CAL CREW COACHING STAFF

MIKE TETI
Director of Cal Crew

Mike Teti, formerly the head coach of the 2008 U.S. men's Olympic rowing team, became the head coach of men's crew at the University of California in July 2008.

Teti fulfilled his obligations with the Olympic team through the Beijing Games and officially started at Cal on Sept. 1, 2008. He replaced Steve Gladstone, after coaching the U.S. men's eight to a bronze medal in China.

In December of 2008, Teti received the USRowing Medal, the highest honor that the rowing governing body can bestow.

A longtime fixture on the national level, Teti served on the U.S. coaching staff at the World Championships and Olympic Games regularly since 1996. He coached the U.S. men's eight to nine world championship medals during that time period including four gold medals in 1997, 1998, 1999 and 2005.

Mike Teti coached the U.S. team for the last time at the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, China.

At the Olympics in Athens 2004, he directed the men's eight to a world record in its heat and an eventual gold medal, marking the first time the United States captured the men's eight since 1964.

U.S. national team crews produced 27 total medals under Teti's guidance.

Teti was named the U.S. head men's sweep coach after the 1996 Olympics and head men's coach following the 2000 Games. At the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, all of his sweep boats qualified for the finals, with the men's pair capturing the silver medal.

Teti is the coach of the only men's eight in U.S. history to win three consecutive world championship titles (1997-99), a feat that earned him three consecutive USRowing National Coach of the Year honors. He was also selected the Developmental Coach of the Year title in 1996.

At the 2003 World Championships, Teti coached the men's eight to a silver medal and the men's four with coxswain to a gold. The men's eight also won a bronze medal at the 2002 World Championships. In addition, he led the U.S. men to four gold medals at the 1999 Worlds and to three medals at the 1998 Worlds.

Teti started his coaching career in 1982 at Temple University, leading his crews to six titles in seven years at the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia. In 1989, he began a stint as freshman coach at Princeton, where his freshman eights won IRA titles five times.

As a rower, Teti was a 12-time national team member and three-time Olympian. From 1977-93, he won 24 national titles, a silver medal at the 1979 Pan American Games in the four, and a bronze and a gold in the eight at the World Championships (1985 and '87). He was also a bronze medal-winner in the eight at the 1988 Olympics. In 1987, Teti was named USRowing's Male Athlete of the Year after rowing bow on the world champion U.S. eight.

Born in Upper Darby, Pa., Teti rowed at St. Joseph's University, where he earned his bachelor's degree in 1978. He is a member of the St. Joseph's and USRowing Halls of Fame. Teti is married to Kay Worthington, an outstanding rower in her own right who won gold medals in the women's four and eight for Canada at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona.

SUPPORT STAFF

GEOFF BOND
Assistant Coach/Novice Coach

Geoff Bond is a 1988 graduate of Brown University, at which he earned a B.A. in Classical Greek and Roman History. Bond rowed in Steve Gladstone's powerhouse Brown program, competing in the freshman, junior varsity, and varsity eights between 1984 and 1988. During that period Brown won two titles at the Eastern Sprints Championships and two IRA varsity national championships.

After graduating from Brown, Bond and his wife, Hilary, spent two years teaching and coaching at the Salisbury School in Salisbury, Conn. They then traveled to Japan, where they taught English for two years. Bond headed the Berkeley High School Boys Crew Program in 1993-94 and 1995-96. When Gladstone returned to Cal in the fall of 1996, he asked Bond to join him as his varsity assistant. During Bond's three years of apprenticeship under Gladstone, he helped develop the less experienced athletes and ultimately coached the varsity 4+ at the IRA Regatta each year. In 1999 he led the Bears' Henley Campaign, which ended in a second-place finish in the Ladies' Plate at the Henley Royal Regatta.

Bond is currently in his ninth year at the helm of the California freshman crew. In addition to five consecutive Pac-10 wins in 2003-07, his crews have collected medals at the IRA national championships in six of the last eight years. In 2004 and 2005, the Cal freshmen were undefeated national champions, something never done before at Cal in consecutive years. Cal also won the 2007 and 2008 IRA freshman eight titles. Another first under Bond's leadership was Cal's recent five-year winning streak (2003-07) over the Washington Huskies in the annual freshman dual that dates back to 1939.

