as a varsity sport, the history of Cal women's crew is impressive. One of the top women's intercollegiate sports at Cal, women's rowing started several times earlier in the century as a club and intramural program, but women's crew began as an intercollegiate sport with a flourish in the fall of 1974. Daig O'Connell (Cal '72), the program's first coach, immediately led the Bears to early dominance of women's West Coast rowing. The Bears won the Pacific Coast intercollegiate title their first year of competition in 1975. In fact, they went on to the Pacific Coast championship in four of their five years under O'Connell's tutelage. During O'Connell's years, Cal owned the women's events at the San Diego Crew Classic and in 1979 finished second in the U.S. national collegiate championships.

In 1980, O'Connell turned the program over to Pat Sweeney, a 1976 Olympic silver medalist coxswain from Great Britain. In Sweeney's first year, Cal women's crew dominated the national championships. The Bears won the varsity eight, Cal's first ever varsity national championship in any women's sport, and also captured the varsity four and finished second in the junior varsity eight. Although Washington moved to the forefront of women's rowing from 1981-88, winning seven of eight national championships, the Bears captured national titles in the novice eight in 1984 and the varsity four in 1981. During the 1980's, Cal's first women's varsity crew in 1975.

the Bears continued with many successes, including adding to its impressive list that now totals 14 athletes on the U.S. National Team.

From 1988-93 the Bears were led by John Squadroni, who twice took successful varsity crews to the national championships, finishing seventh in 1991 and fourth in 1993, in addition to defeating Washington in both the varsity and junior varsity eights in 1990.

Anna Considine spent four seasons guiding the Bears from 1994-97. Although Cal experienced mixed results during Considine's tenure, her 1997 varsity eight advanced to the final before finishing sixth at the inaugural NCAA Women's Rowing Championships. Upon Considine's departure, Marisa Hurtado assumed the head coaching duties on an interim basis and led the varsity back to the NCAAs in 1998.

In 1999, Dave O'Neill, moved to the forefront of Cal women's crew, as he took charge of the program. In O'Neill's first season as head coach, the Bears earned their first team berth to the NCAA championships and the bronze-winning varsity eight returned to Berkeley with Cal's first NCAA medal. The Cal women's team has competed at NCAA championships each year under O'Neill's tutelage garnering rankings of No. 4 and No. 6 in 2000 and '01, respectively. During 2002 campaign, O'Neill's varsity eight again took bronze while the Bears finished at No. 3 in the overall NCAA team championship. The 2004 crew began the year by winning their second straight Jessop-Whittier Cup at the San Diego Crew Classic. A few weeks later they triumphed again, beating Washington in a dual race for the first time in 13 years. In 2005 the Bears won a second consecutive Pac-10 title and won the Bears first ever NCAA championship. In 2006 the Bear's entered the NCAA championships undefeated on the varsity level and fresh off of a third consecutive Pac-10 championship. The Bears finished second in all three levels of competition, enough to edge out Brown for Cal's second consecutive NCAA championship.

FRIENDS OF CAL CREW

The Friends of Cal Crew is an organization of rowing alumni and friends of the California Men's and Women's Crews. The "Friends" provides financial support and assistance to the Golden Bear program through two fund-raising groups, the Friends of Cal Women's Crew (Liz Miles, President) and the Friends of Cal Men's Crew (Craig Huntington, President).

Cal Crew is one of the oldest collegiate athletic programs in the country, but rowing is not a revenue-generating sport. If Cal Crew is to maintain the incredible level of excellence it has enjoyed, new revenue sources must be found.

Two of the most important functions of the Friends of Cal Men's and Women's Crews are to organize consistent annual giving and to fundraise for capital projects.

For information on any of the Cal Crew Funds, or if you'd like to help or donate to our ongoing fund-raising efforts, contact the Bear Backer Office, 2223 Fulton St., University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720 or call (510) 642-2427.

T. GARY ROGERS ROWING CENTER

With a generous donation from Cal alumni Gary Rogers, and the hard work of Friends of Cal Crew, the Bears opened their brand new boathouse in 2004. The facility is a three building campus on a property that is three times the size of the former site. The boathouse offers five boat bays and a training space that can accommodate both men's and women's crew.

The T. Gary Rogers boathouse replaces the storied Ky Ebright boathouse, which was built more than a century ago. The preserved and restored front half of the Ky Ebright boathouse will serve as the inspirational link to the past and a museum of sorts. Many Olympic gold medalist, world champion and national champion crews have trained at the Ky Ebright boathouse at one time. It is believed that the boathouse is home to more Olympic gold medalists than any other facility in the world.

BRIONES RESERVOIR

Located over the Berkeley Hills in Orinda, the Briones Reservoir serves as the home of Cal women's crew. With its crystal clear water and limited boat traffic, Briones offers a beautiful escape while providing excellent training conditions year-round.

The topography of the surrounding hills combined with the L-shaped body of water result in flat water conditions regardless of wind direction. In 2002, a new two-bay facility was completed, which has added to the allure of Briones for both the Cal men and women.

"I have coached and trained throughout the country, and, for me, Briones is the finest body of water in North America," said women's head coach Dave O'Neill.

ERGOMETER FACILITY

Located underneath the west grandstand at the Edwards Track Stadium, the men's and women's on-campus ergometer facility hums with the spinning of the flywheel and the beat of a boom box seven days a week.

Although the Draconian concrete structure seems a bit foreboding at first, it provides the perfect atmosphere to concentrate on pulling hard.

"The erg room is an integral part of our overall training program," said men's head coach Stephen Gladstone. "Although we have water available to row on all year around, during the winter months we use the machines frequently."

With the music blaring, the coxswains yelling and 40 rowers chasing personal bests, the energy in the ergroom reaches a fever pitch on a regular basis.

Whether it is a scheduled team workout or a solitary training piece, the convenient location of the facility allows the student-athletes to get on and off the erg quickly and get back to life outside of rowing as soon as possible.

The UNIVERSITY of CALIFORNIA

SIMPLY THE BEST

There is no other way to aptly describe America's top public university. There is no other way to describe one of the elite academic settings in the world – especially one that also includes one of America's most successful athletic departments.

The University of California blends the best of all worlds. Overlooking the scenic San Francisco Bay and ranked as the nation's top public university by the U.S. News and World Report, the flagship campus of the state of California also features an athletic program that annually finishes among the leaders in the Directors' Cup standings, which rates the overall success of America's athletic departments.

Cal attracts what many believe to be the finest applicant pool in the United States. The university features a diverse student-body population. The University of California offers 300 degree programs, and 35 of the school's 36 graduate programs are ranked among America's top 10. Cal's 35 programs among the top 10 is No. 1 among all universities in the country, as is its 32 "distinguished" programs, as rated by the National Research Council.

The library is ranked third in the country, as judged by Association of Research Libraries with 9 million volumes in 18 campus libraries.

The faculty features seven Nobel Laureates, 131 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 28 MacArthur Fellows, 76 Fulbright Scholars, three Pulitzer Prize winners and more Guggenheim Fellows (380) than any other university in America.