Currently, he and his wife live in the Oakland Hills with their three children, Evelyn, Phineas and Beatrix.

MIKE VALLARELLI
*Assistant Freshman Coach/
Director of Recruiting*

The Boston product, who competed at Cal from 1999 to 2002, rejoined the Cal coaching staff in the summer of 2008. He had been working as a fixed-income trader at JP Morgan Securities since graduating from Cal in 2003.

In 2001, Vallarelli coxed the undefeated Pac-10 and IRA national champion Cal varsity eight. He also coxed Cal's varsity eight to IRA and Pac-10 national titles in 2002.

As a member of the national team, Vallarelli coxed the U.S. four to a sixth-place finish at the 1997 Junior World Championships.

LUKE AGNINI
Assistant Varsity Coach

Luke Agnini joined Cal's coaching staff in 2008. Previously, Agnini rowed with the Pennsylvania Athletic Club, winning four national championships for Penn AC. He held a number of positions in the Philadelphia, Pa., area, including the role of assistant director for the Masters Rowing Association.

Agnini also coached a U.S. coxed pair from Penn AC that reached the 2007 World Championships, claiming seventh place overall. He coached the U.S. Under 23 lightweight 4- to an eighth-place finish at the U23 World Championships. He also will coach the U.S. U23 lightweight 4- in 2009.

Agnini coached at St. Joseph's Prep in Philadelphia in 2004 and 2005.

A product of Marietta College in Marietta, Ohio, Agnini graduated in 2002 with degrees in psychology and history. He competed in the IRA Regatta while rowing at Marietta.

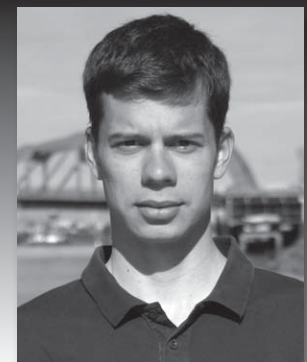

MIKE FENNELLY
Rigger/Boatman

In his 28th year as Cal's rigger, Mike Fennelly is regarded as one of collegiate rowing's finest boatmen. He not only maintains all of the program's boats and prepares them for racing, but also keeps the entire boathouse in ship shape.

Fennelly has a strong rowing background. He rowed in high school at St. Joseph's in Alameda, Calif., and continued at Long Beach State before transferring to Cal and rowing one year in the lightweight varsity eight. In 1979, Fennelly became lightweight head coach while serving as rigger apprentice under the legendary Matt Franich. In 1981, he became Cal's full-time rigger.

Fennelly and his wife, Kathleen, live in Alameda with their two sons, Brian and Patrick.

MARKO KNEZEVIC
Volunteer Assistant Coach

2009 SEASON OUTLOOK

Cal's varsity 8+ will try to earn first-year head coach Mike Teti both Pacific-10 and IRA championships in 2009.

Expect more of the same success for California men's crew in 2009, even with a big change at the head of the storied program. The new season ushers in a new era under first-year head coach Mike Teti, just as 2008 closed the chapter on Steve Gladstone's second stint as the Golden Bears' boss. Teti ended his long tenure as the U.S. national team head coach by leading the U.S. squad at the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing and then jumped into the Cal position on Sept. 1, 2008.

"I am honored to have been chosen to lead the men's rowing program at Cal," Teti said last summer. "From the Olympic gold medals of the Ky Ebright era, to the numerous national championships over the past decade under Steve Gladstone, Cal is rich in rowing history. I am well aware of the expectations and look forward to the challenge of upholding the strong tradition of California Crew. I am already quite comfortable ending each phone call and E-mail with the words... GO BEARS."

He later said about his new team, "They've done well on the freshman level and across the board, always in the top three. A lot of those kids will be back. It's not like they left the cupboard bare. So far they've been a fun group to work with. They're young guys and they're bright, competitive, and it's a really good environment."

Cal's varsity 8+ posted a third-place finish at the 2008 IRA Regatta on the Cooper River in New Jersey, and the Bears' freshman 8+, under assistant coach Geoff Bond, won another national championship after edging Washington, 5:37.372-5:37.37880. The Bears also claimed a pair of second-place finishes (in the second varsity 8+ and freshman 4+) and two fourth-place finishes (in the varsity 4+ and open 4+) at IRAs. Cal collected 207 points to finish second in the team standings.

With a strong roster of returnees, freshmen, transfers and other significant newcomers, the Bears could produce another top-five finish in the varsity 8+ and overall team standings at the collegiate national championships, which will be held at Lake Natoma in Gold River, Calif., in 2009. This marks the first time the IRA Regatta will be held on the West Coast.

NEW ADDITIONS TO VARSITY 8+

There could be more changes to Cal's top boat than just replacing the four members of the 2008 varsity 8+ – including Cal's current volunteer assistant coach, Marko Knezevic – who are gone. A pair of 6-foot-6 rowers – Jan Tize and Olympian Olivier Siege-laar – should push hard for seats in Cal's top boat as could members of Cal's 2008 second varsity 8+, including Nikola Zunic and Axel Stelter. Zachary Vlahos, Cal's second varsity 8+ coxswain last season, could vie with Michael Porter, last year's top Cal coxswain, for the cox role on the varsity team. He participated in Canada's Olympic training camp, but did not join fellow Cal products Jake Wetzel and Scott Frandsen on the team that rowed in Beijing.

Cal's freshman 8+ go for a third straight IRA championship this season.

NOVICE CREW STRONG AGAIN

Geoff Bond brings in another strong freshman or novice crew, which includes Patrick Williams, coxswain Reze Wong and Australian Jack Farthing. A San Francisco Bay Area native from Foster City, Calif., Williams rowed on the U.S. 4+ that placed 14th at the 2007 World Rowing Junior Championships in Beijing. With Farthing in the bow, the Kings School won the Schoolboy Eight national championship in 2006.

Wong, a product of Folsom, Calif., coxed Capital Crew's 8+ to the title in the men's junior 8+ grand final at the 2007 San Diego Crew Classic. He and Sam Leisk, an England-born Bear who now calls Monte Sereno, Calif., home, should compete for the job of coxswain on the novice 8+. Sophomore Jimmy Henson is an intriguing addition to Cal's novice ranks. The 6-4 rower from Mount Shasta, Calif., is a former member of the Cal men's swimming team.

STACKED FIELD

The Pac-10 boasts one of the other big threats on the West Coast for the national championship in defending conference and Ten Eyck champion Washington, which produced the varsity 8+ runner-up in 2008. Stanford, led by head coach and Cal alumnus Craig Amerkhanian, is also another strong team that did well in 2008 (5th in varsity 8+ grand final, 10th in team standings) and could make some noise at IRAs. Another Cal alumnus, Chris Clark, coached his Wisconsin varsity 8+ to the national championship in the 2008 IRA Regatta, making the Badgers obvious contenders in 2009.

"Washington will be difficult to beat," Teti said. "Mike [Callahan, Washington's coach] is a great coach. He coached our U.S. U-23 boat this summer. Brown, Wisconsin, Harvard, Princeton, they're all going to be tough. It's going to be hard to win."

He added, "But Cal is a force to contend with."

8+. Nick Lucey and Spencer Crowley, who rowed on the national-champion freshman 8+ last year, are also candidates to earn spots on the varsity boat.

Seniors Janis Fontein and Brandon Shald along with juniors Will Dean and Nareg Guregian are the other returning members of Cal's varsity 8+ from last season. Fontein rowed on the varsity 8+ in each of the previous two seasons, while Shald, Dean and Guregian rowed on Cal's top boat in 2008 and on the Bears' novice 8+ in 2007.

Siegelaar rowed in the third seat for the Netherlands' 8+ that took fourth place in the 2008 Olympic final in a time of 5:29.26, right behind the U.S. 8+ (5:25.34) coached by Mike Teti. The product of Haarlem, the Netherlands, has competed extensively on the international scene, including placing ninth with the Dutch double sculls in the 2008 Rowing World Cup regatta in Lucerne and finishing 10th with the Dutch quadruple sculls in the 2007 Rowing World Cup regatta in Amsterdam.

Tize, a member of the All-Pac-10 team in 2006, when Cal won its last conference championship, took last season off to attempt to earn a spot on Canada's 2008 Olympic

The varsity 4+ hopes to vie for an IRA title.

2008 SEASON IN REVIEW

Cal's novice 8+ won the IRA national championship in 2008.

PAC-10 CHALLENGE

Cal made a strong showing at the two-day Pac-10 Challenge. On the first day, Cal's varsity 8+ defeated Trinity and UC San Diego. Cal's second varsity 8+ beat Trinity. On the second day of the challenge, the varsity 8+ was victorious against Cornell by five seconds and the second varsity 8+ posted a strong, 11-second win over Cornell. The Bears' novice 8+ posted first-place finishes on both days: beating Orange Coast College by 30 seconds and UCLA's second varsity 8+ boat by the same margin on day 1, and posting another win against Orange CC's junior varsity 8+ on day 2.

SAN DIEGO CREW CLASSIC

The Cal varsity 8+ took fourth overall in the Copley Cup grand final, with Washington winning the title. Washington's varsity 8+ came into the race as the defending Intercollegiate Rowing Association national champion. Washington defeated the Bears in the novice 8+ grand final for the Derek Guelker Memorial Cup, with Cal taking second place. In the final of the Sharp Cabrillo Cup, Cal's junior varsity 8+ finished third behind first place Harvard by four seconds and second place Washington by two seconds. In the open 8+, the battle for the Joan Ward Memorial Trophy, Cal's B boat and Cal's A boat finished second and third, respectively.

STANFORD INVITATIONAL

The fourth-ranked Cal varsity 8+ lost to sixth-ranked Wisconsin. In the second varsity 8+, the Bears faced a similar loss to the Badgers. Teams faced a 7-10 mph head wind in both contests.

WASHINGTON DUAL

The sixth-ranked Cal varsity 8+ fell to No. 1 Washington, which had won the two previous Schoch Cups, by a margin of six seconds. The Bears beat the Huskies in the second varsity 8+. In the freshman 8, Washington finished two seconds faster than Cal.

STANFORD DUAL

In the Big Row, Cal's No. 6 varsity 8+ fell to No. 9 Stanford by a margin of less than one second in the race for the Schwabacher Cup. This was the first loss that the Cardinal dealt the Bears in the annual varsity 8+ rivalry since 1990. In the second varsity 4+ contest, the Cal 2 and Cal 1 boats placed first and second, respectively, beating out third place Stanford.

PAC-10 CHAMPIONSHIPS

Cal finished second in the team standings to Washington in the conference regatta. The No. 8-ranked Cal varsity 8+ posted a strong, second-place finish, falling to No. 1 Washington. The Bears were in the lead until the last 500 meters when the Huskies began a sprint towards the finish. During these last 500 meters, the teams were even until the last 20 strokes. Washington's varsity 8+ recorded a win that was a little more than a second faster than Cal's finish. In the second varsity 8+, the novice 8+ and the varsity 4+ events, Cal placed second behind Washington.

IRA REGATTA

Cal's fifth-ranked varsity 8+ took third place in the Varsity Challenge Cup behind winner Wisconsin and runner-up Washington at the 106th annual IRA Regatta on the Cooper River in Camden County, N.J. The Bears, who competed in six grand finals on the last day of the regatta, also won their second straight freshman 8+ championship, placed second in the second varsity 8+ and freshman 4+ races, and took fourth in the varsity 4+ and open 4+ events. Cal collected 207 points to finish second in the team standings, while Washington compiled 214 points to repeat as the winner of the Ten Eyck Trophy as the regatta's overall points leader. Wisconsin (191) was third.

HISTORY OF CAL MEN'S CREW

The University of California and its men's rowing program were both founded in 1868, and crew thereby became the first sport at Cal. The Cal men's crew began its dominance of national and international rowing in earnest in 1924 with the hiring of Carrol ("Ky") Ebright as head coach. Over Ebright's leadership of 36 years, Cal crew became synonymous with Olympic gold medals and national collegiate championships.

Over the years, Cal has won gold medals representing the United States three times in the Olympic Games, more than any college or university in the world. The year 1928 proved to be a landmark time in Cal crew history, as the team compiled arguably the greatest season in the history of collegiate rowing. The crew was undefeated domestically, went on to become the American entry in the 1928 Olympics and brought home gold from Amsterdam.

The Cal varsity eight repeated its Olympic conquest four years later with a close victory over Italy in the 1932 Olympics at Long Beach, Calif., as it too was unbeaten all year. Sixteen years later Cal brought home a third gold medal, this time from the 1948 Olympics at Henley-on-Thames, England.

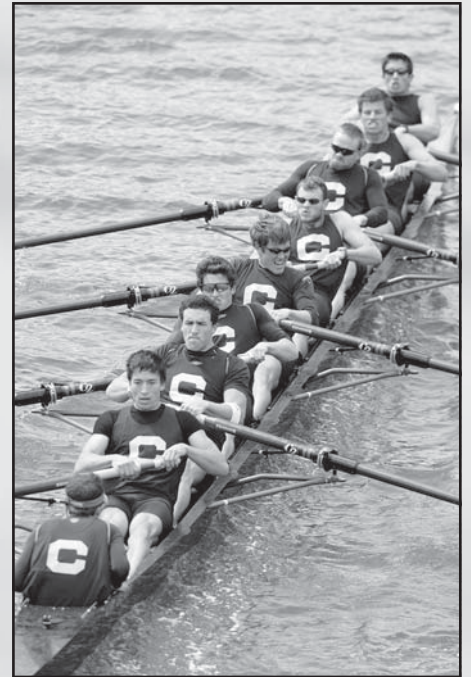

Ebright's crews also won a total of six Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) championships. In fact, some argue that Ebright's 1939 IRA champion might have been the fastest of all of his fine crews: it had little trouble with its collegiate opponents, defeating Washington by 12 lengths before going on to set the still-standing four-mile course record at the IRA. Jim Lemmon moved up from frosh coach to take over the reins from Ebright in 1960. In Lemmon's seven years as head coach, he strung together an impressive streak that included winning three IRA championships and two Pacific Coast championships. Lemmon's 1964 crew also earned bragging rights as one of Cal's finest, going through the regular season and the IRA Championships without a loss.

Cal won its next IRA title in 1976 during Stephen Gladstone's first turn at the helm (1973-80). Cal also won the 1979 Pacific Coast championship, as the Golden Bears dominated West Coast rowing and earned a spot in the semifinals of the Grand Challenge Cup at the Henley Royal Regatta in England. Craig Amerkhanian, who guided the Bears frosh crews to two IRA gold medals, was a stalwart in that crew.

Mike Livingston became head coach in 1981 and directed the Bears for three years. His 1982 crew was outstanding. It defeated every top crew in the country, after scoring victories in the San Diego Crew Classic and Pacific Coast Championships, while earning Cal a berth in the semifinals of the Grand Challenge Cup at Henley.

In 1984, Tim Hodges, Cal's stroke in 1974 and '75, stepped up from freshman coach to lead the varsity. He guided the Bears to dual race victories over Washington in his final three seasons, 1985-87. Hodges' 1986 crew was one of the country's best, as it defeated eventual national champion Wisconsin en route to the Bears' victory in the inaugural Redwood Shores Classic and then easily won the Pacific Coast championship. In 1988, Bruce Beall guided Cal to its fourth consecutive dual-race victory over Washington in his first year in charge.

Mark Zembsch, a 1982 graduate of Cal, took his turn at the helm of program in 1992 after two years of coaching Cal freshmen squads. The Bears showed improvement, winning the '92 traditional cup race over Washington in both the varsity and junior varsity events. In 1995, after three years of rebuilding, the Bears had their best season in nine years, ending in a sixth-place finish at the national championships.

Gladstone returned for a second stint coaching the Bears in 1997 after many successful seasons at Brown. Charged with returning Cal men's crew to the upper echelon of collegiate rowing, Gladstone wasted no time as the varsity earned an IRA bronze in 1997 and 1998 and IRA gold in 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002 and 2006. With the 2006 IRA championship, the Bears have won 15 IRA National Championships, the second most behind Cornell (26). Gladstone closed out his Cal career after the 2008 varsity placed third in the national regatta, paving the way for the arrival of 2008 U.S. Olympic coach Mike Teti in Berkeley.

T. GARY ROGERS ROWING CENTER

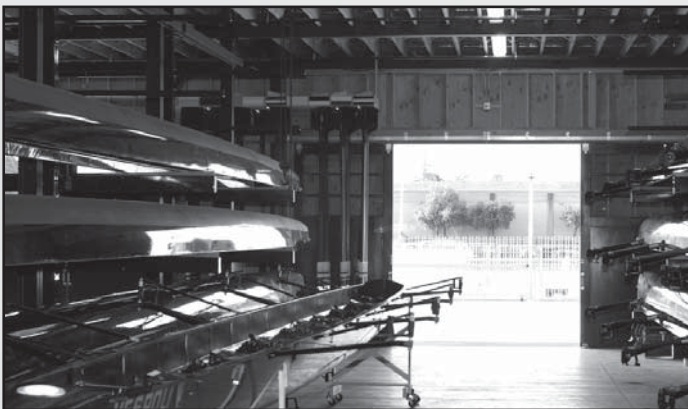

For more than a century, the home of the California crew has been the Oakland Estuary, located between Alameda Island and the City of Oakland. The Estuary offers 11 miles of protected waters and is one of the few courses in the nation where a straight three-mile race can be held.

With a generous donation from Cal alumni Gary Rogers, and the hard work of Friends of Cal Crew, the Golden Bears opened their brand new boathouse in 2004. The facility is a three building campus on a property that is three times the size of the former site. The boathouse offers five boat bays and a training space that can accommodate both men's and women's crew.

The T. Gary Rogers boathouse replaces the storied Ky Ebright Boathouse, which was built more than a century ago and became the Bears' home in 2004. The preserved and restored front half of the Ky Ebright Boathouse will serve as the inspirational link to the past and a museum of sorts. Many Olympic gold medalist, world champion and national champion crews have trained at the boathouse at one time. It is believed that the boathouse has been home to more Olympic gold medalists than any other facility in the world.

BRIONES RESERVOIR

Located over the Berkeley Hills in Orinda, the Briones Reservoir serves as the second home of Cal men's crew. With its crystal clear water and limited boat traffic, Briones offers a beautiful escape while providing excellent training conditions year-round.

The topography of the surrounding hills combined with the L-shaped body of water result in flat water conditions regardless of wind direction. In 2002, a new two-bay facility was completed, which has added to the allure of Briones for the Cal men, whose varsity and freshman crews often practice at Briones.

ERGOMETER FACILITY

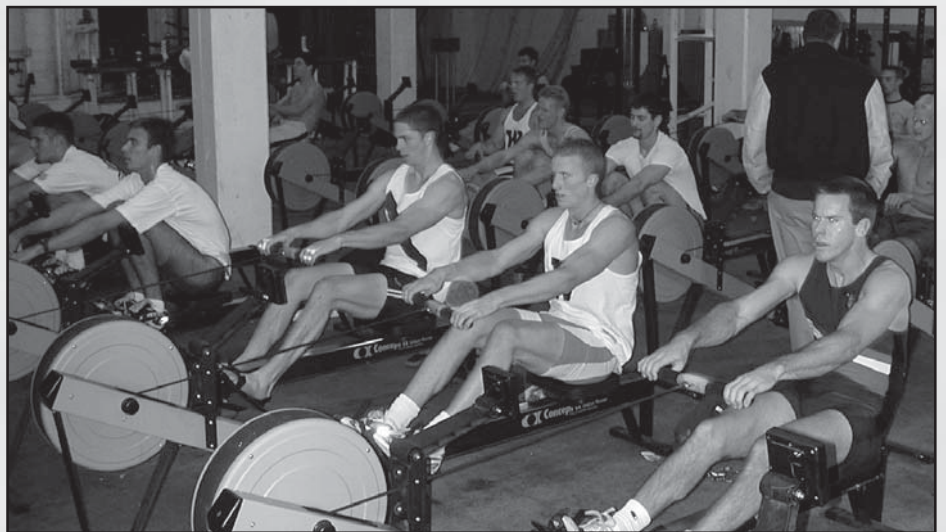

Located underneath the west grand stand at the Edwards Track Stadium, the California men's on-campus ergometer facility hums with the spinning of the flywheel and the beat of a boom box seven days a week.

Although the Draconian concrete structure seems a bit foreboding at first, it provides the perfect atmosphere to concentrate on pulling hard.

"The erg room is an integral part of our overall training program," said former Cal head coach Steve Gladstone. "Although we have water available to row on all year around, during the winter months we use the machines frequently."

With the music blaring, the coxswains yelling and 40 rowers chasing personal bests, the energy in the ergroom reaches a fever pitch on a regular basis.

Whether it is a scheduled team workout or a solitary training piece, the convenient location of the facility allows the student-athletes to get on and off the erg quickly and get back to life outside of rowing as soon as possible.

SIMPLY THE BEST

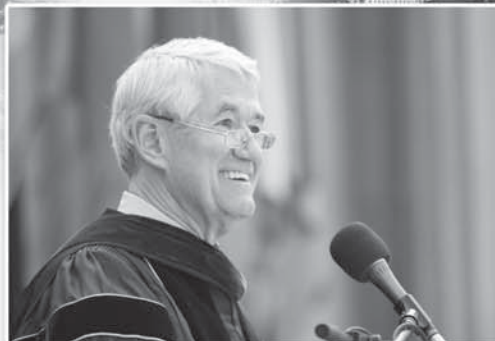

There is no other way to aptly describe America's top public university. There is no other way to describe one of the elite academic settings in the world – especially one that also includes one of America's most successful athletic departments.

The University of California blends the best of all worlds. Overlooking the scenic San Francisco Bay and ranked as the nation's top public university by the U.S. News and World Report, the flagship campus of the state of California also features an athletic program that annually finishes among the leaders in the Directors' Cup standings, which rates the overall success of America's athletic departments.

Cal attracts what many believe to be the finest applicant pool in the United States. The university features a diverse student-body population. The University of California offers 300 degree programs, and 35 of the school's 36 graduate programs are ranked among America's top 10. Cal's 35 programs among the top 10 is No. 1 among all universities in the country, as is its 32 "distinguished" programs, as rated by the National Research Council.

The library is ranked third in the country, as judged by the Association of Research Libraries with 10 million volumes in 32 campus libraries.

The faculty features seven Nobel Laureates, 130 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 28 MacArthur Fellows, 76 Fulbright Scholars, four Pulitzer Prize winners and more Guggenheim Fellows (357) than any other university in America.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

The Athletic Study Center Staff

One of the real success stories for the University of California is the development and growth of a comprehensive academic support program for its student-athletes: the Athletic Study Center.

In 1984, campus officials and athletic department administrators decided that a greater emphasis needed to be placed on helping Cal student-athletes with their academic pursuits. The Athletic Study Center was thus born and charged with developing an academic support program tailored to the needs of NCAA Division I student-athletes. It was a significant development for an academically oriented institution such as Cal to recognize the special needs required for a modern student-athlete's success both as an athletic competitor on the field of play and as a student in the classroom.

STUDENT-ATHLETE PROGRAM

The Athletic Study Center, which is housed within the Division of Undergraduate Education, is the tutorial and academic support program for the nearly 1,000 student-athletes at Cal. Centrally located in the Cesar Chavez Student Center, the program provides a spacious and comfortable arboretum for quiet study, separate classrooms for individual and group tutorials, and a computer lab for word processing and required course work.

Geared around the understanding of the amount of time student-athletes must devote to practice, training, physical therapy and team travel, the program creates an environment where students can cultivate strong study habits, receive individual or group tutoring and obtain counseling from academic advisors.

TUTORIAL PROGRAM

The tutorial program promotes and enhances student academic skills and progress by providing individual tutoring, group workshops, study groups, credit courses and intensive special programs. The Athletic Study Center has between 50-60 tutors on staff per semester to guarantee that students receive the best possible support. Tutorial sessions are also offered at night, enabling student-athletes to receive help after practices when are able to devote more time to studying.

ADVISING PROGRAM

The advising program offers a broad range of services to meet the unique needs of student-athletes, including assistance in understanding and complying with university, college and NCAA requirements, developing time management skills and resolving personal academic issues unique to student-athletes.

During a student-athlete's freshman year, advisors provide assistance to ensure a successful academic transition from high school. In the sophomore year, they assist student-athletes in making decisions on appropriate majors and fields of study. Over the course of the final two years, advisors take more of an exiting approach, ensuring that proper academic progress is being made towards graduation while referring juniors and seniors to areas on or near campus that can help with career planning and development.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

The Athletic Study Center offers a special service called Summer Bridge; an adjunct program designed to help ease the transition from high school to college. The primary components of the program include writing and math workshops, an advising workshop, study skills seminars and an evening tutorial program.

Another special program offered is peer advising. Peer advisors provide academic and campus guidance for new intercollegiate student-athletes. They are selected from junior and senior student-athletes who assist in the development of programs to further address the needs of student-athletes.
